TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

REPORTED FOR THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

LATER FROM THE NORTH-BOSECRANS TO HALLECK-CLAIMS A GREAT VICTORY,

PETERSBURG, Jan. 9. National Intelligencer of 7th received here. Itcontains but little news. Rosecrans to Halleck, Jan. 5th, says: We have fought one of the greatest buttles of the war and are victorious. Our entire success on the 31st was prevented by a surprise on our right flank. Nevertheless we have beaten the enemy after three days battle. They fled with great precipitation on Saturday night, and the last column of their cavalry left this morning. Their has is very heavy,-Gens, Rains and Hanson killed, and Clasdon, Adams and Breckinridge wounded.

(Signed) ROSENCRANS. Yankee General Mitchell to Halleck, Nashville, Jan. 5th: The rebels are whisped and driven from Murfreesbord, we are pursuing them. The schela are retreating in the direction of Tullohoma. The Lord is on our side. The rebels are whipped and the Cumberland in good boating condition. Another account from Nashville says Stanley's brigade entered Murfreesboro on Similar morning. Our forces are terribly scattered. Out of 186 Colonels engaged, 19 were killed.

The Philadelphia Press has dispatches from Nashville 5th, which says: All the bridges in East Tennesses have been burned. Col. Bruce captured Clarksville, Tenn., with a number of prisoners and eight thousand barrels of flour. The Comberland is rising Between five and six hundred women and children, refugees, came up on flag of truce boat and are now in Petersburg.

CAPTURE OF HARRIET LANE-WESTFIELD BLOWN UP-PRISONER'S TAKEN, &C.

Special dispatch to Advertiser and Register dated Jackson, 8: New Orleans Delta 6 received at Ponchctonla, contains the following: About 2 o'clock New Year's morning four rebel gunboats came down Buffaloe Bayou into Galveston Bay, along side of steamer Harriet Lane, one on each side. Texan sharp shooters then commenced assault on her and soon succeeded in kiffing all the gunners and Capt. Wagnowyth, her commander. The assailants then boarded her after a desperate struggle and capture ther. Rebel gunboats were lined and fortified with cotton after the manner of the boats in New Orleans known as Montgomery fleet. The Westfield, under commander Renshaw, determined not to be taken and after consulting, officers and men agreeing, they blest her up with all on board including himself. Only eight escaped. Balance of the Yankee floet and one transport escaped. Two coal boats at wharf together, with two companies of 42 Muss, Regiment were car tured. A Federal vessel was placed around the harbor to watch the Harriet Lane and prevent Confederates sending her to sea.

FROM TENNESSEE-MORE CHEERING.

Moenie, Jan. 8. A leertiser and Register has the following private dispatch:

DECREED, TENN. Jan. 7. HON. J. FORSYTHE: Being outnumber more than two to one by the enemy, our troops utterly exhausted by cold and rain and four days incessant fighting, with loss killed and wounded, Gen. Bragg has determined to fall back upon Duck river. The enemy showed he was receiving large reinforcements from Kentucky.

By a skillful night march, covered by the admirable cavalry of Wheeler and Wharton, the whole army with all its supplies and captured arms is now concentrating in its new lines, ready for the enemy whenever he shall advance. Since this army crossed Tennessee river, in November, we have captured 9,500 prisoners, over 40 pieces of artillery, 8000 small arms and lots of wagons. (Signed)

YANKEES REFUSE TO RECEIVE THEIR PRISON-ERS,

Augusta, Jan. 9. The Atlanta Intelligencer says the Yankee prisoners taken at Murfreesboro' have returned. The Yankee anthorities refuse to receive them unless accompanied by of-floors. Seventy three Yankee officers at Augusta. ENEMY ADVANCING AND ROBBING AND STEAL-ING IN TENNESSEE.

CHATTANOOGA, Jan. T. The enemy has advanced his lines six miles this side of Murfraceboro'. He has been guilty of the most outrageous enormities, stealing private property, robbing peaceful citizens and running off negroes. CAPTURE OF THE HARRIET LANC-BOARDED AND

TAKEN BY TEXANS.

RICHMOND, Jan 9-1 P. M.

An official dispatch from General J. B. Magrader confirms the capture of the Harriet Lane off Calveston. The rest of the fleet escaped ignominiously under cover of flag of truce. General Magnuder says: I have about six hundred prisoners and a large quantity of valuable stores, arms, &c. The Harriet Lone is very little injured. She was carried by boarding from two high pressure cotton stramers, manned by Texas cavalry and artiflery.

THE BATTLE OF MURFREESBORO'.

OFFICIAL REPORT OF ROSENCRANS.

General Resocranz has dispatched to the War Department a full history of the protracted contest at Murfresbowe, which he says ended in the total de-feat of the Rebel army and their disorderly flight to-wards Tallahoma. We some the official dispatches of Roscemuz:

HD'QUE FOURTEENTH ABMY CORPS, DEPARTMENT OF THE CUMBERLAND,

DEPARTMENT OF THE CUMPERLAND,
IN FRONT OF MUNICIPALISTS ON JAB. 8, via NASSINILIE, Jan. 4, 1863.

