

Mr. Burr, for shooting down all opposition to him; that this association of man shooters, amount to about fifteen (the little band) and the fact has been acknowledged by one of the most active of Mr. Burr's dependants, M. L. Davis; that the determination to begin with General Hamilton was formed by the counsel and advice of this little band of honourable assassins! A conspiracy of this nature requires only to be exhibited, to be detested, and if it really existed, Mr. Cheetham is entitled to every praise that results from an exposure of a conspiracy so horrible.—Rul. Reg.

We are informed that Col. Munroe, at present minister to the British court, has been appointed by the president governor of Louisiana.—[Phil. Gaz.]

The Swedish schooner Susanah, captain Galway, 10 days from Jeremie, put into Nassau, N. P. on the 9th ult. in distress. Capt. G. informs that four days before he sailed, a general massacre of the whites took place at Jeremie, when upwards of 1000 men women and children fell victims to the sanguinary rage of the brigands. The cause they assigned for this massacre, was, the desertion of a Mr. Reynolds, (a white man) an officer in the service of the brigands, who went on board the British frigate Tartar, Capt. Perkins.—Information was sent to general Dessalines, and he dispatched an officer with orders to see a general massacre executed.

British Sloop of War LILLY.

The following account of the capture of the above vessel (mentioned in last week's paper) has been given the editors of the Norfolk Herald, by Mr. Norcock, the purser.

"I beg leave to acquaint you of my arrival here this day, with the remaining officers and crew of his majesty's sloop of war Lilly.—On the 14th instant. (July) on or about the hour of 2 P. M. being then in lat. 33 21, N. and long. 79 13, W. we observed two sail to windward, to which we immediately gave chase. At half past 3, perceived the one to be an armed vessel, laying too, with French colours flying, boarding a ship which he supposed to be English, and continued in that position till dark, when we lost sight of them. Tacked occasionally, working to windward during the night: at half past 8 A. M. observed two sail to the westward, which we supposed to be the same as yesterday; made all sail in chase, and cleared ship for action. At 9 distinguished them to be the two ships we saw yesterday, the one having the other in tow, standing to the southward and eastward on the starboard tack. Half past 9 the one hoisted English colours, which we returned; passed to windward; tacked on our weather beam, and cast off the vessel she had taken in tow; three quarters past 9 she edged away, taking us for a merchant vessel, we shewing no guns, and having a temporary poop rigged to decoy her. At 23 minutes past 10 she ranged up on our weather quarter, shifted her colours to French, and commenced a heavy fire upon us, which we immediately returned; she then dropped astern and kept up a heavy discharge of musquetry, musketoons and cohorts from her tops and decks, and that of grape and langrage from her bow-chasers, which cut our braces, bow-lines, and running rigging in such a manner as to render the ship totally unmanageable, and completely defeated all our exertions to alter our position so as to get a great gun to bear; and the only resistance we were able to make (having no stern chasers) was that of the small arms. It is with the greatest concern I have to mention the death of Capt. William Compton, who fell early in the action. She still kept (taking every advantage of our ungovernable state) under our stern, raking us fore and aft with her bow chace guns and 100 men at musquetry, making sundry fruitless attempts to board till noon, when she passed to windward, on which we gave her the whole of our larboard broadside, and laying us athwart haul, raked us sundry times, which I am sorry to say deprived us of the assistance of the whole of the officers on deck: Lieut. Fowler being the last who fell, giving directions to strike the colours; the ship then laying a perfect log on the water; standing, running rigging, and sails, completely cut to pieces, masts and yards severely wounded. In this state the enemy made another desperate attempt to board, which they effected on the bowsprit with upwards of 100 men, and the feeble resistance we were then able to make, having then 18 men out of our small number (being only 76 at the commencement of the action) killed and wounded. It is with the utmost concern I have to add, we were compelled to strike our colours, and at half past noon were taken possession of by the French ship privateer La Dame Ambert, of Guadaloupe, mounting fourteen 12 pounder cannonades and two long 9's, and having on board 140 men. The Lilly mounted 16 short 12 pounders, merchant guns."

The gentleman who gave the above account says, that the crew of the privateer were mostly English, Scotch, Irish and Americans, and that the capt. was a Scotchman. Thinks from the shattered condition of the Lilly that she cannot be got into port. The privateer was formerly the British Packet Marborough, lately captured by the French in the West-Indies.
