From Richmond.

RICHMOND, Aug. 9.-General Lawton was assigned by the President to the position of Quartermaster General under the act of Congress of last session, giving provisional rank of Brigadier General to the Quartermaster General. He was authorized constructively to appoint a Brigadier General to that office, or assign one already commissioned in the Provisional Army, but it is understood that the intention of Congress was to confer the benefits of the act on Colonel Myers, who was appointed Colonel in the regular army at Montgomery and assigned to duty. The Quartermaster General has been supecedel, not removed, and may continue at his post as Assistant Quartermaster General, unless assigned by other duty.

Gov. Vance, of North Carolina, has been here several days.

Officers by Fredericksburg train this evening report all quiet in Stafford county.

OVER FORTY-FIVE .- We find the following good one in the local column of the Enguirer :

Three young men, handsomely dressed, sat by the west fountain in Capitol Square, yesterday morning, smoking and chatting pleasantly and leisurely. While thus en-gaged in whiling away time, a respectable looking citizen, whose head was rather gravish, and expression somewhat stern and cynical, took a seat on the same bench, and managed to glide into the conversation, turning its course, meanwhile, to the army. At length, he asked, "How is it, gentlemen, that you, in the full tide of health, with apparently plenty of time and money, well brought up and all that-how is it, that you can sit here idly, and sce others fight and be butchered up, and sickened to death for your sake?" "Well," responded one, "the army would suit me well enough, but for one thing: If you will pull off that neatly fitting shoe and roll up my drawers, you will find a leg made of leather straps and iron ribs.-The 'original' I left at Sharpsburg." "As for me," remarked the second, "if you will take the trouble to feel this left arm, you will discover that the bone between the shoulder blade and the elbow, to the length of five inches, has been removed. When I stand upon my right foot, also, I am balancing on my toes, the heel being gone .-Result of bullets in the second battle of Manassas." The third youth scarcely knew what to say, but looked dagers at the cynical old codger, and finally broke "The same sort of talk forced me in. I was a shaking skeleton when I joined, and on the first march I broke down, got put in one of the meanest hospitals in the country, and came out paralysed in one side." (Here he lifted up a shriveled and lifeless arm.) "And may I ask, sir," he added, "what keeps you out? You seem to be in ex-cellent vigor." "Me? I? Why-ahem-I'm over forty-

MILITARY NOTICES.

TO THE SOLDIERS OF THE CONFEDE. IMPORTANT SALE OF IMPORTED LI-RATE STATES. QUORS AT AUCTION.

A FTER MORE THAN TWO YEARS OF A WAR-A fare scarcely equalled in the number, magnitude. and fearful carnage of its battles ; a warfare in which your courage and fortitude have illustrated your counry, and attracted not only gratitude at home, but admiration abroad; your enemies continue a struggle in which our final triumph must be inevitable. Unduly elated with their recent successes, they imagine that temporary reverses can quell your spirit or shake your determination, and they are now gathering heavy masses for a general invasion in the vain hope that, by a desperate effort. success may at length be reached.

You know too well, my countrymen, what they mean by success. Their malignant rage aims at nothing less than the extermination of yourselves, your wives, and children. They seek to destroy what they cannot plund.r. They propose as the spoils of victory, that your homes shall be partitioned among the wretches whose atrocious cruelties have stamped infamy on their Goverament. They design to incite servile insurrection and ight the fires of incendiarism wherever they can reach your homes, and they debauen the inferior race, hitherto docile and contented, by promising indulgence of the vilest passions, as the price of treachery. Conscious of their inability to prevail by legitimate warfare, not daring to make peace lest they should be hurled from their seats of power, the men who now rule in Washington refuse even to confer on the subject of putting an end to outrages which disgrace our age, or to listen to a suggestion for conducting the war according to the usages of civiliza-

Fellow-citizens, no alternative is left you but victory, or subjugation, slavery and the utter ruin of yourselves, your families and your country. The victory is within your reach. You need but stretch forth your hands to grasp it. For this end, all that is necessary is, that those who are called to the field by every motive that can move the human heart, should promptly repair to the post of duty, should stand by their comrades now in front of the foe, and thus so strengthen the armies of '! Confederacy as to ensure success. The men now absent from their posts would, if present in the field, suffice to create numerical equality between our force and that of the invaders -and when with any approach of such equality, have we failed to be victorious? I believe that but few of those absent are actuated by unwillingness to serve their country; but that many have found it difficult to resist the temptation of a visit to their homes and the loved ones from whom they have been so long separated ; that others have left for temporary attention to their affairs, with the intention of returning, and then have shrunk from the consequences of their violation of duty; that others, again, have left their posts from mere restlessness and desire of change, each quieting the upbraidings of his conscience, by persuading himself that his individual services could have no influence on the general result. These and other causes (although far less disgraceful than the desire to avoid dangea, or to escape from the sacrifices required by patriotism) are, nevertheless, grievous faults, and place the cause of our beloved country, and of everything we hold dear, in imminent peril. I repeat that the men who now owe duty to their country, who have been called out and have not yet reported for duty, or who have absented themselves from their posts, are sufficient in number, to secure us victory in the struggle now impending. I call on you, then, my courter men, to hasten to your camps, in obedience to the interiors of honor and duty, and summon those who have a suit d themselves without leave, or who have remained a soft beyond the period allowed by their furloughs, to regain without delay to their respective commands, and I do hereby declare that I grant a general pardon and amnesty to all officers and men within the Confederacy, now absent without leave, who shall, with the least possible delay, return to their proper posts of duty ; but no excuse will be received for any delay beyond twenty days after the first publication of this proclamation in the State in which the absentee may be at the date of the publication. This amnesty and pardon shall extend to all who have been accused, or who have been convicted and are undergoing sentence for absence without leave or desertion, excepting only those who have been twice convicted of desertion. Finally, 1 conjure my countrywomen-the wives, mothers, sisters and daughters of the Confederacy-to use their all-powerful influence in aid of this call, to add one crowning sacrifice to those which their patriotism has so freely and constantly offered on their country's altar, and to take care that none who owe service in the field shall be sheltered at home from the disgrace of having deserted their duty to their families, to their country, and to their God.

MOPLLE TO BE DEFENDED TO THE LAST .- The Mobile Advertiser has the following relative to the coming defence of that eity :

While Gen. Johnston was recently in this city the prophets of evil begun to whisper abroad that he had come to consult with Gen. Maury about the ways and means of evacuating the city. When this was mentioned to Gen. Johnston his grave face relaxed into a smile, and he said, "Had that been my purpose I should not have shown my countenance among you. I am here for the directly opposite purpose of looking in a your defences and preparing to hold your city." Afterwards, when he had visited the works, and minutely examined every position and gun, he remarked to the same gentleman, "You can tell your people that Mobile is the most defensible scaport position in the Confederate States." Mobile is to be defended, then, to the last.

INSIDE VIEW OF RICHMOND .- The Enquirer has the following:

Thieves by the Regiment .- Besides regular bands of organized robbers, we have in Richmond a thousand men and more, who encourage thieves, screen robberies, "fence" stolen goods, and employ all the art of which depraved humanity is capable, in amassing substance by breaking or causing to be broken the laws of the country. They are the life of the organized bands, and if they are detected and securely put out of the way, the organizations themselves must either quit or get caught in their villainy. Men have been robbed all around the city and all over it on the inside, to use a rather general expression, and the status quo seems to continue. The city wants, during this war at least, a much larger local detective force than it has at present.
