

GOV. MORRISON FINDS SHIP LINE SENTIMENT

People of State Favor Proposal to Open Our Ports to the World.

TO BUILD SHRINE MORGUE

Charlotte, Nov. 22.—The winter ceremonial of Oasis temple, Order of the Mystic Shrine, will be held at the Masonic temple December 7, at which time ways and means for financing the proposed Shrine morgue at the intersection of the Dilworth road and Morehead street, will be discussed. The ceremony will be held at 7 o'clock. Members of the temple will be given opportunity to take stock in the building organization, which will have charge of the operations. The proposed building which is to house the temple and provide quarters for all parts of the organization will

Don't Be Bald

How to Make Hair Grow Strong, Thick and Lustrous. Hair can never be made to grow again after the roots are dead. But few of us grow bald in a day and have ample warning that our hair is steadily getting thinner. Parisian Sage is as effective a hair grower as could possibly be found, but to prevent further loss of hair and to actually help new hair to grow on the thin spots it must be rubbed right into the scalp with the finger tips so that the starved hair roots can really absorb it. Try to get as much on the scalp, and as little on the hair, as possible. Your hair doesn't need it but your scalp does. The genuine Parisian Sage (liquid form) can be had from Greensboro Drug Store or any drug or toilet counter. It's inexpensive and guaranteed to stop falling hair and itching scalp, banish dandruff and stimulate new hair to grow, or nothing to pay. Parisian Sage is easy to use, perfectly harmless, and the first application will make your hair and scalp look and feel 100 per cent better.

cost between $200,000 and $400,000, and will be one of the handiworks in the south. The building will occupy a knoll at the intersection of two boulevards and will overlook a beautiful section of the city. The building committee consists of W. F. Randolph, of Asheville, chairman; John M. Scott, Charlotte, treasurer; Thomas Griffith, Charlotte, secretary; W. S. Liddell, Charlotte, and C. V. York, Raleigh. Oasis temple has jurisdiction over the western part of North Carolina. It now has a membership of 4,500. Fully 3,000 nobles are expected here for the December ceremonials. Two or three hundred candidates are preparing to cross the sands.

Gov. Morrison returned to Raleigh Tuesday night after a stay of two days in the city. He said to friends here that he was surprised to find, on recent tours of the state, unanimity of opinion in favor of the proposal to open North Carolina ports to the world for shipping. "We are getting data," said the governor, "as to what a proper fleet will cost, the company it is proposed to organize for directing the corporation proposed for handling them, and what would be the cost of operating such a fleet after it is acquired."

"When the legislature meets in January we will have all the required data to lay before that body and we expect favorable action in the matter. It has been said that a large number of the legislators are already in favor of the proposal. The late D. A. Tompkins believed, as a business man, and said, that it would pay the state of North Carolina to operate a line of steamships in and out of its ports even if the state had to pay the whole cost of doing it, and he was one of the ablest business men in the state."

Rev. J. P. Lingen, formerly pastor of the Presbyterian church at Hendersonville, who recently accepted the call to Tenth Avenue Presbyterian church, will be installed Sunday. He was received by the presbytery at its meeting Monday.

Rev. A. S. Anderson was also received from the Kings Mountain presbytery, and will be installed as pastor of the Baptist church. Another new pastor in this vicinity is Rev. W. B. Peabody, who will be installed pastor of historic Old Sugar Creek church Sunday. Mecklenburg presbytery also received at its meeting here Monday, the resignation of Rev. H. C. Carmichael, pastor of Williams church, west of the city, who goes to other churches.

The Hicks banner, named with other prizes by North Carolina ladies at the general convention of the United Daughters of the Confederacy in Birmingham last week, was won by the Julia Jackson chapter, Children of the Confederacy, of Charlotte, of which Mrs. Ellis Wardlaw Henderson, is the active and inspiring leader.

BOONE NEWS BRIEFS.

Phillip Greer Celebrates 75th Birthday.

