Lands for sale in Orange.

THE subscriber, intending to remove to the state of Kentucky in the fall, offers for sale his lands lying in the County of Orange. There are in one body between 4 and 5000 acres lying on both sides of Little River, and in the fork of Little River and Enno. A considerable portion of these lands is low grounds, equal to any in this part of the State, and well adapted to the culture of corn, wheat, rye, oats, and tobacco. The upland is generally of a free, lively quality, well suited to the production of all species of grain common to this climate, and considerable portions of it well calculated for the growth of cotton and tobacco. On these lands, there are several good plantations, situated on Little River, and Enno, which would readily admit of divisions from each other so as to suit the convenience of different purchasers. The seat whereon the subscriber now resides, called Snow Hill, and included in the above mentioned body of lands, is perhaps surpassed by none in this part of the state for fertility of soil, elegance of situation, and extent and variety of prospect. It is not deemed necessary to state further the advantages which these lands possess, as it is presumed no one would wish to purchase without first viewing them. They lie fourteen miles to the East of Hillsborough, and the main road running thence to Petersburg, passes through them for a considerable extent.

The subscriber offers for sale also one tract of land lying 8 miles to the East of Hillsborough, adjoining the lands of William Cain. This tract contains between 4 & 500 acres, is all upland of excellent quality, and has upon it a large plantation. The payments will be made easy to purchasers, by giving convenient, and reasonable credits, and taking in part likely young Negroes of good family.

Snow Hill, April 23th, 1812. WALTER ALVES.

P. S. Kentucky Lands well situated, will be taken in part by way of exchange.

FROM the Subscriber on the 21st inst. a Negro man by the name of HARRY, about twenty or thirty years old, spare made, and very black. When he ran off he was very indifferently clothed. One of which places I think it is most probable he will endeavor to get to. I will give a reasonable reward to any person who will bring said Negro to me, or secure him so that I get him again.

JAMES MADISON.
May 26, 1812.

CORRESPONDENCE.

MR. MONROE, SECRETARY OF STATE, TO JOEL BARLOW, ESQ.

Department of State, July 26, 1811.

Sir—It is the desire of the President, that you should set out without delay, for Paris, to commence the duties of the office of minister plenipotentiary to the Emperor of France, with which you are invested. A frigate, prepared for your accommodation, will receive you at Annapolis, and convey you to the most convenient port of that country. I enclose you a commission and letter of credence, with such other documents as are necessary to illustrate the subjects on which you will have to act.

With the ordinary duties of the office you are too well acquainted to require any comment on them in this letter. There are, however, some subjects of peculiar importance which will claim your attention immediately after your reception. On these it is proper that you should know distinctly the sentiments of the President.

The United States have claims on France, which it is expected that her government will satisfy to their full extent and without delay. These are founded, partly on the late arrangement, by which the non-importation law of the 1st May, 1810, was carried into effect against G. B. and partly on injuries to their commerce, committed on the high seas and in French ports.

To form a just estimate of the claims of the first class, it is necessary to examine, minutely their nature and extent. The present is a proper time to make this examination and to press a compliance with the arrangement in every circumstance, on its just principles, on the government of France. The President, conscious that the United States have performed every act that was stipulated on their part, with the most perfect good faith, expects a like performance on the part of France. He considers it peculiarly incumbent on him to request such explanations from her government, as will dissipate all doubts of what he may expect from it in future, on this and every other question depending between the two nations.

By the act of May 1st, 1810, it was declared, that in case Great Britain or France should, before the 23d day of March, 1811, so revoke or modify her edicts as that they should cease to violate the neutral commerce of the United States, which fact the President should declare by proclamation; and if the other nation should not, within three months thereafter, revoke or modify its edicts in like manner, then the 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10th and 18th sections of the act, entitled "An act to interfere the commercial intercourse between the United States and Great Britain and France, &c." should, from and after the expiration of three months, from the date of the proclamation aforesaid, be revived, and have full force and effect, so far as relate to the dominions, colonies and dependencies, and to the articles the growth, produce or manufacture of the dominions, colonies and dependencies of the nation thus refusing or neglecting to revoke or modify its edicts, in the manner aforesaid.

This act having been promulgated and made known to the government of Great Britain and France, the minister of the latter, by note, bearing date on the 30th August, 1810, addressed to the minister plenipotentiary of the U. S. at Paris, declared that the Decrees of Berlin & Milan were revoked, the revocation to take effect on the 1st of November following; but that this measure was adopted in compliance with the law of 1st May, 1810, to take advantage of the condition contained in it, and in full confidence that that condition would be enforced against G. Britain, if she did not revoke her orders in council, and renounce the new principles of blockade.

This declaration of the Emperor of France was considered a sufficient ground for the President to act on; it was explicit as to its object and equally so as to its import. The decrees of Berlin and Milan, which had vio-
