

Intelligence comes by a vessel thence direct, arrived not two hours since.—Balt. E. Post.

Extract of a letter received by a gentleman in Philadelphia, from his correspondent at St. Johns, Porto Rico, dated May 22, 1805.

"A Spanish armed brig arrived here the 19th, in 30 days from Cadiz: She sailed in company with a Spanish and French fleet, of 12 sail of the line and 6 frigates, destined for the West-Indies.

"She left the fleet ten days previous to her arrival here all well."

NEW-YORK, June 10.

The ship John Morgan, Howard, arrived on Saturday in 35 days from Liverpool, brings London papers to the 1st of May. By these we see that intelligence of the sailing of the Toulon fleet was received in that metropolis on the 26th April. The conjectures relative to its object were various. Nine French gun-boats have been captured by the British squadron off Boulogne, and on board of them commodore Nooy, chef de division, with two members of Buonaparte's legion of honor, and part of the 51st and 61st demi-brigades. The king of Spain has formally recognized Buonaparte as king of Italy.

A letter from Liverpool, dated the 3d of May, received by the John Morgan, says—"Upland Cotton is this day sold at 18d. and, from present appearances, we should not be surprised to see it at 16d. shortly."

NEW-YORK, June 11.

No. 17199, drawn yesterday, a prize of 25,000 dollars, was sold by C. & R. Waite, at the Permanent Lottery Offices and Book Stores, No. 64, and No. 33, Maiden-lane, to a gentleman in Maryland.—Also, No. 3978, drawn a prize of 1,000 dollars, same day, was sold by C. & R. Waite, to a gentleman at Washington, North-Carolina.

June 14.

The ship from Savannah, and sloop from St. Bartholomew, were both boarded off the Hook by the British ship of war Leander.

By the sloop Dove Capt. Hatch from St. Bartholomew, we learn, that the Toulon and Spanish fleets, consisting of 18 ships of the line, and 10 frigates, having on board 13,000 troops had arrived at Martinique—that several French ships of war were seen off St. Lucia, in consequence of which the British shipping in that port slipped out, and that one of them arrived at St. Bartholomew.

A letter of the 28th ult. from St. Bartholomew, by the above sloop says, "Guadaloupe has been embargoed these ten days, in consequence of the arrival of another French squadron, with a strong armed force. They have just commenced active operations, which appears by a vessel arrived here from St. Lucia yesterday, first to be directed against that island. As there is at present no English force in this country to cope with them, it is generally believed that they will attempt the whole English Colonies.—The embargo is at present general in all the islands, & under the circumstances mentioned, it may be expected to remain for some time."

We learn by Captain Davis from Savannah that the brig Minerva, capt. Newell, had arrived there in 18 days from Falmouth, with information of the arrival of the above squadrons to windward; in consequence of which martial law was proclaimed, and an embargo was to be laid the day after his departure. [The arrival of this fleet could not have been known at Jamaica when capt. Newell sailed—but dispatches may have been received announcing their escape from Toulon, and the probability of their going to the West-Indies.]

Capt. Stanton arrived at Alexandria from St. Bartholomew, informs that the squadron from Toulon, on their passage, captured the British sloop of war Cayenne.

Capt. Fowler, of the brig Jane, arrived yesterday from St. Croix, informs that accounts had been received there from Grenada, brought by Mr. Cooper, a respectable resident at St. Croix, that seventeen sail of French line of battle ships, ten frigates and other vessels, with twenty thousand troops on board, had arrived at Martinique from Cadiz; and that two or three days afterwards (about the 25th of May) this report was confirmed by capt. Fairchild, of the brig James of New-Haven, who arrived at St. Croix in 48 hours from Dominica, with this addition, that the day before his departure he saw four sail of the line and two transports pass Dominica, steering to the northward. This intelligence, captain Fowler informs us, obtained general belief at St. Croix.

Capt. Graham in 14 days from Tortola, informs us that while he was getting under way the British sloop of war Heureux, capt. Young, husband, came off the harbour, hoisted signals & fired several guns. He then hoisted out his boat with the intention of going on shore, but was met by another from the garrison, to whom he delivered some dispatches, and then returned to his ship, which made sail immediately. On this, all the British merchant vessels made instant preparations for their departure, and three or four of them had got out of the harbour while capt. G. was in sight. An express had arrived at Tortola three days before capt. G. sailed, with intelligence that a French and Spanish fleet, consisting of 16 or 17 sail of the line, had arrived to windward of that island; that a frigate in 19 days from England had brought important dispatches to Barbadoes; and that Lord Nelson with the whole of his fleet was on his way to the West-Indies.—Mer. PHILADELPHIA, June 10.

Highly Important!

We can inform our readers from the best authority, that the Marquis De Casa Yrujo has lately received direct information from the Governor of Porto Rico, of the arrival at that port of a small armed vessel from Cadiz which sailed in company with a combined French and Spanish fleet; this vessel left the fleet in about 18 degrees of latitude, and was composed of twelve French line of battle ships and three frigates, and of six Spanish line of battle ships and a large frigate. This fleet had on board 10,000 regular troops, although there was not a single transport with them. The squadron is commanded by the Spanish admiral Gravina, lately ambassador from Spain near the court of the Emperor of the French.

IMPORTANT.

In confirmation of an article under the New-York head relative to American claims on Spain, we have it in our power to state, that information of an important nature has been received in this city from Madrid, corroborating the account that none of those claims would be paid; and that discussions of so serious a nature had taken place between the Spanish court and our ambassador, as rendered it probable that the latter would speedily retire from that kingdom.

Washington City, June 15.

According to authentic information, it was not certainly known at Paris on the 2d April last, when the bills in payment of claims covered by the Louisiana convention would be drawn, but the commencement of the draughts was expected to take place with very little delay. On this point, therefore, the intelligence brought by the Alligator, as published in the New-York Gazette, is incorrect; and there is little room to doubt that it is so in some other prints.

John Le Tellier,
DENTIST,

INTENDS visiting Wilmington in the course of four or five weeks, at which time he will offer his services to the inhabitants and its vicinity, in the various branches of his profession, particularly in CLEANSING and RESTORING the TEETH to their natural elegance, with instruments that cannot injure the enamel. In transplanting real teeth, so as to be permanent, and setting artificial ones with ivory, that will not change to an unnatural color; in plugging hollow teeth, and reinserting those with the gums that are much depreciated by carelessness, or corroding medicine, and extractions such as are too far gone to save; in which operation of extracting he makes use of BRUFF'S Patent Perpendicular Extracting Instruments,

Which take the teeth out with a much greater degree of less pain, than any other instrument hitherto invented; fastens those that are loose, (nails walled at the roots) regulates them from their cutting in children, assists nature in the beautiful arrangement of the second set, and preserves them in their natural whiteness, entirely free from all morbid complaints.

To know if your teeth want cleaning, examine them before a glass in a clear light, beginning at the two middle front teeth of the lower jaw; if the gums are departing from their former place, or a black or yellow crust adhering to the teeth, you have cause of alarm, as that corrosive substance called tartar, will cause an offensive breath, decay the teeth, produce fever, or consume the gums and bony parts till the teeth drop out.

N. B. He has DENTRIFICE of a superior quality for sale.
June 25, 1805.

CERTIFICATE.

Mr. LE TELLIER makes use of the proper method of cleaning the TEETH, without injuring the enamel, and is authorized by me to use the Patent Perpendicular Extracting Instruments in all places where the right is not disposed of, and not within fifty miles of Wilmington City, the place of my residence.
