

forenoon, on a state warrant, issued by the Mayor—we think it proper barely to state, that the editor was brought up at five o'clock the same evening before the chief justice; when the attorney general (Mr. Kean) being absent, the hearing was postponed to 3 o'clock on Friday evening (yesterday) and after hearing Mr. W. Franklin on the part of the editor and the attorney general Mr. Kean on the part of the Chevalier Yrujo—the chief justice postponed the decision on the habeas corpus to Monday next, at 10 o'clock in the morning.

The merits of the question it would be indecorous to discuss at this time—after the affair shall be decided a statement of the whole transaction shall be given—as there are many erroneous reports afloat on the subject, some of them evidently contrived for electioneering purposes, our readers are requested to be cautious what they credit on the subject.

We understand that Wm. Duane, Editor of the Aurora, has been discharged from jail by the Chief Justice on a habeas corpus. He was committed for refusing to find surety for his good behavior on a conviction for a libel. This decision is in direct opposition to that of C. J. M'Kean, in the case of Cobbett. We are informed that the Chief Justice said, that there would have been no doubt in his mind, of the propriety of discharging the prisoner, but for the decision of the supreme court in the case alluded to, and notwithstanding that, he thought it his duty to decide as he has done.—[True Am.]

We learn with great satisfaction, that by the vigilance of the officers of the customs in this port, a large vessel, laden with military stores, and which it is said was to carry a considerable number of men to the West-Indies, have been seized, when under sail on her passage outward—she is now in the hands of the government and we trust that the law will be enforced, whoever may be the owners. The names of the owners we have not yet learned, nor whether she was destined to aid Miranda or the brigand emperor.

Aurora.

The United States' brig Hornet, has arrived in the Delaware, in 60 days from Gibraltar.

The new administration of England seem honestly determined to abolish the slave trade, and closely investigate the financial abuses of their predecessors, and by due checks, as much as possible in the present situation of affairs, prevent a repetition thereof. So far so good. But why hear we nothing of Reform. Catholic emancipation, annihilation of tythes, &c. objects which have so often been supported by the eloquence of Fox, Sheridan and Grey. If England be indeed fighting for her exister, those would prove her best recruiting officers; without them her poor and abject subjects can have nothing to fight for. Many thousands in that country eat not animal food by the week together, and they will exclaim "it matters not to us who governs, we cannot be worse off than we are." (Alex. Exps.)

A new incident in the forgery of a will has lately occurred, which would have done honor to the brilliant invention of a Barrington; the trick of putting and guiding the pen in the dead man's hand, was not sufficient to satisfy the conscience of the parties; it became absolutely necessary to swear that there was life in him; and a live fly was actually put into the mouth of the corpse, in order that they might safely swear to the fact.

TAXES.

THE subscriber gives notice that he is ready to receive the Taxes for the year 1805, and will attend regularly at his office, (the upper part of Mr. Langdon's Store,) to receive the same—as it is well known he is bound to settle with the Treasurer on the first of October, which is a very short period from hence, he hopes that will be a sufficient apology for his calling so early for the Taxes, as also for the Store Tax, Liquor Tax, & Tax on Billiard Tables, & at the same time to say that it is absolutely necessary that the public Tax, or that part of it that goes into the Public Treasury, be paid immediately. He flatters himself that the Citizens of New-Hanover will enable their Sheriff to comply with the law with credit, which will very particularly oblige
