

son manifested. Now began a glorious conquest; but there appeared a few wild beasts, somewhat resembling those the apostle Paul had to contend with at Ephesus, but we rejoiced to see some of them tumbling in the dust, prostrate on the ground, with extended cries to heaven for mercy, while all their powers were in an agony. This was truly a time of God's power; for "the loftiness of man was bowed down and the Lord alone was exalted in that day." One hundred, upon a moderate calculation, were converted to God. "Sing O Heavens, and rejoice O Earth, and break forth into singing O ye Mountains." Five or six sanctified "who is this that looketh forth as the morning, fair as the moon, clear as the sun, and terrible as an host with banners." This was truly an affecting scene—this was truly the work of the Lord and glory will be the end thereof. Here we clearly discovered salvation full, free and immense, and that God is no respecter of persons.—The rich, the poor, the white, the black, the bond and free, all were wonderfully encouraged to seek it, from a clear discovery, that all who sought the remission of their sins, found the pearl of great price. Here we saw husbands, wives, children and servants uniting their extended cries heavenward; while every pensive look and briny tear bespoke the language of penitential sorrow; so that the wilderness and solitary places were made vocal, and the desert resounded with prayer and praise.

We understand St. John saw an angel descend, having a great chain in his hand, and he laid hold on the dragon, &c. This angel prefigured Christ Jesus, the angel of the covenant—the chain was the gospel, and the dragon he laid hold of was Satan. Notwithstanding this revelation was made known to St. John upwards of 16,000 years ago, 'tis applicable to these latter days; "for, says Christ, the strong man armed keepeth his palace, &c. till one stronger than him emer and bind the strong man, then he spoileth his goods." So we discover men by nature have deeply revolted from their maker (God) and are resisting themselves carnally secure; they are bound under the captivating chains of Satan, the strong man, till one stronger than him (Christ Jesus) enter the heart by the energetic power of his spirit, then he bindeth the strong man, and divesting him of his power, brings the heart in subordination to the divine will. Under this representation we may see Christ descending by the power of the gospel, conquering the power of Satan and bringing sinners home to God by a living faith. "But who hath believed our report, and to whom is the arm of the Lord revealed?" saith the inspired prophet; not those who make merchandise of the gospel, and respect the fleece more than the flock; not stiff-necked bigots, whose hearts are bound up with prejudice and prepossession; neither those who build their blasted hopes upon the sandy foundation of their boasted morality, and trust in an arm of flesh for salvation;—but 'tis those who meekly submit, and carefully build their hopes upon the rock Christ; 'tis them that receive revealed religion, and that religion will enable them to aspire heavenward; and although they may meet a frowning world, and angry devils to retard them in their spiritual progress, notwithstanding they shall stem the rapid torrent, scale the mount and reach the immortal shore of never failing peace and uninterrupted tranquillity.

FRIENDS and FELLOW-CITIZENS, Voters in the District of Wilmington for an Elector of President and Vice-President of the United States.

UNACUSTOMED to solicit for offices and appointments, I address you, I fear, awkwardly, and perhaps unpleasantly to some; but in the language of plain and simple Truth. Oppressed with the weight of age, and tired with more than fifty years bustle in public life, I had retired to the quiet shade of my own vine and fig tree, under the determination not again to intermeddle in public business; but with my wishes still warm and my heart still glowing for the welfare of a country that gave me birth, that sustained me, and to which I am attached by every tie that can bind the human heart. From this retirement I have been called forth by some of my respectable fellow-citizens, to proffer my service in the essential duty of an Elector of President and Vice-President of the United States.

Unable to repress my feelings, I could not withhold my consent—I therefore step forward, and now offer myself a candidate for the office of Elector for the District of Wilmington.

I trust I need not say any thing of my political principles—they have been known from our earliest revolutionary struggle—they have been uniform. My sentiments of the present administration are equally known.—I ever disdained concealment and disguise. It is an administration I wish to continue for the happiness of my fellow-citizens. During the Presidency of our late beloved Washington, our fellow-citizens throughout the United States, appeared to harmonize; discord dared not shew her forked tongue.—His few errors were of the head, the frailties of nature never reached his heart; but alas! he was too soon removed from among us, and another of different character, temper, principles and views, succeeded. Despising the plain and simple garb of Democracy, he was ambitious, aspiring, intriguing, and reaching after the tinsel trappings of Royalty. Under him the old offices of government, with new ones created, and Congress, the great Council of the Nation, were filling with similar characters—their heads in intrigues and conspired the destruction of our happy constitution—they drove with the rapidity of John and the wildness of Pharon. The Nation saw the danger, was alarmed, and by its commanding voice checked them in their wild career, hurried them from their seats, and wisely committed its political concerns to the known experience and inflexible integrity of a JEFFERSON; under whose administration every citizen has enjoyed peace and prosperity—his rights, privileges and property have been secured. Notwithstanding which there is a set of men (a faction) tho' foiled and defeated, who do not despair, but incessantly labour by all the scurrilous abuse and misrepresentation that malignancy and falsehood can possibly invent, to remove this hitherto irreprehensible character from office, recover the reins of Government, and assume their mad career.—But fellow-citizens, I hope your vigilance will repel and defeat all their diabolical machinations, and that you will choose such Electors as are resolved to sustain the present mild and equal government.

