

MUTINY IN THE RUSSIA ARMY RANKS HALTS BIG DRIVE

In the Meantime the Allies in West Get Big Drive To Going

NEW RUSSIA MINISTER BECOMES PREMIER

Kerensky Now Assumes What Borders on a Dictatorship Though It Was Imperative if War Was to be Prosecuted.

Although Russia has been struck a severe blow on the northern Galician front through the mutiny of regiments of her troops under extreme infantry, the forces or order appear to be getting a firmer grip on the fountain head of the difficulty in Petrograd.

What course the provisional government will take towards Finland whose diet has declared complete independence of Russia has not been disclosed. While chief military interest is centered on the battlefields in the east where the Russians are having to contend with dissatisfied troops in their ranks as well as the Austrians and Germans.

FURTHER RETREAT IN GALICIA

Petrograd, July 21.—A further retreat was made by the Russians in Eastern Galicia, the war office announced, but the troops did not show the necessary stability and at points did not fulfill commands.

EDGECOMBE LIST OF NAMES DRAWN

This is Continuation of Yesterday's List in Order Drawn

WATCH FOR NOTICES

Edgecombe's Required Quota 301 Men. Next Step is to Present Yourself When Mail Notice is Received. of 687,000 Men.

The following list of names from Edgecombe county, in their order drawn yesterday, is a continuation of the list yesterday published in the Evening Telegram, and begins in the order drawn from the last number printed in yesterday's issue.

There are over nine hundred names in yesterday's and today's issue of the Evening Telegram. This number is thought sufficient at present to get the 301 men, which number is the net quota for this, Edgecombe county, allowing all deductions for the National Guard, and all branches of the service of the government, either the army, navy, naval reserves, or any other branch, which any men from Edgecombe county have joined prior to the drawing of the names.

As there are 301 men required, net, from Edgecombe, the exemption board is directed to call 200 per cent of its quota. That is, they will probably at first call 602 men from which to get the 301 men for actual service at once.

The exemption board will have to wait until they get the complete list in their order drawn from Washington before they send out the notices. It will probably take them a day or two to get the notices ready. Those called to present themselves in the notices sent out by the exemption board will have to report for the physical examination five days after the notices are sent out in the mails at the latest. However, the notice you will receive will direct you when to report, and bear in mind that you must present yourself before the board at Tarboro. Whether you claim exemption or not, is not the question now. If your number was drawn among the first and you receive your notice to report, you will have to present yourself for examination, whether you claim exemption or do not claim exemption.

NASH COUNTY LIST OF NAMES DRAWN

This is Continuation of Yesterday's List in Order Drawn

MAIL NOTICES NEXT

Number of Names Published for Nash Believed Enough to Get Required Quota of 397 Men for First Army. From Exemption Board.

The following list of names in their order drawn for Nash county is a continuation of the list published in the last issue of yesterday's paper. This list begins in the order drawn from the last names published yesterday. The complete lists of today and yesterday total a little over nine hundred names, and is regarded as enough from which to draw the required net quota of 397 men from Nash county for active military service in the first national army of 687,000 men.

The exemption board of Nash county is required to call 200 per cent of its quota of 397. That is, the board will have to call 794 men to present themselves from which to take the 397 men for active service, allowing 50 per cent of the number called for exemptions. If, however, the board cannot get the 397 men from the 794 called, they will draw on the list in order drawn until the required quota is secured. It is thought probable that the drawing of men to present themselves to get the required quota will not exceed 900 men and if that is the case, the list as carried in this paper includes probably the names of all men who will be called from which to take the men for the first army.

Don't let it be misunderstood that these are all the names drawn yesterday. Every man registered in Nash and Edgecombe counties had his name drawn yesterday, but the list carried in this paper is the first one hundred that was drawn, and therefore the first men to be liable for service in the first army.

Secretary Baker drew the first numbers yesterday, and the complete drawing of the 10,000,000 men in the United States was completed late last night. As fast as they were drawn, men in the drawing room wrote the numbers in their order drawn on a blackboard. As fast as the blackboard was filled with numbers, it was taken down and photographed for official records. Therefore, copies of the photographed blackboards with all the numbers drawn from the first to the very last of the 10,000,000 numbers in the capsules will be made and put in pamphlet form and be sent to every exemption board in the United States. Thus the photographed record of the drawing of the whole ten million men is recorded by the government, and stand as an official record of the order in which the men were drawn, and their liability for service. The list in the Evening Telegram, both of yesterday and today is in the order drawn as handled by the Associated Press and can be said to be correct and will most likely correspond with the photographed list of the government.

