

The Editors of the Raleigh News-Papers TO THE PUBLIC

THE Editors of the News-papers published in Raleigh, having experienced great inconvenience and losses from forwarding their papers to strangers without having received the stipulated payment in advance, and from giving credit to those who were not subscribers in general, find it absolutely necessary to make some arrangements, in order to enable them to conduct their business to any advantage. They have therefore determined...

That after the 1st of September next, no subscriber to any of their papers will be received, without payment of at least half a year in advance.

That, in future, payments from all subscribers will be required annually. In case of a failure of payment within three months after the expiration of the year (notice having been previously given of such expiration) the paper of every such delinquent shall be discontinued.

That all arrears at present due for newspapers are expected to be paid, or secured, at or before the close of the present year: in cases of failure, the delinquent subscribers will be struck off the list, and their amounts put into a train for immediate settlement.

That payment is expected in all cases with advertisements when sent for publication.

The Publishers hope that these regulations will not be taken amiss by any of their friends: That part of their papers who have always been punctual in their payments, (and to whom they consider themselves greatly obliged) will not be affected by them; those who have been inattentive to regular payments, principally, perhaps, from the insignificance of the amount, will see the necessity of the course now adopted, when they are informed that the proprietors of each of the Raleigh papers have several thousand dollars owing in small sums so scattered over the state that they find it impossible to collect them. Respecting that class of citizens who never intend to pay (and it is feared there are some of this description) the power their names are struck off the Printers Books, the better. Three dollars is a trifle to each subscriber; but when a Printer has a large number of subscribers, in arrears, not only for one, two or three, but for six, ten and twelve years, the outstanding debt operates a serious inconvenience to him in the management of his business. It is to remedy this inconvenience, if possible, that the Printers have entered into these joint regulations.

Five Dollars Reward.

DEPARTED from this Post on Saturday the 25th July JOHN CLANTON, a Soldier in the Army of the U. States, aged 35 years, 5 feet 4 and a quarter inches high, dark complexion, black hair and eyes, and by profession a labourer: very eloquent and insolent, often attempts to pass himself as an idiot, when in fact is more a knave; he is very fond of liquor; and when drunk is troublesome and quarrelsome; he is stout built, had on when he left this, a suit of blue mixed broadcloth, the skirts of the coat very long, but it is probable he has changed his clothing as the last accounts received of him he was in the neighbourhood of Hamptonville, in Surry county, where he has some friends. It is probable however he will attempt to make for the State of Ohio, where I have understood his father resides. The above Reward will be paid to the said Clanton apprehended and delivered at any of the Recruiting Posts in the United States.

Raleigh, 16th July 1812.—4f 29.

Ten Dollars Reward.

RANAWAY on the 6th of April last, a boy named Aaron, who is in the habit of calling his name Frederick; he is seventeen years of age, about five feet high, has large eyes, with a bad look, and rather inclined to be bow-legged, he will probably change his name and endeavour to pass for a free boy. I will give the above reward of $10 to any person that will secure him in any Jail so that I get him again, and if delivered at my house in Warren will pay any reasonable expenses.

MICHAEL T. HAWKINS. Warren County, N. C. June 6th 1812 24-4f

Fifty Dollars Reward.

ON the 7th day of April last, my Negro Fellow NED, being at work in the Great Dismal Swamp with several other Negroes, started to look for timber, and having travelled faster than any other of the company disappeared and has not been heard of since; and I suspect has eloped from me; said Negro is about 24 or 25 years old, about 5 feet 3 or 9 inches high; of a dark complexion, of a pleasing and submissive countenance, apt to smile when spoken to; his clothes are not recollected, as he has for some years been hired out in the County of Norfolk; his father lives somewhere in Pasquotank or Perquimans Counties, in N. Carolina; & he has an uncle who has been runaway for some time. The above reward (and all reasonable expenses paid) will be given to any person, either white or black, who will give such information, deliver him to me or secure him in any Jail so that I get him again.

