Female Education, WARRENTON.

THE semi-annual Examination of the Pupils at this School, commenced on Wednesday the 27th inst. at which Alexander Falconer, Esq. & Mr. William Crawford, V. C. of the Warrenton Academy, presided; it was attended by a numerous company of Ladies and Gentlemen of the first respectability.

The Exercises of the Scholars, in Spelling, Reading, Grammar and Parsing, History, Geography, and the use of the Celestial and Terrestrial Globes, occupied the two first days.—The Compositions of four young Ladies, Miss Henderson, of Granville, and Miss Blake, of Petersburg, together with Valedictories by Miss Sigcaves, of Halifax, and Miss Plummer, of Warrenton, were read.

The third day was devoted to a Musical Exhibition by the Pupils of Mr. Miller, who likewise displayed specimens of their progress in the art of Drawing and Painting.

At the close of the second day, Mr. Falconer in behalf of himself and Mr. Crawford, delivered to the Young Ladies a handsome and impressive address, from which the following is an extract:—

"Your Examination has been long, strict and impartial, and we with pleasure pronounce that you have acquitted yourselves in a manner which merits the greatest applause: You read with ease and emphasis, your knowledge of the English Grammar and Parsing is ready and accurate, and with a knowledge of the Rules you combine Judgment; in Geography, History, the use of the Globes and Composition, you have discovered a proficiency which can only be the result of the greatest application."

The following Certificate has been handed to me, which is annexed for the information of those disposed to encourage this Institution.

JACOB MOHDECAL
June 30, 1810.

We, the undersigned, Parents, Guardians and others, who attended the Examination of the Young Ladies, under the care of Mr. Mohdecal, as well as the Musical performances of those under the immediate instruction of Mr. Miller, cannot deny ourselves the gratification of thus publicly expressing the satisfaction which their improvement has afforded us. From the celebrity of the school our expectations were by no means moderate; they have however been not only equalled, but surpassed. Through the course of a long and very strict examination, the young Ladies acquitted themselves in a manner which, while it reflects honour on their own diligence, evinces the abilities and unremitting attention of their several Preceptors; and we should be wanting in justice to their merits, did we not assure them of our unqualified approbation.

THE Subscribers wish to inform their friends, customers, and the public in general, that they have this year the management of the Ferry crossing Roanok, at the place well known by the name of HASKINS & MITCHELL'S Ferry, on the main road leading to Petersburg and Richmond. They have good boats sufficiently large to carry a wagon and his load of tobacco, both teams at once, or three horse-loads; and ferry-men sufficient to manage them. David Mitchell, one of the subscribers, who now has the management, pledges himself that due attention shall be paid, and every exertion will be made to give general satisfaction; at which place as great dispatch will be used as at any other Ferry on Roanok. They solicit the continuation of their friends' patronage.

TEN DOLLARS REWARD. STOLEN

FROM the Subscriber, a GRAY HORSE, about four feet 8 or 10 inches high, 6 years old last spring. He is a little hip-shot, I think on the farther side. It is presumed he was taken by two young men who absconded from the neighbourhood of this place at the time he was missing. The men are small and slender made, and subject to get intoxicated with spirits. Their names I forbear to mention at this time—they are supposed to have gone to the Western Country, and it is not improbable they will sell or exchange the horse by the way. I therefore beg the attention of every honest and honourable person to observe if they can see a horse of the above description, and if they will write me by post to Raleigh, I will come or send and satisfy the above reward and all necessary charges.

All prizes not demanded within 12 months after drawing will be considered relinquished for the benefit of the institutions.

The above Lottery is authorized by an act of the Legislature of North Carolina, for the purpose of enabling the Trustees of the NEWTON ACADEMY near the town of Ashterville, to complete the necessary buildings belonging to the same—and also to establish a Female Academy in the town of Ashterville.

