

Thousands of Tar Heels Ready to March On Charlottesville

LONG, LIGHT WORKOUT GIVEN VIRGINIA SQUAD ON EVE OF BIG GAME

Monday Two Varsity Elevens Opposed Each Other in a Punting Duel.

VIRGINIA FEARS DEFEAT

(Special to Daily News.)
Charlottesville, Va., Nov. 28.—Long but not rough workouts are being given the Virginia eleven in the final stages of getting ready for the North Carolina game to be played here Thursday afternoon at 2:30. Monday and this afternoon the drills were strenuous but the practice will be light tomorrow.

Only dummy scrimmages without tackling are being run against the scrubs but Coaches Campbell and Abel are giving the varsity squad enough signal running to send them off the field thoroughly tired. Monday afternoon two varsity elevens opposed each other in a lengthy punting duel.

Just who will be in Virginia's backfield against Carolina is not yet certain. Maphis is still stiff from his injuries and it may be that Arnold and Welp will open the game in the halfback position with Wilson at full. If this combination is tried the running backfield will be made up of men playing their first year on the Orange and Blue squad.

Oppelman's injuries may keep him out of the game entirely but the two linemen, Theismar and Haney, who have been laid up for so long, are both back in action this week.

Dean and Little are two substitute backs who may get a try in the scrap against the Tar Heels but it is probable that the coaches will start either McCoy or Foster in quarter and will run Arnold, Wilson, Maphis, or Welp in the other places.

Since Carolina's record of only one defeat, and that at the hands of Yale, has shown that the team from the Old North State has a powerful backfield Virginia's coaches are trying to figure out the best possible defensive combination to stop the Tar Heel runners. In this practice all the backs have been shifted about time without number, but as yet the decision of the coaches is not certain.

Carolina has scored 159 points or almost double the total of 95 made by Virginia. Virginia and Carolina were both defeated October 7 but since that date the Tar Heels have been always victorious while Virginia has lost to Y. M. I. and to West Virginia and has tied Georgia.

LENOIR AND CATAWBA TO PLAY NOVEMBER 30

(Special to Daily News.)
Newton, Nov. 28.—Catawba football team is ready for Lenoir Thanksgiving day. This grid game is to be the biggest event of the year in this section of the state and there is going to be the biggest crowd to attend that has ever attended a grid game in his city in many years.

Catawba men are in perfect shape for the big game and will hold a practice for the first time since Thanksgiving day. Each afternoon Catawba men are found on the athletic field training for all they are worth for this, the biggest of all games with Lenoir on Thanksgiving.

Business Manager Correll is making every arrangement to take care of the big crowd, the field is being roped off and by tomorrow the field will be completed and the stage set for Thursday.

Public sentiment around Newton favors Catawba. The record by these two teams shows Catawba far in the lead. Catawba has won five and lost four. Lenoir has won one and lost four.

Although Lenoir will come here determined to wipe out all mistakes and make every effort to down the Catawba boys, the locals are backed by their record and students will enter the game determined to hold their string of victories, which stands five at the present time.

CAROLINA BOYS GO TO CHARLOTTESVILLE

(Special to Daily News.)
Chapel Hill, Nov. 28.—Cheer leader P. C. Chamberlenger is doing all he can to put across a parade of Carolina students down the main street of Charlottesville on the occasion of the Thanksgiving day Carolina-Virginia football game. The parade was suggested in a letter to President Chase from the mayor of Charlottesville, who extended a welcome to the Carolina visitors and said that the citizens of his town wanted to see the Carolina students in a body.

A students' special train will run from Durham Wednesday night, arrive in Charlottesville early Thursday, and leave there, returning, Thursday noon after the game.

The plans for the trip were explained to the students during the chapel period today, and it is thought that a good crowd will go. One never knows this long in advance, since it is the way of the students to put off their applications for tickets until almost the last minute, but some say the special train will carry from 400 to 500. Reduced rates are being offered by the Southern railway, and tickets are on sale at the book exchange in the Y. M. C. A. building.

A difficulty about parading in Charlottesville is that the students are apt to scatter all over town just as soon as they get out of the cars. Arrival in Charlottesville being scheduled for about breakfast time, their first energies will probably be devoted to getting something to eat.

