ITALIANS DRIVER'S RECORD THRILLER

He Is Getting Ashamed to Take Money and Won't Enter All In Future

TAKING A REST NOW

The Fellow's Winning Was Really Becoming a Disturbing Factor and He Now Says He Won't Do All the Winning.

By HAMILTON. (United Press Staff Correspondent)

New York, Oct. 26.—Dario Resta, the torocious, devil-may-care Italian driver who has hogged American auto track records and stuck his fingers into the prize money of every country where they fear round tracks in high power automobiles, is just taking a breather.

Resta, says he is getting ashamed to take the money and has promised not to enter every event in the future. He is going to skip a few to give the other boys a chance.

Resta hustled into the limelight back in 1915 when he hit the spots in New York. Prior to that he had done a few fancy tricks for the natives in France, Italy and England, and when he here in view of the Statue of Liberty he was well fortified with a bank roll even if he hadn't scattered records on this side.

From Italy Resta scooped his intrepid way into England and he immediately developed his way to victory in three of England's highest class events. That was in a Mercedes, but he forsok his colors to climb a Sunbeam. This had no effect on his neck breaking speed; for he went right on smashing records and won the Grand Prix at Amiens, just before the present European war broke out.

In 1915 he again began to dream of American gold and tied himself back to the shores of the land and plenty, peace and gold. He was in New York just a week and then he beat it for San Francisco, where he proceeded to in two events right in succession, the Littleton cup and the granite prize.

After that he headed off to that time when he went to Indianapolis and won in one of the fiercest automobile races ever run and forced De Palma her Italian, to the very limit to win Chicago he won the 500-mile event established a new record.

Then they pulled off a challenge race between him and Resta again nailed his to the mast first.

In a year has just been one victory another, including the big events at Chicago and Indianapolis.

A championship series of races at go De Palma was beaten in every by the speedy Italian.

San Felice Cigars A. AND M. READY FOR GREAT CLASH

Five Cents Straight and Worth It! Owing to the greatly increased cost of quality tobacco, in fact everything pertaining to high grade cigars, the business of San Felice cigars, the famous "Five Cents" brand, owned by the American Cigar Co., has advanced the selling price to the jobbers and Dealers, and henceforth this cigar will positively be sold to the consumer at 5 cents straight instead of six for a quarter as previously.

The SAN FELICE is national in its scope and character, having justly attained this eminence through its unequalled excellence. To maintain this in the standard of quality, the advance in quality is absolutely unavoidable. The generous support of all men using quality cigars is earnestly desired.

MEXICO PLANNING FOR REBUILDING

Shattered Industries to Be Restored Upon a Firm Foundation.

Guatemala, Mexico, Oct. 26.—Mexico plans to rebuild her shattered shattered industries upon a firm foundation. With the restoration of peace in the thousands of factories, mills, shops and stores which have been burned, wrecked or partially destroyed by artillery fire or by the work of the bombing crew which are always a part of a Mexican army in the field, are to be rebuilt.

The representative of the American company is being given every encouragement by the Guatemalan officials. They realize the importance of having such a plant on the border where the products can be shipped to all parts of the interior at a low cost. While many of the buildings in Mexico are built of brick and stone, concrete having been little used in construction work in the interior because of the comparative scarcity of cement. With the construction of a plant to manufacture cement here, many Mexican laborers who are now forced to go to the United States in search of employment will be employed and because of the lower cost of labor in this country, it will be possible to sell the finished product of the plant at a much lower rate than that prevailing in the United States, the promoters say.

DANCE PLANNED FOR V. M. I. FOOTBALL TEAM

Chapel Hill, Oct. 26.—The German club of the University is planning to give a dance at the University gymnasium on Saturday night of this week in honor of the Virginia Military Institute football team. This team plays the University on Emerson Field Saturday.

As it is the first game to be played here since the Wake Forest contest early in the season, a large crowd is expected to attend. It will also give the Red rotors the first opportunity to get a line on Carolina's playing since the season has begun to round into form.

A. AND M. READY FOR GREAT CLASH

The Team in Shape to Meet V. P. I. in Norfolk Next Saturday

West Raleigh, Oct. 26.—The football struggle which is next in importance to the Thanksgiving A. and M. V. P. I. clash will be the clash between A. and M. and V. P. I. to be played in Norfolk Saturday, October 28. Special trains have been put on to accommodate the crowd for this occasion, which is expected to equal the old A. and M. V. P. I. games played in Norfolk on "Turkey Day."

The A. and M. warriors are being whipped into shape with the sole idea of administering defeat to the old V. P. I. "Couch Potato" in putting the squad through their paces. This week end, having had a good rest since the Fair Week victory over Wake Forest, they should be in prime condition for Saturday's contest. Some think A. and M. has a hand in that this year's V. P. I. team carries only three members of last year's varsity and is higher than last year's V. P. I. team.