Which two objects the Trustees and Managers flatter themselves will be a sufficient inducement, independent of the flattering prospect held out in the above SCHEME, to influence all zealous friends to useful institutions, to become liberal purchasers of tickets.—And they deem it unnecessary to expatiate largely in contrasting the advantages these institutions may have (if well supported with friends) over most other Seminaries.—For it is now very generally known that Ashterville is one of the most healthy situations on this continent—and lying in the neighbourhood of the Warm Springs, and on the main road from thence, (as well as from the Western to the Southern States) is more generally resorted to by the best characters of both sexes during Summer and Autumn, (for the benefit of health) than almost any other place in the Southern section of the Union.—And being also a place where board and Tuition are had on very moderate terms.—Where the Youths of the sister states will lay the foundation of sound constitutions together with their Educations, and receive the visits of their friends to and from the Warm Springs.—All these advantages united bear evident testimony of the eligibility of Ashterville as a seat for Literary Institutions.—And therefore on these self-evident grounds, we respectfully solicit the public patronage.

GOOD WRITING PAPER FOR SALE AT THE STAR OFFICE.

JUST PUBLISHED, AND FOR SALE AT THIS OFFICE, RUDDIMAN'S LATIN GRAMMAR.

TO which is added a concise and highly approved system of Latin Prosody taught in the University, and the Academies of this state, and at various other places.—Price 60 Cents single.

It is believed that this Edition, in point of correctness is not inferior to any which has been published in America. The Prosody above mentioned, does unquestionably increase the value of the book, and give it preference to all other editions, because they, in this respect, are all greatly defective.

Booksellers and others, who may wish to purchase may be supplied with any number of copies, either bound or in sheets, upon as good terms as they can be purchased in New-York or Philadelphia.

Raleigh June 7.

Fifty Dollars Reward.

RAN-AWAY from the Subscriber on the 11th of September, 1809, a valuable fellow named JIM. He is large and likely, about five feet eleven inches high, and aged thirty-five. His face is overrun with marks of the Small Pox, and on one side of his nose (the right side I believe) there is a scar occasioned by the kick of a horse. When he ran away from me he carried with him a Bay Mare. Jim can read and write and I expect he will pass himself for a free man. I suspect he has gone to Wilmington, having connections there. Any person who will deliver this boy into my possession shall receive Fifty Dollars, and Twenty-Five if he is secured in any jail.

DEBATE.

On the Reduction of the Naval Establishment of the United States.
APRIL 25, 1810.

MR. RANDOLPH said on recurring to the documents he found the price of the ration in 1800 to have been 28 cents, whilst in the last year it was but 20; so that rations were now nearly a third cheaper than they were nine years ago, and the difference in the expenses of the naval establishment was therefore the more unaccountable. I had also taken it for granted, said Mr. R. that my colleague was right in his statement of the seamen's wages being eight dollars per month. But, sir, here is a statement on the subject—and I only wish that in the estimate of last year we had the same valuable details as there are in the estimate of the year 1800—for the estimate in relation to the navy department for the last year is most shamefully deficient, as I could demonstrate if the house had time and patience and I had lungs. I find that there is in this estimate of 1800 a minute and detailed statement of every item of expence. Instead of the wages being eight dollars then and twelve now, as my colleague has been told, the pay was then for a able bodied seamen seventeen dollars per month, ordinary seamen twelve, and boys eight; so that this saving in the pay does not account for the monstrous difference. I have not time to examine into the article of duck, but I believe the gentleman's duck will not swim any more than the rest of his arguments.

I trust, sir, that the House will not agree to the report of the committee for this reason.—Referring to these documents, I discover that in 1800, when we had nearly 8000 seamen, we had 890 marines; and in the year 1809 when we have only 2700 seamen employed, we have agreeably to estimate precisely the same number of 890 marines. It would appear that something has taken place to render this species of force peculiarly valuable, or that these gentlemen possess a very successful art of keeping in, or not going out with others.—And, sir, when I recollect the statements which I have heard on this floor and the sources whence some of them have probably been derived, I am not at all surprised that this navy yard and this Pratorian camp, and every thing connected with it should keep up the old height when every thing else has diminished. Eight hundred and ninety men! Call them nine hundred, and you have one marine for every three seamen. I have no doubt, if the House act on the principle on which they have done heretofore, that we shall have very polite assurances that these men are of the greatest imaginable service and have wrought wonders in defence of the country, but I cannot for my soul understand how this species of force goes to quiet the mind of my colleague or of his constituents on the Chesapeake.

I have done my duty on this subject, sir.—From whatever motive, of that motive I am a
