DIRECTORS SEE TAR HEELS BLANK CATS

Rocky Mount Defeats Suffolk 3 to 0, With Moguls Looking On

President Bradley and the Virginia league directors in session here saw the Tar Heels shut out Suffolk 3 to 0 this afternoon, circuit drivers by Steinbeck and Meyers being responsible for the victory. The Tar Heels' only other counter came when Champlin was given life on an error, stole second and scored on Heatwole's safety. The contest was a pitchers' battle between Heatwole and Lloyd with the Tar Heel twirler having decidedly the better of the show, while the visiting mountaineer allowed several healthy clubs to be mixed in with the six he secured off his delivery.

The visitors threatened to score in the third when they secured three of the five bingles credited them. Walker, however, got Blank at the plate with a throw from center, after which Steinbeck caught Duncan off base, and Heatwole proceeded to retire the next hitter with a strikeout.

PETERSBURG BLANKS TARS

Norfolk, Va., July 9.—Petersburg club posted five runs across the plate in the fourth, the only runs of the game scored. Harry Schmidt singled off Stanley in the fifth and held the scoreless for the remainder of the game, but the locals could not reach Young's hooks in the sixth.

KAUFF'S DEFEAT

Trenton, N. J., July 9.—The manager's meet was made out. Benny Kauff, third outfielder, had been caught for a Toronto error by the Tarboro team.

WILSON LOSES CLOSE GAME

Newport News, July 10.—In one of the most closely played and various games of the season which went as a regular pitchers' battle, Wilson lost to the Tarboro team on Quim and Newport News took the first game from Wilson by a 1-0 score.

Wilson made four hits to compare with the Builders three, while Newport News made two errors in against him. The game was a pitchers' battle, and Wilson was in the lead for most of the game, but he was unable to get any runs in the second to secure a victory. Pastrorillo hit a slow roller to hitting. The Wilsons' error in the fifth inning was a bad one, but it was not enough to make the difference in the game.

There was no making the fact that Heatwole was there with a world of bad things to do. The twirler was completely within his grasp, while exactly seven of them were put down via the straight route, and more than half of that number with men on the corners.

Unless signs fall and something happens that we know not of, Mr. Glass will be the living spirit this afternoon, and the outlook is for a battle that will not be a matter of who can swing a bat, but who can swing a bat.

The league directors did right in the adoption of a waiver rule and it is for the ever-lasting good of the league and even while it might work temporarily financial loss to some of the clubs in the possession of sales to players of lower class, it will be a long time before the league will be in a position to great outpouring of money in the past together and supporting of new talent into the league.

The exit of "Hooper" Thresher from the Virginia league and his carrying with him of three of the Suffolk players may strike terror in the hearts of the Wilson and Suffolk clubs. They are sure to keep the club out of the fact that the rest of the league is ready to help them, especially if they will keep their heads down and have those followers of organized baseball and they know better, while Thresher, who is an old player and knows better, his blacklist should be perpetual.

Trenton, N. J., July 9.—The manager's meet was made out. Benny Kauff, third outfielder, had been caught for a Toronto error by the Tarboro team.

PLAY 11-INNING TIE

Richmond, Va., July 9.—Richmond and Portsmouth fought for 14 innings yesterday afternoon and at the end of the contest they were tied 3 to 3. The game was called an account of darkness. The game could be a battle between pitchers McLaughlin for Portsmouth, and Kiebert for Richmond. The home team out for the Trainers, 15 to 8, but the visiting club was right in the pitcher's and several times when it would have won the game.

McLaughlin's play featured the game. The score: R. H. E. Richmond 101 002 000 000 00-3 15 3. Portsmouth 110 000 000 00-3 15 3.

Batteries: Kiebert and Holmes; McLaughlin and Parker.

PUM FOR GIBSON

New York, July 9.—Gibson, manager of the New York Yankees, will have control of the New York Yankees, which he is expected to take over in the near future.

STILL PITCHING

McLaughlin, Rich. Va. pitcher, was a member of the team. While he is still pitching, he is still pitching.

GIBBONS RESTS

St. Paul, Minn. July 9.—Gibbons is resting in St. Paul, Minn. since he has been unable to get on his feet. He is planning a heavy fall schedule.