NOTICE.

THE Subscriber about 12 months previous to this date, purchased a Negro fellow, at the price of $400, of me Whitstone, who made his escape in such a manner as induced me from various circumstances to believe that the property was not in him. I sent an officer after him, but could not take him. Whitstone named the fellow to be Peter, but the fellow says his right name is Sam, and that he belonged to a man in Baltimore. The fellow says he was free, but this I do not believe: he is about five feet eight or nine inches high, handsome and well made, has a very notable scar on his under lip. He is now in my possession on the Yaddin river, Wilkes county, N. C.

COUNTER REVOLUTION IN VENEZUELA.

It may not be uninteresting at this period to lay before the public some particulars relative to the suppression of liberty in the province of Carraccas. The following was handed to us by a gentleman from South-America, whose situation there enabled him to learn the melancholy facts related—

Shortly after the late ever to be remembered earthquakes which are supposed to have destroyed not less than 20,000 souls, the greater part of the ecclesiastical body cried out, that it was a visitation from Heaven in consequence of disavowing allegiance to Ferdinand the 7th, and separating themselves from the old Spanish government. The influence this body holds over the minds of the people is well known to every person of intelligence.— This infatuation induced many to believe that it was actually as they represented; and they with many persons of note held correspondence not only with the government of Porto Rico, but also with the Royal troops then stationed at Coro, and commanded by Gen. Monteverde. The consequence was, that he took advantage of the distresses and fears of the patriots at a time when they were absorbed in grief for the loss of their friends and property, by marching his army into the country for the purpose of revolutionizing it, and restoring the authority of Ferdinand 7th. The invaders were joined by many influential characters who were inimical to the cause of liberty. At this important crisis, the wreck of the patriot army was immediately assembled by Congress then in session at Valencia, and the Command given to Marquis del Toro; who finding the army in want of many of the necessary articles for war, resigned his commission. The command was given to Miranda, and the army considerably reinforced with men and supplied with arms. About this date, the Congress evacuated Valencia by reason of an insurrection, which took place there; when the royal army were invited to take possession. After the fall of this city, which was heretofore strongly attached to the patriotic government, the army retreated to Mearacai, one of their best fortified posts; where the war was carried on with alternate success until the capture of the place, owing as was supposed, to the treachery or inattention of Miranda, who retreated to Victoria, without making any resistance, although it was supposed his army amounted to double the number of the enemy. Here were several skirmishes, without much success on either side.—On the 4th of July, Porto Cavallo was taken by surprise, owing to neglect of the commandant at that post, who was in the confidence of Miranda, by suffering the prisoners confined there to make their escape and take possession of one of the principal forts which commanded the city, when it surrendered to discretion! The loss of this important support to the patriots afforded pretext to Miranda for surrendering who entered into a secret armistice which led to a private capitulation on the part of the general, [Miranda,] who had usurped the civil and military government of the province; in consequence of the imbecility of the executive and Congress which were at this time dissolved.

The terms of Miranda's surrender were only made known to one or two of his particular friends. The Patriots of Carraccas were all dissatisfied with his conduct, as the spirit of the army was still unbroken; and even had he been obliged to evacuate Victoria, he could have retreated, either to Carraccas or Cumana, which places could still have been defended with success.—Every Patriot or foreigner, who had espoused the cause of liberty, rested secure to the last moment, firmly expecting that Miranda had made provision for their safety; but on finding the reverse, the most distinguished fled to Laguna for the purpose of leaving the country by taking passages on board the vessels there in the harbour which had been detained by an embargo laid on by general Miranda, on the 29th of June, which was expected to be repealed from time to time; but, on the capitulation being concluded it was continued in the name of gen. Monteverde.

General Miranda arrived at La Guira on the 30th of July with intention of immediately quitting the country, having previously shipped his baggage on board of an English schooner destined for Carraccas. He gave orders that the embargo should be forthwith repealed; but the commandant of the post replied that he had no authority to do so, and instantly made him prisoner and confined him in a dungeon in fort La Colorado; upbraiding him as a betrayer, and declaring himself (in this exigency) for Monteverde.