This paper will not attempt to publish any more names in the near future, as those names of which there are nearly a thousand is considered enough for the first army, and the immediate interest is now in the first army. The names of the second army, in the order of their liability for service, would be published when the men for the second army will be called, and which may be probably three months, six, or later or it might be sooner. No one can tell. But, only the names that will be called to present themselves for the first army and the number carried by this paper is thought to be enough from which the desired quotas from Nash and Edgecombe counties will draw for active service.

The next step for those of Nash county to look out for is the notice in the mails. If your number was among the first called means the lists carried in yesterday's and today's issues of the Evening Telegram. These notices will be sent out by the exemption boards soon as recorded list from Washington is received and in these notices you will find the time and place where you are to present yourself for the physical examination. The place for Nash county will be Nashville and everyone called to present himself will have to go there. All you will have to do is to present yourself, whether you claim exemption or not, and the exemption board will tell you what else you will have to do. Anyone who wants to find the order in which they are drawn and whose names is not carried in the lists of the Evening Telegram as published today and yesterday will have to secure them from the exemption boards, at either Nashville or Tarboro.

"GERMANY HAS DELUSION THAT SHE WILL STARVE GREAT BRITAIN"---LLOYD GEORGE

YOUNG MAN, IF YOU ARE DRAFTED, THIS IS THE SORT OF THING YOU'LL HAVE TO MEET BEFORE ROSES BLOOM AGAIN

Repulse of German gas attack southeast of Arras. American boys of draft age may as well become familiar now with what they will have to contend with when they reach the firing line next spring. This reproduction of a painting by an eye-witness shows the repulse recently of a German gas attack southeast of Arras. Bayonets were freely used, and everyone who took part in the engagement had to wear a gas-mask. The Germans finally retired, leaving many dead on the bloody field.

SUBMITS BUDGET

Secretary Daniels Submit to House Needs of Navy Aggregating Over Hundred Thirty Six Million.

SEVERAL HURT IN A. C. L. WRECK

Train No. 89 Leaves Track Near Fayetteville Friday Seriously Injuring Two, Slightly Hurting Others.

Fayetteville, July 21.—Boogee Master-Bowden of Richmond, Va., was seriously injured and John T. Meyers, of Fayetteville, a passenger, suffered a fractured arm and several passengers received minor injuries when six cars of Atlantic Coast Line passenger train No. 89, westbound, derailed and ran into a south of Fayetteville and a half mile north of Hope Mills at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. A washout at the foot of a 20-foot embankment was the cause of the wreck. The engine cleared the washout but the weakened spot in the track gave way under the weight of the heavy steel cars. The tender was torn loose from the engine and rolled a hundred feet from the track and the baggage car, jim crow and two white day coaches left the track. Only two these being a pullman and a private car. The train was in charge of Engineer E. A. Hay and Conductor Simpson and was running between 25 and 30 miles an hour when it struck the washout.

A special train was run to the scene of the wreck from Fayetteville to bring the injured here, it having been reported in this city that a great number were killed and injured. Bowden, the baggage master, the most seriously injured, was taken to the A. C. L. Hospital at Rocky Mount. He has two broken ribs. Meyers was brought to the Highsmith Hospital here. A large number of doctors hurried to the wreck from this city in answer to a call for their services and the injured were quickly attended to. The wreck was one of the worst which has ever occurred near here and the smallness of the number of persons injured is considered almost miraculous. The mail, baggage and passenger cars were piled in hopeless confusion, blocking both south and north tracks. Traffic was stopped completely for several hours. At 10:30 railroad officials believed that the wrecking work had progressed so far that the northbound track would be open to traffic by 11 o'clock in time to allow the big through passenger trains to the north to proceed on time.

NEXT STEP IS AS TO EXEMPTION

Officials are Generally Pleas-ed at Success of the First Step MEN NOW AWAIT CALLS

Only One Minor Defect Was Uncovered and That in the Matter of a Blank Capsule Which Was Easily Remedied.