Boone, Nov. 22.—Rev. G. C. Brinkman conducted devotional service at the chapel exercises of the Appalachian Training school the past week. The number in the training school has already gone beyond the 250 mark and some are still coming in. Misses Lucy Moretz and Elsie Farthing, two of the pupils of Miss Ruth Coffey, director of music, played a beautiful duet at chapel exercises of the training school on Thursday. Rev. J. W. Williams, presiding elder of the North Wilkesboro district of the Methodist church, preached to a good audience at the courthouse on Sunday evening a very heart-searching sermon.

A pleasant event of Sunday was the assembling of a large number of neighbors and children of Phillip Greer, of Zionville, to honor him on his 75th birthday. Mr. Greer is one of the good, substantial citizens of the county and well deserves the honor.

Sunday School Convention Opens.

Kinston, Nov. 22.—The annual Sunday school convention for 1923 of the county opened this afternoon. Officials of the state association were in attendance, including D. W. Sims, general superintendent, who with other experts is on the program for a series of addresses. The president of the local association is Kader R. Curtis, superintendent of schools, Baptist, with John C. Hood, Methodist, as vice-president.

FARM PRODUCTS WILL BE MUCH ADVERTISED

Farmers Are Coming to See Value of Telling World of Their Products.

CHANGE IS FORECAST

Washington, Nov. 22.—The day when American farm products will be as extensively advertised throughout the country as the automobile and other manufactured articles will soon arrive, Dr. W. M. Jardine, president of the Kansas State Agricultural college, declared today before the Washington Ad club.

"The American farmer has been acquainted with only one side of the advertising business," he said. "In the main, he thinks of advertising as a mere or less tricky device employed by middlemen to separate him from his money. He probably has somewhat the same opinion of advertising as a target has of rifle practice."

"The signs of the times, however, are pointing in another direction. Bankers and members of chambers of commerce have begun to take the farmer in as a business partner. They are seeing that they must help him earn more money, and they are beginning to see that he needs help principally with his marketing and selling problems."

"The selling end of the farmer's business has been badly and most unfortunately neglected. Circumstances are to blame in part, he is to blame in part and business men are to blame in part. In a certain sense, advertising men are much to blame. Problems in marketing, advertising and selling that need solution much more than many which have been solved, have been neglected."

"Agricultural men of America have begun to concern themselves with the selling end of their business. They have begun to learn to sell co-operatively, to organize and to respect their organization. The next generation of farmers is going to grow up already 'sold' to the idea of organization."

MR. FIELD AGAIN IS HEAD OF ROAD BODY

Short Line Railroads Represented at Association in Raleigh, Vital Questions Discussed.

Raleigh, Nov. 22.—The annual meeting of the North Carolina Short Line Railroad association convened here at 9:30 o'clock Tuesday morning with President C. J. Field presiding. Important subjects were discussed, subjects of vital importance to the rail carriers as well as to the shipping public. Officers for the ensuing year are: C. J. Field, manager of the Wilmington, Brunswick and Southern railroads, re-elected president; H. P. Edwards, vice-president; J. P. Ippock, secretary-treasurer. Mr. Field appointed the following committees: Legislative, H. P. Edwards, chairman; J. Q. Beckwith, J. P. Dalton, W. A. Blue and D. W. Richardson, membership; J. L. Hawley, chairman; J. P. Ippock and J. S. Crews, traffic committee; A. L. Thompson, chairman; R. L. Butts, W. W. Davis, D. Lumpkin and A. D. Fowles. In addition to members of 30 or more short line railroads of the state there was present Mr. Butts, representing the Southern railway; Mr. Elgin, representing the Atlantic Coast Line; Mr. Barrett, of the South-eastern Railway Express company and Mr. Sreyer, traffic manager of the American Short Line Railroad association.

MAY NAME MAN FOR HEALTH WORK FRIDAY

Dr. Rankin Coming For Second Conference With Municipal Authorities.

Dr. W. S. Rankin, of Raleigh, secretary of the state board of health, is expected here on Friday evening for a conference with municipal authorities with regard to the appointment of an expert to head the city health department. It is probable that a man to fill the place will be named at the conference.