The Corean troops were to take possession of the place the following day, which caused every vessel in the harbour to be anxious to get off in order to escape detention by the same. At an early hour in the morning a strong guard was placed on the wharf for the purpose of preventing the further embarkation of the patriots, and orders were given to stop the departure of every vessel in the harbour, the British sloop of war Sophia (excepted which then lay at anchor in the outer roads,) until the will of Monteverde, should be known. This event determined the captain of the sloop of war to sail, when all the British and several American vessels made preparations for sailing; whereupon the batteries immediately fired on all vessels that attempted to go out, the sloop of war excepted. Several shots were fired at different vessels when an English schooner bound to St. Thomas was sunk; this event deterred the rest, and the sloop of war stood out to sea when the firing ceased.

The Corean troops took possession of the city in the evening made prisoners, of several officers of the Patriotic army, whom Miranda, and a few other distinguished patriots, whom (taken from on board the vessels then in the harbor) they marched off in Carraccas.—The next morning at 10 o'clock a royal salute was fired from the batteries, the bells rung and other evidences of joy were exhibited in honor of the restoration of the old government. Baltimore Wagon.

HALIFAX, N. S. July 31.—

This morning arrived his majesty's ship Statira, from the West Indies. A letter from an officer at St. Andrews, July 22, mentions, that they had been, with their convoy of 20 sail, within two miles of Eastport, proceeding to St. John's to collect all the ships, when they were informed of an American squadron being in Campobello, consisting of 2 frigates, 2 ships of 20 guns each, a brig, and 12 privateers just arrived. They in consequence returned to St. Andrews's, took guns from the ships to form batteries, and the Indian and Plumper are stationed to defend the entrance of the harbour.

A letter from St. John's, N. B. July 24, says: "We are informed by express of an American squadron in the bay—the John Adams, Essex, a brig, and 12 gun boats; the homeward fleet, 40 sail, have in consequence returned into port. The Spartan frigate landed her prisoners this morning, and sailed with a fair wind in search of the Americans."

HALIFAX, August 6.—

Arrived his majesty's sloop, Alpha, Lt. Jones, from New-York. August 8.—Arrived schooner, Prevost, from Antigua, Martinique, was taken July 27, by the privateer Orlando, and re-taken August 2, by the Emma. The Alpha, on her passage from New-York, took the American ship Zedock, with 200 flour, and ordered her for Halifax. The Alpha was attacked August 4, by an American privateer supposed to be the Teazer, which finding her too warm, sheared off. American privateers off Pictou, have burnt a brig in ballast, and taken another with dry goods. The fishermen are distressed by the privateers, a brig, 3 scho'rs and a sloop, having captured and robbed several vessels near Campobello.

August 10.—Arrived the privateer Barkish, capt. Bray, of Salem, prize to the Statira frigate. The Barkish was cut 7 days on her second cruise. Also arrived, a brig from St. Mary's for Liverpool, captured by the privateer ship John, of Salem, and retaken by the British sloop, Caub.—Sailed, sloop, Alpha, with a mail for England.

20 or 30 men of St. John, volunteered for a months cruise in the frigate Spartan. There are many American prisoners in St. John's goal.

Domestic.

Extract of a letter from a volunteer in Capt. Brown's company, who left Chillicothe, Ohio, on the 21st inst. for the purpose of escorting provisions to Detroit dated foot of the Rapids of the Miami of the Lake August 8, 1812.

"We have been detained here for some days waiting for another company from Sandusky, which arrived here yesterday. We will proceed on our way towards the river Raisin, distant 36 miles.—The Indians and British have taken Brownstown, an Indian town on the lake through which we have to pass. Their object is to stop the communication and provision we are taking on. We have received orders from Gen. Hull to stop at the river Raisin and wait there for a detachment from his army
