THE FIGHT AT FAIR BLUFF .- The Mississippian says:-We have seen a gentleman who was an eye witness of the fight between General Grant's forces and those under General Bowen near Grand Gulf.-He says the coolness and daring of our troops was seldom if ever equalled. Viben they made a charge they moved in a compact line as if we'ded together. Not a solitary man left his proper place; and on many occasions they drove their antagonists from their positions, although largely outnumbered, at the point of the bayonet. When it became necessary for them to retire, the same order was observed. Again he he saw the same troops when they stopped in Port Gibson and were handed water by the women and children. There was not the slightest excitement evinced by any of them. On the contrary, their brows were a calm and pleasant expression. No one would have thought from their appearance that they were just out of one of the hottest battles which this sanguinary war has entailed upon the country,

MISCELLANEOUS.

BY THE COVERNOR OF NORTH CARO-A PROCLAMATION.

WHEREAS, I HAVE LEARNED WITH GREAT pain that there have been latterly numerous desertions from the ranks of our gallant army, and that there are many persons in the country who incite and encourage these descritons and harbor and conceal these misguided men at home, instead of encouraging them to retwin to duty: Now therefore I, ZEBULON B. VANCE, Governor of the State of North Carolina, do issue this my area's made commanding all such evil disposed persons to desist from such base, cowardly and treasonable conduct, and warning them that they will subject themselves to indictment and punishment in the civil courts of the Confederacy as well as to the everlasting contempt and detestation of all good and honorable men. Certainly no crime could be greater, no cowardice more abject, no treason more base, than for a citizen of the State, enjoying its privileges and protection without sharing its dangers, to persuade those who have had the courage to go forth in defense of their country, vilely to desert the colors which they have sworn to uphold, when a miserable death or a vile, skulking and ignominious existence must be the inevitable consequences; no plea can excuse it. The father or the brother who does it should be shot instead of his deluded victim, for he deliberately destroys the soul and manhood of his own flesh and blood. And the same is done by him who harbors and conceals the deserter. For who can respect either the one or the other? What honest man will ever wish or permit his own brave sons or patriotic daughters, who bore their paris with credit in this great struggle for independence, to associate, even to the third and fourths generations. with the vile wretch who skulked in the woods, or the still viler coward who aided him, while his bleeding country was calling in vain for his help? Both are enemies, sneaking, mean exemies to ther country, before whom our open foes will be infinitely preferred. Both are foes to their own kindred and noble countrymen who are electryfving the world by their gallant deeds, and pouring out their blood upon the field of battle to protect those very men who are sapping the vitals of our strength. And woe unto you, deserters, and your aiders and shetzors. when peace being made and independence secured, these brave comrades whom ye have deserted in the hour of their trial shall return honored and triumphant to their homes! Ye that hide your guilty faces by day, and prowl like outlaws about by night, robbing the w fe and mother of your noble defenders of their little means, while they are far away facing the enemy, do you think ye can escape a just and damning vengeance when the day of reckoning comes? And ye that shelter, corceal, and feed these miserable depredators and stimulate them to their infernal deeds, think you that ye will be spared? Nav! rest assured, observing and never failing eyes have marked you, every one. And when the overjoyed wife welcomes once more her brave and honorable husband to his home, and tells him how in the long years of his absence, in the lonely hours of the night, you who had been his comrades rudely entered her house, robbed her and her children of their bread and heaped insult and indignities upon her defenceless head, the wrath of that herois husband will make you regret in the bitterness of your cowardly terror that you were ever born. Instead of a few scattered militia, the land will be full of vet ran soldiers, before whose honest faces you will not have courage to mise your eyes from the earth. If permitted to live in the State at all you will be infamous. You will be hustled from the polls, kicked in the streets, an honest jury will not believe you on oath and honest men everywhere will shun you as a pestilence, for he who lacks courage and patriotism can have no other good availty or redeening virtue. Though many of you rejected the pardon hereto-

Again our troops have met the enemy and a great and glorious victory has been won. But several thousand of our soldiers fell in achieving it for us. Every man is needed to replace the gallant dead, and preserve an unbroken front to our still powerful enemy. Unless descriton is prevented our strength must depart from our armies, and desertion can never be stopped while either through a false and mistaken sympathy or downright disloyalty. they receive any count nace or protection at home. I therefore appeal to all good citizens and true patriots in the State to assist my officers in arresting deserters, and to frown down all those who aid and assist them. Place the brand upon them and make them feel the scorn and contempt of an outraged people. Unless the good and the patriotic all over the land arise as one man to arrest this dangerous evil, it will grow until our army is well fore offered you, and I am not authorized to promise it, yet I am assured that no man will be shot who shall voluntarily return to duty. This is the only chance to redeem yourselves from the disgrace and ignominy which nigh ruined. The danger of starvation having happily passed away-the approaching and apparently bounteous harvest giving evidence of simple supplies for the coming year-our great army in Virginia again jubilant over a mighty victory-I am well assured that our danger now lies in the disorganization produced by desertion. You can arrest it my countrymen, if you will but make a vigorous effort, if you will but bring to bear the weight of a great, a patriotic and united community in aid of your In witness whereof, Zerlion B. Vance, Gov-

L. s. crnor, Captain General and Commander-in-Chief, -- I hath signed these presents and caused the great seal of the State to be allixed. Done at the city of Raleigh, this 11th day of May, Z. B. VANCE. By the Governor:
