The details lately given in the French papers, respecting the conduct of Mr. Armand, the English minister, on his arrival at Lyons, are stated to be (what was not doubted by any man possessing common sense) sheer fabrications.

It appears that the Emperor entertains serious apprehensions of a Civil War. The Corsicans of France for the year 1804, are called upon without exception—even bodily liberty is not allowed to be an excuse for not interfering with them.

The French troops of the Hague have been suddenly ordered to return to France.

A letter had been received at the British Admiralty, from Commodore Hood, enclosing a list of above thirty captures during the preceding six months.

The Dutch Government has suspended the payment of the indemnities to the Prince of Orange. The reason for this unprincipled measure has been stated:—Admiral Verbeke, by order of Bonaparte, has seized the money provided by the Dutch Government for those indemnities, and appropriated it to the payment of the French troops in Holland.

A London date of September 13, says: The following extraordinary intelligence has been received from Bilbao, by a merchant of Liverpool, in a letter dated Bilbao, August 18:—There exists a kind of revolution in the town of Bilbao, 300 men are in arms, and have seized the Corregidor and several Spanish Gentlemen who had placed under government, and put them into prison. To what extent the matter may be carried is uncertain, but as yet there has not been any blood shed.

Two days later. Since preparing the above, we have been favoured with a London paper of the 15th ult. received by the Mississippi, from which the following articles are extracted:

Two Gottenburgh mails arrived yesterday. The Emperor of Russia pushes on his military preparations with unceasing activity. Almost the whole of his army has been inspected by himself in person, and he was lately to review a body of 60,000 troops in the neighborhood of Peterburgh. It is said that the Courier which came over with the mail brought important dispatches from Sir John B. Warren to the Secretary for the Foreign Department.

The King of Prussia has recognized the Emperor of Austria. As that title was not to be expected, considering the liberal political relations between France and Prussia, that any objection should be raised against it by the Court of Berlin.

There was a vague rumour in Holland, that the King of Spain intended to assume the Imperial purple, and that the Corsican meant to create himself King of Lombardy.

The smaller French Journals, which we have received to the 5th inst. mention, on the authority of intelligence from Milan, that an embargo has been laid at Leghorn, and all the Austrian ports, upon the Russian and Swedish ships. Although this is given as a report, we see no reason to disbelieve it totally. It is in that quarter certainly where the greatest injury could be inflicted upon the property of the subjects of his Swedish Majesty.

The Neutral ships are rapidly quitting the ports of France and Holland. The apprehension of a general embargo is assigned as the motive for their sudden departure. Upwards of 20 have come out of the bay of Biscay alone, several of which have been detained and sent into Dover by the English cruisers.

All goods imported require a certificate of origin, to prove they are not the produce of British Colonies or of British manufactures, without which, the value must be re-exported in French manufactured dry goods.

We learn by our latest news from the Mediterranean, that Commodore Preble has been before Tripoli several days with his squadron; but had not been able to attempt any thing on account of bad weather.

Newswax, October 26. Last Tuesday arrived here from Philadelphia the schooner Matilda, capt. David Wallace. On the 19th inst. off Chincoteague in 17 fathoms water, fell in with a number of pieces of wreck, amongst the rest, part of a writing desk, containing a number of papers, almost entirely defaced by the water. It was discovered from such as could be read, that they came from the sch'r Sally, capt. Wm. Morrison, of Philadelphia, from Demerara, bound home; part of the invoices and the clearance was preserved and may be had by applying at this office.

Capt. Wallace, in coming down the Delaware, off Reedy Island, spoke the Revenue Cutter, who informed him, that the schooner Columbia, capt. Merrill of this port, bound to New-York, had put in there in distress, having lost her captain overboard.

The sch'r Resolution, Capt. Bettner, arrived here Saturday last.

Left Basseterre, Guadalupe, Oct. 1, 1804. On the 26th Sept. the French Privateer ship the Grand Detelle, Capt. Goy, off said Island, mounting 22 guns, arrived at Point a Pitre from a Cruise to windward of Barbadoes, having taken an English Guineaman of 20 guns and 340 slaves, the Princess Royal, a government brig of Barbadoes of 14 guns, and a small sch'r called the Demerara Packet.—The privateer had taken out of the Guineaman 20 prime slaves, with which she arrived in Point a Pitre, the sch'r had also arrived at the same place. The Guineamen and Brig had not arrived previous to capt. B's sailing.

At the moment of capt. B's making ready to sail, arrived in Basseterre roads, the French privateer ship, La Dame Ambert, capt. Lamarque, of said island, mounting 16 twelve pound cannonades, with two prize ships the Ann and Diana, of Liverpool, under convoy, both armed Guineamen, one of 22, the other of 18 guns, having together 545 slaves, capt. Lamarque fell in with the two ships about 100 leagues to windward of Barbadoes, and engaged them both at the same time, having boarded one, the other attempted to escape, but the privateer immediately pursued and shortly came up with her. This was formerly the duke of Marlborough packet, and the same ship which took his Britannick Majesty's sloop of war the Lilly, capt. Compton.

