midst and upon the soil of my native State .--To day I am once more in the district, which for ten years extended to me the highest confidence, and three times honored me as its representative to the Congress of the United States. I was accused of no crime against the Constitution or laws, and guilty of none. But whenever and wherever thus charged upon due process of law, I am now here, ready to answer before any civil court of competent jurisdiction, to a jury of my him. countryman; and meantime, to give bail in any sum which any judge or court, State or Federal, my affix; and you, the hundred and eighty six thousand Democrats of Ohio, I offer as my sureties. Never for one hour have I remained in exile because I recognized any obligation of obedience to the unconstitutional and arbitrary edict.

They left Washington on Wednesday, and arrived at Fredericksbug the same day. Intense excitement prevails at Washington from the announcement that 40,000 rebels are approaching the city. Lincoln has called out the militia of the adjoining States. The Federal troops retreated to Green Castle. Gold in New York on the 6th, was 259. .

Lincoln has issued a proclamation declaring martial law and suspending the writ of habeas corpus in Kentucky.

Loss of the Alabama.

RICHMOND, July 9. The Herald of the 6th contains details of a fight between the Alabama and the Kearsage. The Alabama was in an unseaworthy condition. Capt. Semmes in his official report says, the enemy fired at the Alabama five times after her colors were struck. The rudder was disabled during the action. The crew displayed the utmost bravery. The shell that did the mischief struck the Alabama just above the water line knocking the bunkers to pieces and cause it is my constitutional and legal right to return.

Only by an exertion of an arbitrary power, itself against Constitution and law, and consummated by military lorce, I was abducted from my home and forced into banishment. The assertion or insinuation of the President that I was arrest. ed "because laboring with some effect to prevent the raising of troops and to encourage desertions from the army, and was responsible for numerous acts of resistance to the draft and to the arrest of deserters, causing assassination, maiming and murder ;" or that at any time, in any way. I had disobeyed or failed to counsel obedience to lawful authority, or even to the semblance of law is absolutely false. I appeal for the proof in every speech I ever made upon thess questions, and to the very record of the mock military commission, by the trial and sentence of which I was outraged.

No, the sole offence then laid to my charge was words of criticism of the public policy of the Administration, addressed to an open and public political meeting of my fellow-citizens of Ohio, lawfully and peaceably assembled. And to-day, my only "crime" is that, in the way which they call treason worship I the Constitution of my fathers. But for now more than one year no public man has been arrested, and no newspaper suppressed within the State, adhering still to the Union, for the expression of political opinion; while hundreds in public assembly and through the press, have with a license and violence in which I never indulged criticised and condemned the acts and policies of the administration, and One report says that Breckinridge has twenty thou- denounced the war, maintaining even the propriety and necessity of the recognition of Southern independence.

Indorsed by nearly two hundred thousand freeat the late election, and still with the sympathy and support of millions more, I do not mean any longer to be the only man of that party who is to be the victim of arbitrary power. If Abraham Lincoln seeks my life, let him so declare; but he shall not restran me of my personal liberty, except upon "due process of law." The unconstitutional and monstrous "Order Thirty-eight," under which alone I was arrested thirteen months ago, was defied and spit upon at your State convention of 1863, by the gallant gentleman who bore the standard as your candidate for lientenant governor, and by every Democratic press and public speaker ever since. It is dead. From the first it was against the Constitution and laws. and without validity; and all proceedings under it were and utterly are null and void, and of no effect.

The indignant voice of condemnation long since went forth from the vast majority of the people cently, too, the "platform " of an earnest, numerous and most formidable convention of the letter of the acceptance by the candidate of that convention, General John C. Fremont-the first candidate also of the Republican party for the presidency eight years ago, upon the rallying cry of free speech, and a free press-give renewed hope that, at last, the reign of arbitrary power is about to be brought to an end in the United States. It is neither just nor fit, therefore, that the and the other edicts and acts of such power, should any longer be endured-certainly not by me alone. But every ordinary means ef redress has first been exhausted; yet either by the direct threatening the State with an armed force, in the agency of the Administration and its subordinates, hope that Gen. Grant may be withdrawn from before or because of want of jurisdiction in the civil courts to meet a case which no American ever in former times conceived to be possible here, all have failed. Counsel applied in my behalf to an nojest judge for a writ of habeas corpus. It was ability; on all occasions tobe in my place; besides, my denied; and now the privilege of that writ is suspended by act of Congress and Executive order, (in every State. The Democratic convention of Ohio, one year ago, by a resolution formally presented through a committee of your best and ablest men, in person at Washington, demanded of the President in behalf of a very large minority

PETERSBURG, July 9.

· The Washington Chronicle of the 6th has been received here.

Great excitement pretails in the north in consequence of the rebel ; aid.

Martinsburg had been captured with a large quanty of supplies and the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad badly injured. Ransom is supposed to command the wrongs inflicted under "Order Thirty-eight," rebel cavalry and Early the infantry. The rebels are believed to have reached Hagerstown by the 6th, bound on an extensive raid into Pennsylvania.

Gov. Curtin has issued a proclamation, saying, the enemies of the Government, in desperation, are Richmond. The force of the invaders is not known. Siegel was made safe by timely flight.

The latest foreign intelligence give an account of a great naval engagement between the Alabama and Kearsage. The former was sunk. The engagement lasted an hour and forty minutes, and tork place ten miles from Cherbourg on Sunday the 19th of June. The Kearsage was commanded by Capt. John C. Winslow, who sent a challenge to Capt. Semmes, which was accepted. The Alabama was disabled by a shot through her boiler, while attempting to board was slightly wounded in the hand. He reports his loss 9 killed and 21 wounded. The Kearsage was considerably damaged. Capt. Semmes left all his chronometers, specie and ransom bonds at Cherbourg previous to going out to fight. He was landed at Southampton by the Deerhound, where he was of-fered a public dinner, but declined, and proceeded to Paris to report to the Confederate commissioner.
