Correspondence Between Gov. Vance and the Authorities at Richmond .--Continued.

Among other letters we re-publish Gov. Vance's protest against the suspension of the writ of habeas corpus. This letter shows that no man could have guarded the liberty and honor of North Carolina with more zeal than Gov. Vance. As carly as February 9th, he protested, with manly earnestness, against the act of suspension, and repelled, with indignation, the idea that such a law was needed for this State:

GOV. VANCE FAVORS NEGOTIATIONS FOR PEACE

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA. EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT. Raleigh, Dec. 30th, 1863.

His Excellency, PRESIDENT DAVIS-

I have concluded that it will be impossible to reation with the enemy. The recent action of the who sometimes forget the actual situation-that it be possible to treat of peace. Till then all tenthe Government is tender of their lives and hap- der of terms to the enemy will be received as unnecessarily one moment. Though statesmen encourage him in the strocious warfare which he might regard this as useless, the people will not, is waging. and I think our cause will be stronghtened thereby. I have not suggested the method of these negotiations or their terms. The effort to obtain peace is the principal matter. Allow me to beg your earnest consideration of this suggestion.
