It has a comfortable Dwelling House, with out houses suited to agriculture and farming, and a good Grist Mill. A considerable part of this land is as good Tobacco Land as any county, and is also well adapted to the culture of Corn, Oats &c. &c. Also another tract about 20 miles from Raleigh, containing about 288 acres, good, free corn land. On this tract there is also a grist mill, with a very neat and strong dam made of rock; it grinds but little in dry seasons, but a great deal in wet.
