DURHAM PEOPLE HELP NEW BERN SUFFERERS

Gulford County Home Inspected By Delegation From Board of Commissioners.

SEEKING A NEW HIGHWAY

(Special to Daily News)

Durham, Dec. 7.—Nearly a half car load of clothing was contributed by the people of Durham yesterday to the relief of New Bern fire sufferers. All day long automobiles made the rounds of the city collecting clothing that was offered by the people. The New Bern relief committee, headed by Mayor J. M. Manning and Burke Hobgood, of the chamber of commerce, began work bright and early yesterday morning and as fast as the clothing was brought into the office of the public welfare department it was put into bags, sewn up and labeled for New Bern. One shipment was sent off to the scene of the recent conflagration and another big shipment will probably go off Friday.

Miss Minnie E. Harmon, local Red Cross secretary, left yesterday for New Bern where she will assist in the work of relief among the fire victims. She was granted a leave of absence by the local office and will remain in the eastern town as long as her services are needed there. A petition containing more than 2,000 names was presented to John Blount Hill, member of the state highway commission from this district, from citizens of Granville county, indorsing the establishment of the state highway from Oxford to Durham by the way of Creedmoor, Hester, Northside and other places. The property owners along the proposed route are now getting up a petition whereby they offer the right of way for the highway through their property without cost to the commission. Already approximately 75 per cent of them have signed, it was stated.

Three routes have been proposed for the highway but only two of them have been given much consideration. The other route is from Oxford by the way of Stem to Durham. This route crossing the railroad a number of times as well as a number of streams and this is one of the chief arguments used against that route since the commission is striving to eliminate as many grade crossings as possible.

The county homes of Guilford, Wake and Chatham counties were inspected by four members of the Durham county commissioners yesterday, together with six other men. The trip into the three counties was made in automobiles. The party left Durham at 9:30 o'clock yesterday morning and returned last night. The county home in Wake county was the first visited. From there they went to Chatham county and completed the inspection at Greensboro. All of the county institutions were declared to be excellent and the county home of Guilford county came in for much praise.

The purpose of the tour by the commissioners was to secure as much information as possible concerning the county homes. The county home of Durham county is an old one and entirely inadequate for the needs and the commissioners are contemplating the erection of a new one at a different site.

Senate Farm Bloc Members Wrangle Over Ford's Plan

Washington, Dec. 7.—The breach between senate farm bloc members over the Muscle Shoals project was re-opened today in an hour's talk between Senator Heflin, Democrat, Alabama, who again urged acceptance of Henry Ford's development offer, and Chairman Norris, of the agriculture committee, who opposed the Ford proposal.

Senator Heflin asserted that Senator Norris denied that Mr. Ford proposed to cut fertilizer prices in half if his offer for the power plant is accepted. Senator Heflin scored the government development project in the bill of Representative Dickenson, Republican, Iowa, a member of the house farm bloc, and declared that the Norris government operation bill would block developments of power or fertilizer.

The Alabama senator declared that Mr. Ford's motive in seeking the Muscle Shoals contract was to reduce fertilizer prices and charged that "special interests" were impending action on the Ford bill in Congress but he predicted it would pass the next Congress. Senator Norris retorted that the Ford forces in Congress had blocked action.

AMERICAN OBSERVERS SCORED IN THE HOUSE

Connally, Democrat of Texas, Says Americans at Lausanne Are Fighting For Oil.

Washington, Dec. 7.—Declaring the function of "observers" should be to "keep open eyes and closed mouths," Representative Connally, Democrat of Texas, said in the house today, that Americans at the American "observers" at the Lausanne peace conference had asserted themselves emphatically whenever the "holy question of oil" was brought up.

Mr. Connally then read into the record statements that John D. Rockefeller had contributed $15,000 to the Republican national committee and John D. Rockefeller, Jr. had contributed $10,000. He added that the elder Rockefeller also was credited with giving $750 to the Republican Congressional committee. At this statement a member on the Republican side exclaimed: "Tightwad" and Mr. Connally retorted: "You are right. Only $750 for a congressman who represents only one small district, but $25,000 for the national committee taking in the whole foreign situation."

Discussing the state department's policy Mr. Connally said America had interested herself in the Near Eastern situation purely because of petroleum questions, and that observers at Lausanne had stood silent through every phase of the discussions.

"They want the open door—for oil," he declared.

Mr. Connally also charged that the state department's negotiations with the Netherlands over East Indian oil concessions was on behalf of a Standard Oil company subsidiary.

ADMIRAL JONES WILL COMMAND U. S. FLEET

Consolidation Of the Atlantic And Pacific Naval Forces Is Ordered.

Washington, Dec. 7.—Consolidation of the Atlantic and Pacific fleets into the "United States fleet," with Admiral H. P. Jones in supreme command, and Vice-Admiral E. W. Eberle as commander-in-chief of the "battle fleet" unit, was announced tonight by the navy department. The reorganization of the department is expected to have no change in any present assignment of ships or navy personnel, but was chiefly for the purpose of effecting a peace-time organization that could be carried into a war emergency without change.

Under the new plan, the United States fleet will consist of the battle fleet, composing the main fighting strength of the navy prepared to engage an enemy fleet; the scouting fleet, the duty of which would be to locate the enemy preparatory to engagement of the battle fleet; the control force, organized to exercise control of the sea after this had been obtained by action of the battle fleet, and the fleet base force, intended to support the operations of the fighting force.

The whole organization for purposes of administration in peace or war would be under command of a single officer, with the rank of admiral, no matter how far scattered its elements might be.

Admiral Jones, now commanding the Atlantic fleet, is the first to command the United States fleet, while Admiral Eberle, now commanding the Pacific fleet, takes the rank of vice-admiral and command of the battle fleet.