City Manager P. C. Painter, within whose province the appointment rests, has said that he will be largely governed by the recommendations of Dr. Rankin in selecting a man for the job. On November 10, Dr. Rankin conferred here with Manager Painter, Mayor Claude Kiser and E. D. Broadhurst, of the school board, with reference to city health affairs when it was decided to hold a future conference following a more thorough investigation.

Plans have been formulated for a complete re-organization of the city health department and a co-ordination of all municipal divisions of sanitation under one head.

KENANSVILLE NEWS.

Mrs. Emma Southerland Undergoes Operation—Successful Result.

Kenansville, Nov. 22.—Quite a delightful reception was given Saturday evening at Grove square, the juniors entertaining in honor of the seniors. A number of the young men of the town and community were invited.

The many friends of S. D. Ferrell will be glad to hear of his continued improvement. He is able to be out again.

Rev. W. A. Nicholson returned Saturday from Wilmington where he had been on business.

The protracted meeting at Oak Plains Presbyterian church closed Sunday. The pastor, Rev. Geo. W. Oldham, was ably assisted by Rev. P. L. Clark, of Burgaw. Nine members were added to the church. The singing was conducted by William H. Wilson, of Atlantic Christian college, Wilson.

The Duplin county Sunday school convention will be held Saturday and Sunday, November 25-26, in Grove Presbyterian church. The first session opens Saturday evening at 7:30. The first session Sunday opens at 10:30. Dinner will be served on the grounds, the afternoon session beginning at 2 o'clock. The convention will close with the Sunday night service.

The many friends of Mrs. Emma Southerland will regret to hear of her serious illness. Mrs. Southerland had not been well for some time, though she was taken ill Tuesday night. Drs. D. H. Reed and J. W. Farris were called in consultation. She was taken to St. Luke's hospital, Richmond, Va., Thursday night and operated on Friday afternoon. She is said to have stood the operation well. She was accompanied to Richmond by her children, Mrs. D. M. Jolly, and Mr. E. F. Southerland, and her physician, Dr. D. H. Reed.

NEWS OF GOLDSBORO.

Mrs. R. T. Thornton Dies at a Hospital in Richmond, Va.

Goldensboro, Nov. 22.—Mrs. R. T. Thornton, aged 86, of this city, died last night at the Stuart Circle hospital at Richmond, Va., where she has been undergoing treatment for several weeks. Her husband wired to the children, Harvey, Pauline, and R. L. Jr., yesterday morning that their mother's condition was hopeless and to come at once. They left for Richmond during the day. The remains of Mrs. Thornton will be brought back from Richmond today. Arrangements for the funeral services have not been announced yet.

Mrs. Thornton was well known in Goldensboro where her husband has been in the wholesale grocery business for many years. Mrs. Thornton was formerly Miss Mattie Jordan, of Mount Olive.

Rev. G. T. Adams, who leaves the St. Paul Methodist church here to become pastor of the Methodist church in Dunn, has been offered the gift of an airplane by some of his members so that he can visit on his every day if he wants to, or twice a day. Many of them have expressed the hope that his next appointment will bring him back here.

A mysterious explosion that the police department and no one else has been able to explain yet knocked out all the windows in the front of the house of L. H. Simmons, of South William street, last evening at 8:45 o'clock, frightening the children and the family into screams.

Mr. Simmons was in the living room reading the paper while eight of the children were in the kitchen or dining room. Miss Lena Simmons, eldest daughter, declared that the explosion was much louder than a gunshot; in fact that it was the loudest explosion she ever heard, and sounded like dynamite to her.

Ahoskie Chamber Commerce Joins East Carolina Body

(Special to Daily News.)

Ahoskie, Nov. 21.—In the first membership meeting since organization, the Ahoskie chamber of commerce last night voted unanimously to become a member of the eastern Carolina chamber of commerce, become responsible for the 16-19 membership for Henderson county, and voted to appoint the directors of the chamber a committee to appear before the county commissioners at their next regular meeting and ask that they appropriate $100 towards the work of the eastern Carolina chamber.

Secretary N. G. Bartlett, secretary of the eastern Carolina chamber of commerce, presented the purpose and work of the organization, and told of the potential possibilities of this section, to develop which the organization he represented had been organized, and for which it was working.
