[From the New York Daily News.] - A SOUND LETTER.

The following letter from Colonel Marshal Anderson, declining the nomination of State elector on the Ohio Democ atic State ticket, we find published in the Columbus Crisis. Colonel Anderson is a brother to General Robert Anderson, of Fort Sumter notoriety. We commend this letter to the careful perusal of all our readers :

SEVEN OAKS, April 24, 1864. DEAR COLONEL: I ask permission, through your columns, to withdraw my name as a candidate for Presidential elector in the 12th Congressional district of Ohio.

There may be a seeming unfitness in selecting your paper as a medium of publication, but I hope by a few words to explain and justify my course. My acknowledgements are due, and they are hereby tendered to The Circleville Democrat, for the very complimentary, for the flattering notice it made of my nomination at the State Convention at Columbus. The announcement that my nomipation "meets the hearty approbation of every Democarf in the district," and that "a more worthy gentleman or better Democrat could not have been chosen," is more than agreenble; it is highly gratifying. But, sir, though no man feels more sensibly the approbation of his fellow men-though no one can prize more highly that barmonious combination of gentleman and Democrat, I prefer the sanction of my own conscience to the approval of men or multitudes, and my test of the gentleman and Democrat," shall be the truth. sincerely felt and fearlessly spoken.

I do not accept the nomination for one or two reasons-either I did not understand the opinions of my nominators, or they did not understand mine. It is not my wish or intention to deceive or be deceived. I want every voter to know that I am diametrically opposed to the continuance of this war. I will not and cannot consent to advocate and sustain any man, be he soldier or civilian, who is in favor of its prosecution. I now fully realize and comprehend the meaning of the term " herrida belia." Now that "rampant war has yoked her red dragons to her iron car," now that all humanity, all magnanimity, is trampled under feet, I feel its full force. Our General's blush behind the buckler of Mars, while the she devil Bellons, with blazing tofchlights on our arms to an ignominous victory over women and children.

Hannibal crossed the Alps, and remained for us toirty years in the heart of the Roman Empire defeating their armies, defying their power. Does the example of that heathen leader teach us noth ing? He passed through an enemy's country and left friends behind. Carthagenians and Romans met in battle, but neither waged a war of desolation on women and children. Kindness, consideration and manly forbearance marked his course. Our warriors silence the cries of hunger with stones, and enlighten the very darkness of distress with fiery fagots. In very truth this war is carried on in such a brutal and barbarous manner, it is so disgraceful to the Government, so degrading to the soldiery, that it is surprising no new vocabulary has been invented to explain the terms of our advanced, much improved civilization. It is easier to declare what we should do, than to ley down an unchangeable law for our future conduct. To me, it is very clear that Democrats should never sacrifice principle to popularity-better suffer defeat, contending for the right and principles of freemen, than obtain success by fraud and false-

In one case, sustained by a vigorous vitality, we should rise fresh and strong; in the other, after tottering along with uncertainstep, we would faint and fall from our own weakness and corruption. I am not for an available candidate-I am for a candidate who will lead us on under the banner of the Constitution - our motto, Union and Libers ty, or no Union at all. My hope, my prayer is, that when monarchial power "is concentrated and centralized in Washington," that one thousand daggers way pierce the heart of the first crowned villain! We should remember that "eternal vigilence is the price of liberty." I bid you, I beg alarming moment, send forth the words of warns ing. What, sir, is the condition of our country? Over, above, and pressing down on our national burdens, we poor western serfs are crushed to the Senate, from the Counties of Camden and Currituck. earth by our Factory masters, by Lowell lords and shoddy ladies. Pessants and heroes of the West, you are but tenant vassals for the nabobs of the East! Eat, sleep and be happy! I say, awake! arise, freemen of the West, arise! Spring up from your night of sloth, or your day of resurrection may never dawn!

Editor of The Crisis " agitate." If we cannot have our glorious old Union, let us have God and Nature's Union! Let us follow the bright sparking waters of the Ohio, down to the Father of Waters -down to the ocean of Peace. The greatest and grandest valley in the world claims us for her own-let us acknowledge her claim. If so, I will divide the honor with a member of the Cabi-He said to Orestes A. Brownson : " I am tired of fighting Southern slavery; I will have nothing more to do with slaveholders-I. am in for a Northern Confederacy." My parody on that "I am very tired working for Yankee taskmasters; I hate their selfish meanness; and therefore, I am in favor of a Western Confederacy. I have paid tribute long enough to the looms and spindles of the East-I wish no longer to be the political packmule of New England." They have taught me that when the burden becomes intolerable, I have a right to throw it it off. They invented a word secede, and they have; inculcated the doctrine that an oppressed people are justified in separating from their oppressors, "peaceably if they can, forcibly if they must."

Of course, dear Crisis, my proposition is predicated on the fact that the original Union is dissolved. No man is fool or fanatic enough to doubt it. Not even the Accadian Nightingale of the White House can any longer sing the song of To the Soldiers and Citizens (voters) of the "Union and the Constitution." The master minds of this nation, who are determined to rule or ruin it, have presented the alternative to the Should you honor me with your sufferages and elect me, I should you honor me with fidelity, to the best of my a freeborn American people become subjugated, or descend to the lowest depth of human degration by mingling the blood of their daughters dation by mingling the blood of their daughters with that of their slaves?

SUGAR FROM SORGHUM.

We mentioned some days ago, says the Richmond Sentinel, that a sample of syrup of Sorghum had been left with us by Dr., Coats, of Henrico county, in which there was a large deposit of sugar, the result of the gradual evaporation of the syrup. We have now, through the same gentle man, a specimen of a clear, dry, well flavored sugar, of rich, bright color, obtained from a mere straining and drying from the syrup, above refer-

The fact that so excellent an article of sugar can be made from sorghum is of great interest to our people. Every farmer can now render him self independent of the high prices of the grocer. by producing his own sugar. It has long been denied that sugar can be obtained from the sorghum at all; and we believe that all the experiments heretofore made have failed of that object. It will be an acceptable service, therefore, to pub lish the process by which it has been made, as the specimen before us attests; and our cotemporaries who may feel an interest in spreading the information, may do so in the perfect confidence that it comes from a source of the highest respectability.

This discovery is an accident, and was made by one of Dr. Coats' neighbors, a practical man, unacquainted with the theories of the books or the experiments of others. In last October he boiled the juice of his sorghum for three hours, in a wide mouthed boiler. He took the molasses thus obtained and put it away, intending to use it as such. It chanced that it was put into a vessel with a wide and open top-a stone jar, or a common charn, we are not sure which: A thin cotton cloth was tied over the top, as a protection. A few weeks ago, on examining the syrup, it was discovered that a large deposit of sugar had been made; the result, doubtless, of the slow evaporation al lowed by the cotton cloth. This was taken out, tied in a cloth, and allowed to drip, and was then dried, and the result was the sugar before

What improvement can be discovered upon this mode of obtaining sugar from sorghum remains to be seen. But it is a great point gained to know that sugar may thus be made-and made so simply. The experiments heretofore instituted have, we believe, all relied on rapid boiling. This obtains no sugar, but simply converts the syrup into a black, bitter stuff, fit for nothing. The failure of the rapid process and the success of the slow. both point to genteel evaporation as indispensable. Whether it may not be hastened by the applicar tion of a moderate heat, and how far this may be advantageously done, are points to be investigated. With time and patience the process, as we see, is extremely simple. We doubt not that by proper investigation and pains a mode of expediting the transformation will be readily discovered. The facts established by the discovery we have described will serve as guides to further inquiries.
