

the conflict they are greatly indebted to that sex which best knows how to estimate "the virtues that impart civility to manners, and refinement to life." The torch of patriotism which burned so inextinguishable in their breasts has been peculiarly brightened by the united flame of an honest pride in you, which kindled at the reflection "that our native country boasts of a seminary, where by the proper extension of legislative patronage, its ingenious youth might be taught to emulate the worth of their fathers, where their minds might be enlightened with knowledge, and their hearts impressed with a love of justice, morality and religion; where they might learn to embellish the manly and patriotic endowments which constitute strength of character, and qualify them to cherish "the mountain nymph sweet liberty," with all the arts that polish, all the charities that sweeten the intercourse of social life."

With the utmost sincerity,
And the highest respect,
I am your humble servant,
JOSEPH CALDWELL.

On the 24th of November (says a London paper) the American Ambassador (Mr. Munroe) was introduced to her Majesty in her private apartment by her Majesty's Vice-Chamberlain, and conducted by Sir Stephen Cotterell as master of the ceremonies;—when his excellency delivered his credentials, and was most graciously received. At the drawing room his excellency's Lady, Mrs. Munroe, was introduced to her Majesty by lady Hawkesbury.

In Congress, Feb. 29.

Mr. Findley, from the committee of elections, made a report on the representation of Duncan McFarlane, complaining of the undue election of Samuel D. Purviance. The report concludes with the opinion that there is not sufficient evidence to set aside the election of Samuel D. Purviance.

March 6.—Mr. Randolph, from the committee appointed to enquire into the conduct of Samuel Chase, one of the associate justices of the supreme court of the United States, and of Richard Peters, judge of the district of Pennsylvania, made a report concluding in the following manner: that SAMUEL CHASE, Esq. an associate justice of the supreme court, be impeached of high crimes and misdemeanors. That RICHARD PETERS doth not appear to have so acted as to require the constitutional interposition of the House.

Referred to a committee of the whole House on Monday the 12th.

[TRANSLATION.]

Paris, 15 Vend. 12 year.

The Minister of Exterior Relations, to Mr. Livingston, Minister Plenipotentiary of the United States.

SIR,
The minister of marine and the colonies in announcing to me that the captain of the frigate Laigue, employed at Elsinggen, had remarked that the documents on board the American vessel the Superior, captain Silvester Wilson, were not drawn up in the terms required by the convention of the 8 Vend. 9th year, concluded between France and the United States, observes to me that several other American vessels, which have lately entered the ports of the republic, had not papers in any better order.

The present circumstances and the analogy existing between the American and English tongues, induce the minister of marine to wish that the vessels of the United States may be furnished with more regular documents in order to prevent every sort of difficulty.

Will you, sir, be pleased to communicate these observations to your government that it may take the necessary measures, in order that its vessels may experience no difficulty on their arrival in the ports of France, and in order that nothing may alter the good harmony which prevails between the two nations.

Accept, Sir, the sentiments of my high consideration. (Signed)
CH. MAU. TALLEYRAND.

NOTICE.

THE subscriber having obtained administration on the estates of Richard Sulter and John Haynes, late of Bladen county, requests all persons indebted to either of the said estates, to make immediate payment; and all those having demands against them, are requested to exhibit the same properly authenticated, within the time prescribed by law. AMOS RICHARDSON.
Bladen County, March 19, 1804.

LAST NOTICE.

ALL persons indebted to the subscriber, are for the last time, requested to make payment by the 1st day of July next.—Pressing emergencies render this request indispensable, and he flatters himself that it will not meet the ungrateful fate of his former notices on the same subject: for should it unfortunately be the case, necessity will compel him to resort to the legal mode of recovery, immediately after that period. JOHN KELLY.
Fayetteville, March 20. 3w

THE subscriber takes this method of returning thanks to the public for the encouragement heretofore extended to her in the occupation of Public House Keeper; and informs the gentlemen who have been accustomed to put up at her house, as well as all others, that they cannot from this period be entertained by her. JENNET SPENDLOVE.

To the Voters in the Counties composing the District of Wilmington and Sampson County.

GENTLEMEN AND FELLOW CITIZENS,
AS the election for electing an Elector to vote for a President and Vice-President of the United States is approaching, I take the liberty of presenting you with this Address, to inform you that I am a Candidate for that important appointment. And believing, as I do, that the present Administration of the United States is pure, and calculated to secure the rights, liberties and true interests of its citizens; should I be honored with a majority of your suffrages, I pledge my honor to vote for THOMAS JEFFERSON, to be President of the United States.

As for Vice-President, I am not prepared at this time to say who I will vote for; as the gentlemen who will be candidates for that office are not yet known.

I am, Gentlemen,
Your most obedient
Humble servant,

D. GLISSON.