SEAN HALES, IRISH LEADER, IS KILLED

Attacked by Band As He Was Leaving Hotel To Attend the Parliament.

Dublin, Dec. 7.—(By Associated Press.)—Sean Hales, deputy of the Irish parliament, was shot and killed today as he was leaving the Ormond hotel for parliament, accompanied by Brig-Gen. Patrick O'Mallie, who was sworn in as deputy speaker of the house yesterday. General O'Mallie was seriously wounded, being shot in the head and arm. A lorry load of British soldiers, arriving on the scene, opened fire on the assailants, who were scattered and pursued. It is not known whether any were injured.

When the shooting began Hales and O'Mallie entered a car, ordering the driver to take them to the hospital. Hales died almost at the moment of entering the hospital.

Resume Investigation of Oil and Gasoline Prices

Washington, Dec. 7.—Investigation of oil and gasoline prices was resumed next Thursday by the senate manufacturers sub-committee. It was announced today by Chairman LaFollette.

The inquiry was begun last summer but was discontinued when Congress adjourned in September. Chairman LaFollette said it was expected to call the officials of some of the larger companies to testify next week and later to summon the officers of the smaller companies and the representatives of other lines of business and organizations as well as individuals having a direct interest in the subject of investigation.

Subpoenas are being drawn up summoning the heads of some of the larger companies, including the various Standard Oil corporations. It was said, but the names of the officials to be called were not announced.

Civil Court Term in County Is Brought to An Abrupt End

Plans has been written to the chapter of the December term of Guilford county Superior court for the trial of civil cases. A majority of cases on the docket were continued each day and hence Judge W. F. Harding announced that it was useless to hold a jury for the hearing of but an average of one case each day.

The Guilford county bar docketed 56 cases for trial but other than the hearing of divorce cases on the initial day of the court session, there were few cases settled. Many were continued for both plaintiff and defendant while in several instances a continuance was granted by the consent of both parties.

E. C. McLEAN BECOMES SECRETARY OF CIVITANS

Each Civitan Will Be Responsible For One Needy Family On Christmas.

GUY PHILLIPS SPEAKS

Ernest C. McLean, cashier of the Morris Plan Industrial bank, was last night elected secretary of the Civitan club to succeed Walter Murray, who recently moved to High Point to accept a position.

Mr. McLean, a native of Guilford county, recently returned to Greensboro from New York. Since becoming associated with the Morris Plan bank he has been closely identified with the business elements of the city. The announcement of his selection by the board of directors of the Civitan club to succeed Mr. Murray met with the hearty approbation of the club at its regular meeting last night in Park Place Methodist church.

The meeting was in charge of Dr. J. W. Tankersley, president of the club, and it was one of the liveliest as well as one of the most progressive meetings staged by the club in a long time.

President Tankersley called the membership's attention to the plight of thousands of New Bern's citizens as a result of the fire disaster. He urged all those who care to and can to help the victims at once. Their plea is urgent. They need assistance. By unanimous vote of the members President Tankersley will extend an invitation to the state organization of Civitan clubs to hold its 1923 meeting in this city. Dr. Tankersley also told the members to begin thinking and planning a trip to Washington next June to attend the national convention of Civitans.

The club voted to do all in its power to help make the Christmas of 1922 a merry one for the indigent people of the city. Each member will be given a name of a family in need. The names will be furnished the club by Mrs. Blanche Carr, Sterne, county welfare superintendent.

The vote to help the poor on Christmas followed an eloquent plea by President Tankersley, who told of the unsurpassed joy one may get out of helping to bring Christmas cheer to little children whose parents are unable to do it.

"For a number of years," said Dr. Tankersley, "I have made it my business to help at least three families during Christmas. I tell you it will bring tears to your eyes to see how little children are made happy by your efforts. A little toy, costing nothing scarcely, will in many cases turn a drear Christmas into one of sunshine and cheer. Try it and I'm sure you will not do anything during the holidays that will afford you greater pleasure."

Guy Phillips, Civitan, and principal of the high school, spoke on education—this being education week. Mr. Phillips outlined the school program very briefly but pointedly. In order to keep the line of education unbroken he said the schools are stressing three points: 1. Patriotism, 2. Ideals of service, 3. Power of self-control, or in other words the power to direct in a straightforward manner.

The oral boasts fell to G. N. Boren and S. S. Alderman. Mr. Alderman, who recently upheld the cause of the state of North Carolina in the railroad cases in the Supreme court of the United States, was denied the floor by C. A. Hines, who read an article in which one of the justices of the highest tribunal of the land paid high compliment to Mr. Alderman's ability in handling the state's end of the litigation. The reading came as a surprise to Mr. Alderman.

Mrs. Boren spoke for himself. He worked himself into a reminiscent mood, telling of his trips to Greensboro years ago when the population numbered about 3,000. He told of the city's wonderful, magic-like growth, and declared that the city and the state for that matter, is now only beginning to grow and every citizen here has a chance to be of great service in the community's growth—the opportunities are unlimited.

There will be a joint meeting of the four civic clubs next Wednesday noon.

Mellon's Work Most Brilliant Since the Days of Hamilton

Washington, Dec. 7.—Discussing the financing of the government obligations, Representative Fees, Republican, Ohio, said in the house today that measured by the size of its problems, the work of the treasury under Secretary Mellon "while not spectacular, is the most brilliant since the days of Alexander Hamilton."

"This nation," he said, "has balanced its budget, reduced its public debt by over $1,231,102,975.41, financed its loans, thawed out its frozen credits, released its assets for industry, made banking easier, lowered rates of interest and rediscounted revived business, banished unemployment and brought the government's credit back to the par.

"This achievement," Mr. Fees continued, "will challenge the record for an equal performance in the history of finance."
