

By the ship Diana, Capt. Hunter, in 39 days from Newry, the Editors of the New-York Gazette have received Irish papers to the twenty-eighth of May, and London dates are to the 25th.

Nothing but war appears to be tho't of; and the most warlike and active preparations are carried on both in England and France. Privateers have been fitted out and sailed from different ports in France. Several captures have been made of French vessels by British cruisers. Orders have been sent by the English government to capture all Dutch vessels. The Batavian government is to be overrun by French troops—an army, it is said, of 80,000 men is immediately to possess it.

Massena, it is said, will have the command in Italy, Moreau in Germany, Macdonald in Batavia.

The Court of Vienna has addressed a declaration to the English and French ministers in that capital, stating that his Imperial Majesty had decided to preserve the most strict neutrality in the event of hostilities between France and England. The emperor of Russia has professed the same sentiments, and have offered to interpose his powerful and pacific mediation to accommodate the differences which have arisen between the two nations.

A convention has been signed between the courts of Russia and Sweden, by which the frontiers are for the present, to be left in the same situation as before.

In the house of commons, an interesting conversation lately took place upon the transaction which had happened since Lord Whitworth's departure from Paris. In answer to a question, whether since the departure of Lord Whitworth from Paris any fresh communication had been received?—Lord Hawkesbury replied, "after his Lordship had left Paris it was communicated to him, while on his journey, in an unofficial way, in a way that gave no positive evidence that it came from the French Government, that an arrangement might be made, by which this country should keep Malta for the number of years required, provided that the French Government should at the same time occupy Otranto, and Tarentum. With regard to the mediation of Russia, it was perfectly true that in the last moments of the negociation, a message did arrive from Petersburg with instructions to state that the Emperor of Russia was not then disposed to interfere in the differences between Great-Britain and France, yet to express his wishes for the continuance of peace. But it did not appear that the Emperor of Russia had sent any instructions to bring the question of a mediation to any distinct point whatever; and under these circumstances it appeared to him that it could only tend to a delay which must be highly injurious to this country."

BANK SHARES.

In the Federal Gazette, we find continual complaints on the subject of the sale, made by the Secretary of the Treasury of the Bank-Stock that was held by the United States, chiefly copied from Northern papers—the annexed plain statement of the benefit resulting from the sale, even duress may comprehend.

The United States had originally 5000 shares in the Bank of the United States, 2780 of them were sold by the former Secretary of the Treasury, by authority of an act of Congress making provision for the payment of the public debt; the remaining 2220 shares, in virtue of the same act, have been sold by the present Secretary of the Treasury for 580 dollars a share, or 1,887,600 dollars, the amount of which was applied to the payment of a debt due to the Bank, by the United States, for which the United States paid an annual interest of six per cent. or

From which it appears, the United States save by the sale 6216 dollars a year, as also the trouble of receiving with one hand from the Bank 71,040 dolls. and paying to it with the other 77,256 for the same account. To the profit above may be added, a saving that resulted to the United States by obtaining without risk a considerable sum in guilder bills, thereby enabling the Secretary of the Treasury to purchase the balance that remained to be paid in Holland during the year, on much better terms than could possibly have been effected, had he have been necessitated to purchase guilder bills to the amount of 6,603,632 guilders and 10 stivers; the amount of the instalment, then falling due. — American.

AS an Election will take place in August next, for a person to represent you in the Congress of the United States, I thus publicly offer myself as a Candidate for that important trust.
The part I acted during the revolutionary war, my political opinions during that important period and since the establishment of our Independence, also my Sentiments for the six years I had the honor to represent you in Congress, are well known; I therefore deem it unnecessary to amuse you with opinions respecting the origin or motives of parties, nor professions of exclusive attachment to the Constitution or interests of the Nation.