Washington, July 21.—With ten million men listed in the order of their liability to service the Federal government began today its last task of preparation for organization of a selective draft army. The task of determining among those chosen shall be exempt. The drawing to determine who shall first be liable for service ended early today after it had been in progress without interruption for more than 16 hours, and while officials in charge rested from their long vigil, others took up the tabulation of official figures for forwarding to local exemption boards over the country. Most of this work it is hoped to complete before the day is over so that the local authorities can be given their instructions early next week. Within the days the men subject to the President's order for mobilization of a war quota of 687,000 may be appearing before their boards for exemption and as to their exemption. Twice 687,000 are to be summoned by the boards in the theory that two registrants must be examined for every soldier accepted, and the number each registration district must furnish has been carefully worked out.

The Provost Marshal's office was greatly pleased today over the outcome of the drawing, officials declaring it an accomplishment scarcely less noteworthy than the successful registration carried out six weeks ago. Ten million men they pointed out had been assigned places on the nation's muster roll in the space of less than a day and with apparently with but one minor error in the whole complicated process. The single error came to light near the end of the drawing this morning when a blank was found when there should have been a number in one of the ten thousand and five hundred capsules by which the war times fortunes of America's youth could be determined. It did not materially interfere with the working out of the lottery, however, and all officials agreed that it could work no injustice to any registrant. It means only a temporary complication they said and in no way impairs the equality of the lottery. What serial number should have been the place of the blank had not been determined today, but it will be found shortly by a careful re-checking. Then it will be assigned to the only place open on the liability list Number 19,500 at the very foot. It was said at the Provost Marshal's office that the error undoubtedly resulted from an oversight and no one could be blamed.

BRITISH PREMIER TALKS ON SPEECH OF DR. MICHAELIS

Says Statements of New German Chancellor will be Understood in Germany

SAYS BRITISH HAVE A LARGE FOOD SUPPLY

British Statesman Points That War is Now a Struggle Between Two Definite Groups of National Ideals to be Completed.

London, July 21.—Premier Lloyd George said today that the speech in the reichstag of Dr. Michaelis, the new German chancellor, meant that if Germany were victorious there would be annexation all around and that the military monarchy would be established more firmly than ever. The speech, the premier asserted, showed that those in charge of affairs in Germany had for the moment made the choice of the war.

The premier said the statement of Dr. Michaelis contained phrases which would be understood by the military powers of Germany. Unless these were wiped out they would again plunge Europe into a welter of bloodshed. The premier said the food supply for the 1917 and 1918 period had already been secured and that a program of cultivation had been arranged to make the supply for the following year secure, even if losses increased. "I don't wish Germany to harbor any delusion," said Mr. Lloyd George, "that Great Britain will be put out of the fight until full liberty has been established. I predict it will not be long before the German Chancellor delivers a different speech and that is the one for which we are awaiting. We can't make peace with a German-dominated by autocracy," declared Premier Lloyd George. "The war now becomes a struggle between two definite groups of national ideals. Significant in this respect is the news announced today is the accession of that brilliant Russian statesman Kerensky to the leadership of the Russian democracy."

URGES SUMMER COAL BUYING IN ENGLAND

London, July 21.—(By Mail)—Coal dealers are sincere about it this time in advising householders and owners of big buildings to stock up with coal for the winter. On July 31 the Coal Controller will take command of the supply and no more deliveries will be made, except under special permits until a certain reserve for the London district has been accumulated. As the price of coal is controlled by the Government there is no reason why the dealers should hold their stores for a higher price.

WOMAN WITH BRAINS SHOT OUT LIVING

Wilmington, N. C., July 21.—Emmanuel Roderick, Jr., white, night watchman yesterday morning became infuriated with his wife and fired a 38 caliber pistol bullet into her forehead, spilling her brains on the back porch of their home and yet the woman is living today, a patient in a local hospital with her head swollen three times its normal size and with her breath coming in gasps, a condition that local physicians do not pretend to be able to explain. Roderick, who is in jail, made no effort to escape meeting the officers when they came for him and going quietly to jail. The shooting grew out of a family row, precipitated when both are understood to have accused each other of infidelity.