FRIENDS and FELLOW-CITIZENS, Voters in the District of Wilmington for an Elector of President and Vice-President of the United States, UNACUSTOMED to solicit for offices and appointments, I address you, I fear, awkwardly, and perhaps unpleasantly to some; but in the language of plain and simple Truth, Oppressed with the weight of age, and tired with more than fifty years bustle in public life, I had retired to the quiet shade of my own vine and fig tree, under the determination not again to intermeddle in public business; but with my wishes still warm and my heart still glowing for the welfare of a country that gave me birth, that sustained me, and to which I am attached by every tie that can bind the human heart. From this retirement I have been called forth by some of my respectable fellow-citizens, to proffer my service in the essential duty of an Elector of President and Vice-President of the United States.

Unable to repress my feelings, I could not withhold my consent—I therefore step forward, and now offer myself a candidate for the office of Elector for the District of Wilmington.

I trust I need not say any thing of my political principles—they have been known from our earliest revolutionary struggle—they have been uniform. My sentiments of the present administration are equally known.—I ever disdained concealment and disguise. It is an administration I wish to continue for the happiness of my fellow-citizens.

During the Presidency of our late beloved Washington, our fellow-citizens throughout the United States, appeared to harmonize; discord dared not show her forked tongue.—His few errors were of the head, the frailties of nature never reached his heart; but alas! he was too soon removed from among us; and another of different character, temper, principles and views, succeeded. Despising the plain and simple garb of Democracy, he was ambitious, aspiring, intriguing, and reaching after the tinsel trappings of Royalty. Under him the old offices of government, with new ones created, and Congress, the great Council of the Nation, were filling with similar characters—these held their caucuses and conspired the destruction of our happy constitution—they drove with the rapidity of Jehu & the wildness of Phaeton. The Nation saw the danger, was alarmed, and by its commanding voice checked them in their wild career, hurried them from their seats; and wisely committed its political concerns to the known experience and inflexible integrity of a JEFFERSON; under whose administration every citizen has enjoyed peace and prosperity—his rights, privileges and property have been secured. Notwithstanding which there is a set of men (a faction) tho' foiled and defeated, who do not despair, but incessantly labour by all the scurrility, abuse and misrepresentation that malignancy and falsehood can possibly invent, to remove this hitherto irreprehensible character from office, recover the reins of Government, and assume their mad career.—But fellow-citizens, I hope your vigilance will repel and defeat all their diabolical machinations, and that you will choose such Electors as are resolved to sustain the present mild and equal government.

DUBLIN, 28th Sept. 1804. Dear Sir, ENCLOSED is a copy of a letter I wrote Gen. ASHE, proposing a compromise respecting the Election for Elector, which you will please to publish in your Gazette; and also renew my Address on that subject.

I am, Sir, with esteem, Your most obedient serv't, D. GLISSON.

Mr. A. Hall, (copy) Dublin, 13th July, 1804.

DEAR SIR, WHEN I addressed myself to the voters of our Electoral District, as a candidate for Elector, I had no knowledge of your intention of becoming a candidate for that appointment: if I had, I would not have offered, as I by no means wish a contention. I was urged by some of my friends, to address myself to the District at an early period, and declare who I intended to vote for, as probably that would prevent an opposition on the republican side.—I did so on the 2d of February. Some time in March, I saw the proceedings of the Republican Society, where they held you up to the people as the most proper person to fill that place.

Now, Sir, as I offered first, I do not like to decline for no other reason, but because another person has come forward to do the same work that I myself had set out to do; I would sooner poll and lose my election.

But, Sir, I am willing to cast lots which of us shall decline; and should such a compromise take place, I sincerely wish you to be the successful candidate; for then I will decline, and with great pleasure exert my interest in your favor. I hope you will write me on the subject as soon as you conveniently can, as I have no wish to contend, if I could decline on any terms that would reconcile my feelings.

I am, Dear Sir, With sentiments of the highest respect, Your most obedient humble serv't, D. GLISSON.

The late Hon. Samuel Ashe, Esq.

To the Voters in the Counties composing the District of Wilmington and Anson County. GENTLEMEN AND FELLOW CITIZENS; AS the election for electing an elector to vote for a President and Vice-President of the United States is approaching; I take the liberty of presenting you with this Address, to inform you that I am a Candidate for that important appointment. And believing, as I do, that the present Administration of the United States is pure, and calculated to secure the rights, liberties and true interests of its citizens; should I be honored with a majority of your suffrages, I pledge my honor to vote for THOMAS JEFFERSON, to be President of the United States.

As for Vice-President, I am not prepared at this time to say who I will vote for; as the gentlemen who will be candidates for that office are not yet known.

I am, Gentlemen, Your most obedient Humble servant; D. GLISSON. Duplin, Feb. 2, 1804. 71
