THE FIGHT AT GRAND GULF .- The Mississippian of the 2nd May gives the following relative to the fighting at Grand Gulf:

Our intelligence up to this time (11, a, m.) from the conflict, is meager and unsatisfactory. Our latest reports, in the form only of current rumors, but understood to emanate from official sources, indicate the holding of the field of action by Gen. Bowen's fortaken by the for and driving the enemy back for a them.

This morning, it is reported from the same source of information, that our loss is heavy, including two Captains and one 1st Lieutenant of Missouri batteries. We presume the Missourians made the recapture of the Virginia battery, procured from the Richmond Works by the late Cal. Wm. Wade, a point of honor. And the guns were retaken, but at a heavy cost of life. Reinforcements have deen hurried forward to Gen. Bowen from different points, which must have reached Grand-Gulf at least as early as last night. It has been a bloody engagement, as usuz al, with a small force on our side opposed to overwhelming numbers of the enemy. It is painful in this connection, to remember that these very same troops of ours have, for twelve months past, had to encounter, on sundry fields, the best of the Federal army in double, or trable numbers, where our men, marching into the jaws of death, have enacted feats of valor almost without a parallel, and have failed to accomplish decisive results for want of timely support, or skillful combinations on the part of the head commanders. Such at Elkhorn—such at Corinth-and such, we fear, at Grand Gulf. We await with no small anxiety the tardy arrival of more full and definite information. We have the utmost confidence in the final result of our conflict. This is the hour of storm and of trial; but Almighty God rules this storm, and holds our safety, and our ortunes in his hands.

THE DAILY PROCRESS.

VOL. IV. RALEIGH, THURSDAY, MAY 14, 1863.

NO. 160.

MISCELLANEOUS.

BY THE GOVERNOR OF NORTH CARO-LINA.

A PROCLAMATION. WHEREAS, I HAVE LEARNED WITH GREAT pain that there have been latterly numerous desertions from the ranks of our gallant army, and that there are many persons in the country who ineite and encourage these desertions and harbor and conceal these misguided men at home, instead of encouraging them to return to duty:

Now therefore I, ZEBULON B. VANCE, Governor of the State of North Carolina, do issuethis my proclamation commanding all such evil disposed persons to desist from such base, cowardly and treasonable conduct, and warning them that they will subject themselves to indictment and punishment in the civil courts of the Confederacy as well as to the everlasting contempt and detestation of all good and honorable men Certainly no crime could be greater no cowardice more abject, no treason more base, than for a citizen of the State, enjoying its privileges and protection without sharing its dangers, to persuade those who have had the courage to go forth in defense of their country, vilely to desert the colors which they have sworn to uphold, when a miscrable death or a vile, skulking and ignominious existerice must be the inevitable consequences; no plea can excuse it. The father or the brother who does it should be shot instead of his deluded victim, for he deliberately destroys the soul and manhood of his own flesh and blood. And the same is done by him who harbors and conceals the deserter. For who can respect either the one or the other? What honest man will ever wish or permit his own brave sons or patriotic daughters, who bore their parts with credit in this great struggle for independence, to associate, even to the third and fourths generations, with the vile wretch who skulked in the woods, or the still viler coward who aided him, while his bleeding country was calling in vain for his help? Both are enemies, sneaking, mean enemies to ther country, before whom our open foes will be infinitely preferred. Both are foes to their own kindred and noble countrymen who are electryfying the world by their gallant deeds, and pouring out their blood upon the field of battle to protect those very men who are sapping the vitals of our strength. And wee unto you, deserters, and your aiders and abettors, when peace being made and independence secured, these brave comrades whom we have deserted in the hour of their trial shall return honored and triumphant to their homes! Ye that hide your guilty faces by day, and prowl like outlaws about by night, robbing the w fe and mother of your noble defenders of their little means, while they are far away facing the enemy, do you think ye can escape a just and damning vengeance when the day of reckoning comes? And ye that shelter, conceal, and feed these miserable depredators and stimulate them to their infernal deeds, think you that we will be spared? Nar rest assured, observing and never failing eyes have marked you, every one. And when the overjoyed wife welcomes once more her brave and honorable hasband to his home, and tells him how in the long years of his absence, in the lonely hours, of the night, you who had been his comrades rudely entered her house, robbed her and her children of their bread and heaped insult and indignities upon her defenceless head, the wrath of that heroic husband will make you regret in the bitterness of your cowardly terror that you were ever born. Instead of a few scattered militia, the land will be full of veteran soldiers, before whose honest faces you will not have courage to raise your eyes from the earth. If permitted to live in the State at all you will be infamous. You will be hustled from the polls, kicked in the streets, an honest jury will not believe you on oath and honest men everywhere will shun you as a pestilence, for he who lacks courage and patriotism can have no other good quality or redeeming virtue. Though many of you rejected the pardon heretofore offered you, and I am not authorized to promise it. yet I am assured that no man will be shot who shall voluntarily return to duty. This is the only chance to redeem yourselves from the disgrace and ignominy which

Again our troops have met the enewy and a great and glorious victory has been won. But several thousand of our soldiers fell in achieving it for us. Every man is needed to replace the gallant dead, and preserve an unbroken front to our still powerful enemy. Unless desertion is prevented our strength must depart from our armies, and desertion can never be stopped while either through a false and mistaken sympathy or downright disloyalty. they receive any countenace or protection at home. I therefore appeal to all good citizens and true patriots in the State to assist my officers in arresting deserters, and to frown down all those who aid and assist them. Place the brand upon them and make them feel the scorn and contempt of an outraged people. Unless the good and the patriotic all over the land arise as one man to arrest this dangerous evil, it will grow until our army is well nigh ruined. The danger of starvation having happily pass of away-the approaching and apparently bounteous harvest giving evidence of ample supplies for the coming year-our great army in Virginia again jubilant over a mighty victory-1 a a well assured that our danger now lies in the disorganization produced by desertion. You can arrest it my countrymen, if you will but make a vigorous effort, if you will but bying to bear the weight of a great, a patriotic and united community in aid of your so with little trouble. The object in procuring the well, is to clothe N. C.