However, the chief cheerer and other student leaders are going to try to get the crowd together for a march, either when they leave the station or at some time before the game.

Graduate Manager of Athletics Brown, at the University of Virginia, writes here that the advance sale of seats has been unexpectedly large. He expects that the capacity of both the permanent stand and temporary wooden stands around Lambeth field will be overtaxed.

The Carolina team will make its trip separately from the student body, in fact, the chance is that the Carolina rosters will not see Captain Pritchard and his men, after Tuesday night, until they trot upon the field 10 or 15 minutes before the referee's whistle starts the struggle.

After a peaceful sleep in a Lynchburg hotel Wednesday night the team will move on to Charlottesville Thursday morning.

TAR HEELS MAY BE ON HARVARD LIST

Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 28.—The Harvard football schedule for next fall will be of eight games, one less than this year. Four will be contests classed as heavy.

Princeton will be played as usual two weeks before the game with Yale. Centre will be dropped. Virginia or North Carolina may take the place of Florida. Dartmouth in all probability will be retained under another one year arrangement.

The two men at center position who outclass the others are Blount, of Carolina, and Simpson, of Trinity. These men will probably split the vote throughout the state. However, in the one game these men played against each other this year, Simpson was the better.

Quarterback goes with very little argument to Monk McDonald, of Carolina. Perry, of Elon is probably as great a quarterback in every way, but playing with a smaller team, has not had the opportunity to show his wares as fully. Hendrix, at Davidson, handled Davidson in masterly style against V. P. I. This boy is young, and will undoubtedly make all-state before he lays aside the muleskins.

There are plenty of good halfbacks; Johnson, Morris, Merritt, and McGee of Carolina; Randolph and Park, of State; Sheppard, of Davidson; Lagerstatt and Bullock, of Trinity; Heckman and Greason, of Wake Forest; are all good. Probably the wisest choice would be to place Morris of Carolina and Park of State at halfbacks, and run Red Johnson, of Carolina at full. That would make the most powerful combination. Heckman, who has wonderful football spirit, has been crippled all the year. Greason showed his best game against William and Mary. Lagerstatt and Bullock, of Trinity are both freshmen, and will show finer form next year.

Line-up of all-state team: Neal (Trinity) left end. Pritchard (Carolina) left tackle. Taylor (Carolina) center. Simpson (Trinity) center. Poindexter (Carolina) right guard. Floyd (State) right tackle. Faison (Davidson) right end. McDonald (Carolina) quarter. Park (State) half.

These are the best backs. Davidson and Clemson First Year Teams Meet On Nov. 30

(Special to Daily News.)
Davidson, Nov. 28.—While the Davidson college varsity engages Furman's Purple Hurricane in Greenville Thanksgiving day, another scrap between North and South Carolina teams will be staged on that same date, when the Wildcat freshmen meet the strong first year aggregation of Clemson college on the latter's home grounds turkey morning.

The Davidson rats under the tutelage of Lieut. George, the local R. O. T. C. unit, have been constantly improving and should present a formidable front to the South Carolinians Thanksgiving morning.

The Wildcat's have trimmed oak tree and the Woodford team, from the Wilmington Light Infantry, but lost their first two games of the season to the P. C. and South Carolina freshmen.

Wolflets Are to Meet the Burlington Highs Thursday

(Special to Daily News.)
Raleigh, Nov. 28.—While the Wolfpack is battling Maryland university in Raleigh Thanksgiving day, the State college freshmen team will be looked up at Burlington with the eleven representing Oak Ridge institute.

Under the able tutelage of Sammy Homewood, the Wolflets have made a very impressive showing this year and the team will enter the oak Ridge game Thursday undefeated in its season.

Victories have been recorded over the high school teams of Shelby and Chapel Hill, the Wilmington Light Infantry, the Carolina Freshmen and Atlantic Christian college, and in addition the yardings have tied and won from the Wolfpack reserves.

Turner to Grapple Pole Friday Night

A world's championship wrestling match is carded for this city Friday night when Joe Turner, present holder of the world's middleweight belt, will be pitted in action against Eric Hansen, Wilmington grappler. The bout will take place in Neese hall and will start at 8 o'clock.

