

MR. HALL,
I HAVE seen a piece in your last paper, signed J. Marley of Sampson county—it hardly merits an answer. If the Negroes he alluded to are his property, the laws of the country will undoubtedly give them to him—There is a written obligation between Biggers Mobley and myself, in Mobley's hands, that will speak for itself. J. Marley is perfectly correct in saying that I have refused to give up the negroes—he may rest assured I never will. As for any assertions thrown out, I totally disregard them, as my character, from as long or longer residence in this part of the country, is as well known as J. Marley's. It is untrue that I sold any negroes to Biggers Mobley. "The reader may now make his comments."