DUPUIS, 28th Sept. 1804.
Dear Sir, ENCLOSED is a copy of a letter I wrote Gen. Ashe, proposing a compromise respecting the Election for Elector, which you will please to publish in your Gazette; and also renew my Address on that subject. I am, Sir, with esteem, Your most obedient servant, D. GLISSON.

Mr. A. Hall.
Duplin, 13th July, 1804.

DEAR SIR, WHEN I addressed myself to the voters of our Electoral District, as a candidate for Elector, I had no knowledge of your intention of becoming a candidate for that appointment: if I had, I would not have offered, as I by no means wish a contention. I was urged by some of my friends, to address myself to the District at an early period, and declare who I intended to vote for, as probably that would prevent an opposition on the republican side.—I did so on the 2d of February. Some time in March, I saw the proceedings of the Republican Society, where they held a meeting up to the people as the most proper person to fill that place.

Now, Sir, as I offered first, I do not like to decline for no other reason, but because another person has come forward to do the same work that I myself had set out to do; I would sooner poll and lose my election.

But, Sir, I am willing to cast lots which of us shall decline; and should such a compromise take place, I sincerely wish you to be the successful candidate; for then I will decline, and with great pleasure exert my interest in your favor. I hope you will write me on the subject as soon as you conveniently can, as I have no wish to contend, if I could decline on any terms that would reconcile my feelings.

I am, Dear Sir, With sentiments of the highest respect, Your most obedient humble servant, D. GLISSON.
The late Hon. Samuel Ashe, Esq.

The original, of which this is a true copy, was delivered by myself to Maj. Saml Ashe, on the 18th of July last, which he promised to deliver to Mr. Ashe, from whom I have received no answer. D. G.

To the Voters in the Counties comprising the District of Wilmington and Sampson County.

GENTLEMEN AND FELLOW CITIZENS, AS the election for electing an Elector to vote for a President and Vice-President of the United States is approaching, I take the liberty of presenting you with this Address, to inform you that I am a Candidate for that important appointment. And believing, as I do, that the present Administration of the United States is pure, and calculated to secure the rights, liberties and true interests of its citizens; should I be honored with a majority of your suffrages, I pledge my honor to vote for THOMAS JEFFERSON, to be President of the United States.

As for Vice-President, I am not prepared at this time to say who I will vote for; as the gentlemen who will be candidates for that office are not yet known.

I am, Gentlemen, Your most obedient Humble servant, D. GLISSON.

100 Dollars Reward.

RUN away from the subscriber living in York District, South-Carolina, about the last of July, a handsome Muscato Boy, about fifteen or sixteen years o'd, has a remarkable scar on his right cheek. He was seen in Mecklenburg County, N. C. about the first inst. inquiring for Saltbury, and was taken up, but by his ingenuity made his escape. He is badly clothed, having lost his clothes when he was taken—he was a hair neatly trimmed and longer before, which he curls. He has pulled a freeman, lying by was a French Barber, and that he was lately from Charleston. He is very ferocious and artful, and it is expected he will stir for Baltimore or some seaport to get a passage to the West-Indies. He was seen in this town on Tuesday last, near the Methodist Church—he has feigned himself to be the property of Mr. Hill, of this town. Any person taking up the above described fellow, and delivering him to me in York-District, S. C. or if he cure him, thil receive the above reward. All matters of vessels are forbid carrying him off, unless I have first underfoot that the boy can write, and has papers to prove him. WILLIAM SMITH. Wilmington, August 26, 1804. 3m

Ten Dollars Reward,

AND ALL REASONABLE CHARGES WILL be paid for taking up and delivering to me, or securing in jail so that I get him, my negro man SAM, who ran away on the 25th inst. He is about 6 feet 8 inches high, very black, thin made, and all his toes were burnt off when a child. He had on when he ran away, a house-lin shirt and mixed hosen/pan overall. All matters of vessels and others are cautioned against harboring, employing or carrying him away. R. C. FARR. New-Hanover County, Sept. 20 1804. 403 ff