Inasmuch as a championship is at stake, it is interesting to note that the winner being determined by the best two out of three falls. The preliminary bout will be between "Red" Walker, local man and an opponent who has not yet been selected.

COACH BURBAGE PICKS AN ALL-STATE ELEVEN FROM FOUR COLLEGES

Trinity Coach Names 5 Carolina Men, 3 Trinity, 2 State and 1 Davidson.

RATHER DIFFICULT JOB

(Special to Daily News.)
Durham, Nov. 28.—Here is the way Coach J. S. Burbage, of Trinity college sees the mythical all-state eleven. Picking an all-state football team for North Carolina this year is going to be an extremely difficult proposition. Only one team, Carolina, has played consistent, steady, football throughout the fall. All the other teams have had their ups and downs, their good and bad days. State, Trinity, Davidson, Wake Forest, Elon, Guilford have all had their games in which they played below par, and in which they played above par.

The writer is picking his team on the actual play of the men in the games that he observed them in action. As a football scout he saw Carolina play Wake Forest, Trinity, and South Carolina—Wake Forest, Carolina, William and Mary, and Trinity play Davidson, Wake Forest, Carolina and Guilford—Davidson play V. P. I. and Trinity. He did not have an opportunity to see either State or Elon in action, so must take their men by hearsay.

The crop of ends this year has been unusually good; Neal and Carter, of Trinity; Faison of Davidson; Morris, of Carolina; Holland, of State; Pegano, of Wake Forest; are all fine ends. Neal is sure of one end and Pegano is sure of another. Both are fighting spirit, and defensive play.

The other end goes to Faison, of Davidson, who against V. P. I. played the greatest defensive end game seen this year.

The tackles this year are not the usual ones. McIver, of Carolina; Hatcher, of Trinity; leader of State; McManis, of Davidson; are probably the best of the state. Floyd is sure of one tackle. The other will have to be filled by moving Faison, of Carolina, out for guard.

Guards, of course, are Blount, of Pasquot; of State; Poindexter, of Carolina; Taylor, of Trinity; Davis, of Davidson; Johnson, of Wake Forest. One guard should go to the veteran Taylor, of Trinity 185 pounds, 2-year veteran, who has never taken time out or been injured in a game. This boy is one of the main springs of Trinity's line. The other guard should go to Poindexter, of Carolina, though Johnson, of Wake Forest, is hardly a shade behind.

The two men at center position who outclass the others are Blount, of Carolina, and Simpson, of Trinity. These men will probably split the vote throughout the state. However, in the one game these men played against each other this year, Simpson was the better.

Quarterback goes with very little argument to Monk McDonald, of Carolina. ## CHARLES CARROLL MAY AGAIN GUIDE DESTINIES OF LOCAL BALL TEAM

Such Was Intimated Following Meeting of Stockholders Yesterday Afternoon.

PIERCE RUCKER AT HEAD

Charles Carroll, who piloted the Greensboro baseball club to pennant status for two seasons and who last year guided the club which was handicapped in a pennant race by illness and accidents which befell players, will in all probability be at the baseball helm in this city next season. That fact was disclosed last night when C. Wistar Stockard, vice-president and business manager of the club, stated that Carroll would be asked to again assume the leadership of the Greensboro baseball team.

A meeting of stockholders of the club yesterday afternoon, Pierce Rucker, well-known cotton broker, was elected president of the club for the year, while C. Wistar Stockard was elected as vice-president and business manager. Bascom T. Byrnes was elected treasurer. Directors chosen were Herman Cone, E. Sternberger, H. Smith Richardson, George C. K. Rucker, Bascom T. Byrnes, C. W. Stockard, Charles W. Gold and Charles B. Hois.

The club secretary will be appointed by Mr. Stockard within the next few days. This secretary will be required to devote practically all of his time in the interest of the club and will be paid a regular salary for his work. It is the intention of Mr. Stockard to place the club on a sound business basis.

It was stated last night that the Toronto club of the International league was desirous of holding their spring training camp in this city. However, it has been written asking for inducements. Mr. Stockard, however, indicated last night that he was not overly pleased in bringing the club here, stating that the club is being kept in the spring training of the local club.

