"PROXIES"
 A COSMOPOLITAN PRODUCTION
 A Paramount Picture
 AT THE NEW YORK PRESS SAYS
 ABOUT THIS UNUSUAL PICTURE

"Proxies" gets from the ordinary ingenuity of a political production its chief attraction. It is a story of a man and a woman who are both in love with each other and with a third person. The picture is a good example of what the motion picture at its best should be.

REFORMED CONVICT IN "PROXIES" COMMITS CRIME TO SAVE FRIEND

That a former crook who is determined to live straight, may be compelled against his will to practice the principles of knavery in order to save the honor or reputation of his benefactor, is demonstrated in "Proxies" the new Cosmopolitan production, which will be shown at the Palace Theatre Wednesday. It is a Paramount picture.

Peter, a butler in the fashionable home of Christopher Darley, is a reformed convict. His record is exposed to Darley by a man who seeks to use Darley in a dishonest stock scheme. Darley decides that Peter is good enough for him and stands by him. Peter is filled with gratitude and when he learns that the man alluded to has obtained a proxy, the voting of which at a stockholder's meeting may ruin Darley, he decides to resort to a hold-up in order to obtain the proxy and save Darley.

The hold-up is staged by Peter with the aid of Clara Conway, a maid and his sweetheart, at a party in the Darley home. While everybody is held up, none but the schemer loses anything and he is deprived of the proxy which is later destroyed. Swift action follows this scene and there are thrills aplenty until the final fade out.

Norman Kerry has the leading role of Peter, while Zena Virginia Keefe is seen as Clara, the maid. Other notables in the cast include Raye Dean, Jack Crosby, Paul Everton, William H. Tucker, Mrs. Schaffer and Robert Broderick.

If you ever lived where you could have all the fresh milk you wanted you will appreciate Klim Powdered Milk.

Spell it backwards

KLIM BRAND POWDERED MILK

Pure fresh milk. Nothing but milk and all of the milk except the water. That is Klim. You add the water to Klim and instantly you have fresh whole milk, as fresh as if you lived on a farm.

Not only do you get better milk for less money—but Klim is an economy in other ways. It needs no ice because it does not sour, and in winter it does not freeze. Make up the amount you need as you need it—then none is left to sour and there is no waste.

Klim comes in two forms: Klim Powdered Whole Milk (full cream), and Klim Powdered Skimmed Milk (for all cooking purposes). A 2 1/2-lb. package of Klim Powdered Whole Milk makes 10 quarts of liquid whole milk.

Food experts endorse Klim; Klim-fed babies are healthy. And the older children are more sturdy when they drink Klim.