To H. W. Hallece, General-in-Chief.

Washington:
On the 26th of December we marched from Nashville in three columns. General McCook by Nolinsville pike; General Thomas from his encampment on Franklin's pike, via Wilson pike, and General Crittenden on the main Murfi-Saboro' pike.
Our left and coutre met with strong resistance, such as the nature of the country permits, the rolling or hilly routes skirted by cellar thickets and farms, and intersected by small streams, with rocky thuff banks, forming serious obstacles.

General McCook drove General Hardee's corps a mile and a half from Notinsville, and occupied the

Gen, Crittenden reached within a mile and a hal Gen. Thomas reached the Wilson pike, meeting with no serious apposition.

On the 27th, Gen. M. Cjok drove General Hardee from Nolinsville and pushed forward a reconnoitering division six miles towards Shelby ville, and found that General Hardee had retreated towards Murfeesboro'. General Crittonden fought and drove the enemy before him, occupying the line of Stewarts Creek, and capturing some prisoners with slight loss.

General Thomas occupied the viciaity of Nolinsrille, when he was partially surprised, thrown into confusion, and driven back. General Sheridan's division had repulsed the enemy four times and protected-the flank of the centre, which not only held its own, but advanced until this untoward event, which compelled me to retain the left wing to support the right dutil it should be rallied and assume a new po-on us, were again repulsed.

On the 2d instant there was skirmishing along the front with threats of an attack until about three o'clock in the afternoon, when the enemy advanced, throwing a small division, across Stone river to occupy the commanding ground there. While reconnoitering the ground occupied by this division, which had no artillery, I saw a heavy force emerging from the woods and advancing in line of battle three lines deep. They drove our little division before them after a sharp contest, in which we lost 70 or 80 killed, and three hundred and seventyfive wounded; but they were finally repulsed by Gen. Negley's Division and the remaining troops of the left wing of tien, Morton's Pioneer Brigade, and fled far over the field and beyond their introachments, their officers rallying them with great difficulty. lost heavily. We occupied the ground with left wing last night. The lines were completed at four o'clock in the morning.

The 2d was spent in bringing up and distributing provisions and ammunition. It has been raining all day. The ground is very heavy.
W. S. Rosechans,

Maj. Gen. Coming.

CAMP NEAR MURPHIE BORO', 1

Po Major-General H. W. Hulleck, General-inChief: Following my dispatch of last evening, I have to announce that the enemy are in fall retreat. They left last night.

The rain having mised the river, and the bridge across it between the left wing and centre being incomplete, I deemed it prudent to withdraw that wing during the night. This occupied my time until four o'clock, and fatigued the troops.

The announcement of the retreat was known to me at seven o'clock this morning,

Our ammunition train arrived during the night. To day was occupied in distributing ammunition, burying the dead, and collecting arms from the field

The pursuit was commenced by the centre, the two leading brigades arriving at the west side of Stone river this evening. The railroad bridges was saved, but in what combition is not known.

We shall occur the town and push the pursuit

Our Medical Director estimates the wounded in hospitals at 5,500, and our dead at 1,000. We have to deplore the loss of Licutenant Colonel Geresche, whose capacity and general deportment had already endeared him to all the officers of this command, and whose gullantry on the field of battle excited their admiration. W.S. Rosechans,

THE FIGHT AT MURFRESBORO. The Herald attaches the greatest importance to the recent battle at Morfreesboro, and says:

"If the combination of the Union arms in the Southwest should now fail, and the Confederate chieftains should be finally victorious in the conflict with Rosecrans, by the stillen accumulation of a large reinforcement, owing to their interior and shorter lines, and their having possession of the railroads and the telegraphic communications, the fortunes of our cause would become desperate. Not only would the army of Moscerans be destroyed, but Nashville would be itt danger, and Grant and Sherman would be placed in imminent peril; and by vigorously following up the blow the rebellion would be placed in such a triumplant position as to turn the tide of invasion to the North. The fact of Joe Johnson-the sedly second best general in the Confederate army-being assigned to the chief command of the rebel army in the Southwest, and the other fact, that the Confederate President himself, deeming the situation of Virginia sufficiently safe under Lee, thinks the crisis in the Southwest needs even his own presence, are proofs of the immense importance which is attached by the leaders of the rebellion to the success or failure of their arms in that direction. The desperate nature of the fighting in Tennessee, at Vicksourg and other points in Mississippi, and the large forces engaged on either side, also serve to show that this is no ordinary campaign, and that the life of the republic or the success of the rebellion may depend upon the issue." OLD RECTIFIED WHISKY 15 OR 20 BARRELLS OF OLD RECTIFIED WHIS-For sale, delivered at Raisigh, N. C. at $14 05 per gallon, if called for soon. Those wishing to purchase will please call on A. SORRULL, at Raisigh, and see a sample of said Whisky. Dec 31-2w*
