CAPTURE OF YANKEE RECRUITING OFFICERS .-Col. Roddy's command last week captured in Tennessee Col. Wm. P. Kendrick, of the 3d Tennessee (Yankee) regiment, and Capt. Daniel E. Bonham, of the same regiment, both engaged in recruiting in Tennessee for the Federals. Several privates engaged in the same service were also captured. Col. Kendrick is a native of Tazewell county, Va., and the unworthy son of Rev. W. P. Kendrick, a Methodist minister, who has suffered in property and person for refusing to take the oath to support Lincoln's Government .-He has two brothers in the Confederate service, one of whom belonged to the command which captured the renegade. On the 15th of May last Wm. F. Corbin and T. J. McGrav., two Confederate soldiers, members of the 4th Kentucky cavalry, were shot dead at Sandusky, Ohio, by order of Gen. Burnside, for recruiting for the Confederate service in Kentucky .-Comment upon what the fate of Kendrick and Bonham should be is unnecessary; but the following paragraph about the fate of the two Confederates may assist the reader in coming to a correct conclusion:

When Corbin and McGraw were prisoners, Miss Corbin, the sister of Corbin, called upon, Gen. Burnside and appealed to him to refrain from executing his order, and the General replied "that he had quit handling this rebellion with gloves." Miss Corbin then went to the city of Washington, and requested an interview with the President, which was declined. These men were shot for no other offence than the charge of recruiting in Kentucky.

The Empress Eugenie has purchased at the dog show a little Havana lap-dog, which rejoices in the name of Coquette. This animal is a beautiful specimen of her race: "Her hair is fully eight inches long, and of snowy whiteness and silky fineness. The body is very small, as is also the head, but the tail appears an enormous fleece, and the cars of proportionate size. Coquette lives in a glass house, on the floor of which is a Persian carpet .-She lies upon a cushion covered with crimson silk, and seems a very dainty being. Her food and the water which she drinks are placed in the aforesaid glass house on a porcelain plate and a silver cup, which she won for her proprietor.'

The negroes in the Yankee service are enumerated as follows: General Thomas' recruits, 11,000; under Gen. Banks, 3000; in Kansas, 1000; in South Carolina, 30004 in North Carolina, 3000; under Gen. Rosecrans, 5000; under Gen. Schofield, 2000; Massachusetts regiments, 1200; in the District of Columbia, 800; total, 30,000. There also 5000 negroes in the Yankee navy.

An exchange cautions the public against reorbacks and sensation reports from speculators about great damage done to the growing crops of wheat by the present rainy season. We observe that they have commenced the work already.