However it was intimated that the Greensboro club might hold its spring training in some small town in South Carolina although nothing definite has been done along this line. It is understood that Charles Carroll, providing he accepts the management of the club for the 1923 season, will ask that he be given permission to have the club in the outskirts of Greensboro.

During the early part of the season it is expected that the local club would be handicapped in their training by allowing the high school team and others to use the C. W. Park as was the custom in years previous. For this specific reason it is possible that the Greensboro baseball club might hold its spring training elsewhere.

Knot tying: troops will enter one scout or two scouts to be entered in the contests to local headquarters by not later than tonight.

Water hoisting: Each troop will enter two scouts, one to hoist water and one to help. Every troop will be given a tin can (quart size), two matches, wood and water. Scouts will be given five minutes to prepare wood. At the signal, scouts will lay and light the fire and boil water, which must come to a full boil. Cans may be held in any way.

Fire by friction: Troops will enter two scouts, one to assist the other. Time will be taken from first draw when the scout must be correctly and will be required to furnish fire-making sets and tinder.

Tent pitching: Troops will enter four scouts. Squads will be supplied on the field. Every troop will be given a tent, poles, pegs and ropes. At the signal teams will start putting up the tent and the tent will be judged complete when the entire team stands at attention and salutes judges.

Stunt pitching: Troops will enter four scouts. Squads will be supplied on the field. Every troop will be given a tent, poles, pegs and ropes. At the signal teams will start putting up the tent and the tent will be judged complete when the entire team stands at attention and salutes judges.

BIG CROWD OFF TODAY FOR CAROLINA-VIRGINIA THANKSGIVING CONTEST

Record-Breaking Throngs of Tar Heels Will Storm the Heart of Virginia.

MANY SPECIAL TRAINS

The biggest crowd of North Carolinians that has poured across the Virginia line since the days of 1861-65 will start from the Tar Heel state today, headed for Charlottesville for the Virginia-Carolina game on Lambeth field.

Careful estimates indicate that more than 2,000 North Carolinians, possibly 3,000, maybe 4,000, will follow Captain Grady Pritchard's team to the heart of Virginia for the great Thanksgiving battle. The fine record of the present Carolina team, added to the marvelous growth of football interest all through North Carolina has whetted the state's appetite for one final dish of the college game, and today the Tar Heels are going after victory.

The Southern Railway company will run five special football trains alone. Other railroads in the state are running specials, a vast number of persons will go by the regular trains, and a large number will use their automobiles for the great pilgrimage.

One Southern train will start from Charlotte, another from Salisbury, a third from Goldsboro and a fourth and a fifth from Raleigh. Each of these, local Southern officials say, will carry 10 Pullmans. Each Pullman will accommodate about 30 persons. A little arithmetic will show that the Southern's specials alone will carry about 1,500 enthusiasts.

Add the specials of other railroads. Add the regular trains, add the automobiles and the number counts up beyond all previous records.

Greensboro people going on special trains are interested in football special number 1 and football special number 2. The special Pullmans which start from this city will be attached to those trains. Special number 1 will start from Charlotte and will pick up cars at various stations between Charlotte and Greensboro. It will run behind Southern train number 32 and is scheduled to reach Greensboro at 11:05 p. m. Special number 2 will start from Salisbury and will pick up cars along the road also. These cars include persons from Asheville, Hickory, High Point, Winston-Salem and other cities. The train is scheduled to reach Greensboro at 11:10 p. m.

Greensboro Help Countrymen
Tappan Springs, Fla., Nov. 28.—The Greek colony here, engaged in the sponge industry and which comprises about half of the town's population of approximately 2,500, has raised $10,000 for the relief of distressed fellow countrymen in Europe.

Would Amend Reserve Law
Washington, Nov. 28.—Chairman McFadden, of the house banking and currency committee, today introduced a bill amending the federal reserve law to permit members of the federal reserve system to charge for collecting and remitting funds the amount of expenses actually incurred.

Verber Is Acquitted
Miami, Fla., Nov. 28.—Charles Verber, charged with slaying Jack Tigerfall, Seminole Indian chief, last summer, was acquitted by a jury in his second trial tonight. The jury deliberated two hours and 45 minutes.
