affidavits and certificate

"Signs and wanders and visions have been seen recently in the land of Chatham, and " wise people" begin to think the end is nigh. One O. Churchhill has had his eyes opened, and as if by a vision has seen a light, and peace rested upon his soul, for he believed he was forgiven. And ret others saw lights and were glad, and even unto this day Silas, sirnamed Beckwith, and others, two of the name of Holland, and Long with a J. B. to it, and Sugg, R. M. Marwel not, for these things are so, and they did confess their sins before the Council, even H. with a J. P. to it, and were exceedingly glad because they were forgiven, even in the hours of Zetulon the Chief, "In all seriousness, if O. Churchhill, Benton Holland. J. H. Holland, J. B. Lung, R. M. Sugg and Silas Beckwith see proper to join a secret order and to take horrid oaths which they promise not to divulge, and then perjure them. selves by divulging them, what is it all to Mr. Holden and his friends? Mr. Holden belongs to no secret order, and knows of the existence of none. The Destructives and Secessionists are engaged in all manner of conspiracies, spy systems, intrigue and corruption, and we are not surprised that some of them should take horrid oaths and then break them.

"Chatham county will vote for Mr. Holden by at least two to one, though signs, and visions and wonders should continue to appear .- Progress."

The purpose of this is evidently to screen the members of the treasonable association, who, according to Rev. O. Churchhill,-(" one O. Churchhill ")-" were expected to vote for Mr. Holden." The Standard is full of electioneering stuff, abuse of Gov. Vance, columnious charges against him and his friends, ridiculous stories about the votes that Mr. Holden will get in August and his certainty of being elected; but it cannot devote a thought to the gravest charge ever made in North Carolina, no less than that his friends were en. gaged in a treasonable secret conspiracy-a conspiracy to overthrow the Confederate government and take North Carolina back into union with the hated band of robbers and abolitionists and murdeters who are desolating our country. . The con duct of these two Holden papers is such as to cause the conviction that their Editors were well aware of the existence of this secret association, and the absence of a word of condemnation would indicate that they approved of it. Will any one believe, that such a notice as the above is all that those papers would have contained if they had not known that the facts stated by Mr. Churchhill and the other five persons were true? They would have denied, if they had dared, for they well know how damaging such a disclosure must be to the prospects of Mr. Holden. The mass of the people of North Carolina are not traitors themselves, ple of North Carolina are not traitors themselves, in in others or to