The following men will probably start the game for A. and M.: McDaniel (left end), Hudgin at ends, Cook and Lawrence tackles, Holloway and Nance centers, Whitaker center, Lee full, Rice quarterback, Lane, Brown and Blaine halfbacks. This line up is the result of yesterday's practice, and it is now felt that the numerous offenses and machine work has been reached.

Douglas, N. D., Oct. 26.—A powerful gale today is the only occupant of the lower air. Breeze took possession when this full, unclouded for months, deteriorated and the floor fell away.

NOTICE

Under the power of sale contained in a decree of the Superior court of Edgecombe county, in a special proceeding therein pending, entitled "Margarita Thomas et al vs. Millie Estelle Lancaster et al," the undersigned will offer for sale at public auction to the highest bidder, before Wm. H. Drake, sheriff of the city of Rocky Mount, North Carolina, on Saturday, November 4, 1916, at twelve o'clock M., a tract of land lying and being in Edgecombe county, containing 62 acres, more or less, described in the petition in said case as follows:

Beginning at a small black stump on the N. E. corner of lot No. 2 in Town 3600, swamp near the railroad; thence south 157 1/2 poles to a light wood stump in the bay pond, corner of lot No. 2; N. 74 degrees W. 54 poles to a stake, Catherine Holm's corner; thence N. 83 degrees W. 122 1/2 poles to a blackwood stump, Mrs. Boddie's corner; N. 87 degrees E. 41 poles; N. 20 degrees W. 48 poles to a black stump in the swamp; thence S. 72 degrees E. 54 poles to the various corners of the swamp to the first station containing 62 acres, more or less. This description is taken from a division of the Bon Hovey's land which was made by order of the court at the November term, 1862, of Edgecombe county, it being lot No. 3 of said division and being that tract of land which was descended to Susan Hovey from her father, Ben Hovey.

Terms of sale cash upon report and confirmation of sale, but the purchaser will be required to make a de-

Two Sides of the Campaign

By GEORGE G. HILL (Written for the Republican National Committee.)

As the man who forced President Baer and other proud owners of the anthracite coal mines to accept arbitration, in 1902, ex-President Roosevelt spoke with exceptional authority when he addressed the coal miners at Wilkes-Barre, Pa., on October 14. No one could suspect Colonel Roosevelt of not being a friend to labor, and throughout the length and breadth of the land his speech is being read as "the voice of one speaking with authority." His condemnation, therefore, of President Wilson's course in the railway controversy will be received with thoughtful respect by every working man in the country.

The fact is that many true friends of labor are coming to suspect that the Adams-on wage increase bill is a gold brick that's it is going to do more injury than good to labor. It is obvious that the only man it can help are the members of the Railway Brotherhoods and they constitute only 20 per cent of the railway employees. The other 80 per cent are injured by such legislation.

There is strong suspicion, too, that the railways will be able to turn this legislation to their own advantage, even so far as the Brotherhood men are concerned. Congress, by the Hepburn bill, established the principle of fixing freight and passenger rates by a government commission, by the La Follette bill established the principle of fixing the hours of work, limiting them to 16 hours a day and by the Adams-on bill has established the principle of fixing the amount of pay. All that remains, according to the railway managers, is for Congress to fix the wages for all employees on the Brotherhoods, and then to prohibit strikes and make service for economy carriers compulsory. Under such a provision, railway and steam boat employees would, in effect, enlist just as they do now in the army and navy, and that is an undecently by the railway managers. All of this serves to recall the fact that Woodrow Wilson was the bitter enemy of a national labor union set on the eve of a national election.

By GEORGE CREEL (Written for the Democratic National Committee.)

"Enter which flag!" might well be asked of the notably eager behind-Candidate Hughes. L. Roosevelt, Bacon, J. E. Morgan and all the Morgan millions, are fighting President Wilson because he has not turned the government of the United States over to the British foreign office. They are enraged that he did not protest against the German occupation of Belgium, and that he did not follow up the Lusitania disaster by breaking off diplomatic relations with Berlin and then seizing all the German ships interned in our ports. They are for Hughes because they have reason to believe that he will throw the strength of America to the Allies.

The German-American Alliance, assisted by Jernia O'Leary, is fighting President Wilson because he has not turned the government of the United States over to the German foreign office. They are enraged because he made Germany stop the slaughter of neutrals and non-combatants, and because he has refused to break off diplomatic relations with London as a reward for his seizure of the government of the United States over to the German foreign office. They are for Hughes because they have reason to believe that he will throw the strength of America to the Kaiser.

Neither of these two great groups is giving a thought to the United States. It is of Europe that they are thinking and working, and when they cast their votes it will be either for King or Kaiser.

What can be thought of a candidate willing to receive such support and able to return it? Two groups having each other, and working for two absolutely different ends, and yet in the same political camp. If the United States were not at stake, it is, of course, absurd; but Hughes would win in order that the country might be edited by the dog fight that would follow.
