

WETS EXPECT AID FROM MISSOURIANS

Sale of 4 Per Cent Beer in St. Louis Signal of Dry Opposition

Washington, March 11.—The wide sale of 4 per cent beer in St. Louis is regarded by wet leaders here as a signal that Missouri will be the next state to line up in the fight against prohibition.

This will make four states definitely committed to the state's right please that each state has the right of prohibition "self determination."

Rhode Island, which has already filed suit in the United States supreme court attacking the constitutionality of the 18th amendment, leads the wet line-up. Others are New Jersey and Wisconsin. If Missouri joins the fight it will be four states against 26 states, led by the bread-and-butter.

Maine, which have combined to oppose the Rhode Island case.

Wets in Washington attach little importance to the wets' attempt to dip up the prohibition campaign as a political issue in the presidential campaign.

That there is little heat was shown

Thursday when the house overwhelmingly voted against a motion to strike out of the appropriation bill an item for prohibition enforcement.

Wets' hopes center on the Rhode Island suit. Added to this is the action of the New Jersey legislature in legalizing 3.2 per cent beer, the practical conclusion in Wisconsin favoring the wets and the practically open sale of one per cent beer in St. Louis.

This will make four states definitely committed to the state's right please that each state has the right of prohibition "self determination."

Aggregation will Arrive in City March 29 for Stay of Several Weeks

Games here Friday and Saturday Nights will Conclude Season

Annoyance at war reached its height last night when the Rochester team, the club will train in this city, beat the Cardinals 3-1 and 6-2. The Cardinals had no difficulty whatever in winning the first game and probably should almost as well. Miller and Coffey led in the scoring during the first two games. The second game saw the Cardinals score every point of which the Rochester team was unable to match. The Cardinals' victory came in the bottom of the 9th when Miller hit a home run.

The Cards' win in the first game was due to the efforts of the Rochester team to make the Cardinals' batsmen work hard. The Cards' batsmen were not able to make the Rochester team work hard enough to score runs.
