JOB PRINTING. There being connected with the Progress establishment a Job Office open to any in the City or State, we are prepared to execute all orders for BOOK and JOB PRINTING. Orders solicited and promptly attended to.

TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

REPORTED FOR THE ASSOCIATED PRESS. Entered according to act of Congress, in the year 1863, by J. L. Pennington, in the Clerk's Office of the District Court of the Confederate States of the Northern District of Georgia.

No News. Not a line by telegraph last night from any quarter. We suppose it will come this morning. We think the management of the wires between here and Richmond might be improved.

THE FIRE—AN ADDENDUM.—In consequence of the late hour at which we closed yesterday morning to put to press we were not able to give as minute a statement of the conflagration and its consequences as we desired to place before our readers.

The paragraph already read gave the hour and results of the occurrence, but no other facts. It appears that the origin of the fire, after weighing very carefully all the circumstances, was purely accidental.

During the prevalence of the fire, and commencing very early after the alarm was given, the gentlemen engaged in the Navy Department, in its various branches of mechanism, labored faithfully, efficiently and successfully in subduing the devouring element and preserving property. They are entitled to the thanks of this community.

The Georgia troops that had arrived in Charlotte at 10 o'clock, P. M., as a body also rendered valuable service.

Our colored population who manned the fire engines worked faithfully, and nobly contended to emulate the superior class in their determination to arrest the destruction of property. That is more than the "fired sons of Northern societies" ever engage in with a heart.

The efforts of these three communities—the fire department, the Georgia troops, and the few citizens who did assist—were crowned with great success.

Much private property was destroyed and pilfered, but for a proper system, which we, as a people, have not properly matured.

Messrs. Young, Wriston & Orr have lost some valuable goods, valued at about three thousand dollars; Mr. Moore who occupied the Mansion House, and his boarders, have also lost much; the consequence of a lack of police system, for which our city fathers are responsible. A reorganization is absolutely necessary, for we have no proper head in the mayoralty (the Mayor pro tem, being absent) and being deficient of a Marshal.

As regards the destruction of property by the fire, we are pleased to state that it was not so great as we had apprehended, only the kitchen, dining room and bed apartments over both were destroyed. But Mr. Moore's loss will not fall short of twenty-five thousand dollars, upon which there is no insurance; but Moore has much, if not more left, and will do his best to accommodate his friends and patrons.

The proprietor of the Mansion House, Mr. Wm. Treloar, has sustained a large loss in the destruction of the property named, upon which he has an insurance of only about nine thousand dollars. He cannot replace the buildings and make good his contract with Mr. Moore for a less sum than thirty-three thousand dollars.

Scenes were enacted at the close of the fire which should not have occurred. Some of our sufferers were most badly treated and some of our best citizens were assaulted by drunken men, who, because they were not supplied with liquor, attempted to murder as a revenge. The actors in this scene were not North Carolinians nor were they South Carolinians.

We drop the curtain, but urge upon our fellow citizens confidence and protection.—Charlotte Bulletin.

AGAINST MOBS.—We have sometimes had occasion to differ with the Wilmington Journal, but we have always conceded to that paper sincerity of purpose. It advocates law and order and is true to the best interests of the State and Confederacy. We are glad to see it speak out against the recent destruction of private property in this city by mob violence. That paper says:

By a private dispatch received this morning from Goldsboro' by a private citizen, we have been put in possession of information which has caused us more pain than we can find words to express. The dispatch is brief, but it contains the announcement of occurrences which, if as stated, cannot be too deeply regretted or too earnestly deprecated. The substance of the dispatch amounts to this, namely, that on last night a regiment of Georgia troops gutted the Standard office and threw the types into the street. In retaliation citizens gutted the office of the State Journal, destroying everything.

We do most sincerely hope that there may prove to be some mistake, or at least great exaggeration in this report, and shall therefore forbear any lengthened comment until something fuller and more definite is ascertained in reference to the circumstances of the case. We will only now pause to reiterate our solemn protest and remonstrance against all cases of mob violence, whether by parties in the army or out of it.—Nothing can be more injurious to our cause or more dangerous to our liberties—nothing more at variance with the spirit and the practice upon which our people have justly prided themselves. For the sake of all we hold most dear, let us not be called upon to witness, among ourselves, scenes like those which we have justly regarded as casting a stigma upon our country at the North. If any such scenes or any proximity to them has occurred, for God's sake let them never occur again! Never—Never!

to return to the Yankee Senate if Lincoln would grant an amnesty to the South, and asking Lincoln to allow a correspondence with the said Senators, the correspondence to pass through the hands of the President of the United States." Lincoln thus replies:

EXECUTIVE MANSION,) Washington, Dec. 12th, 1862. Hon. Fernando Wood:

Dear Sir—Your letter of the 8th, with the accompanying note of the same date, was received yesterday.

The most important paragraph in the letter, as I consider, is in these words: "On the 25th of November last I was advised by an authority which I deemed likely to be well informed, as well as reliable and truthful, that the Southern States would send representatives to the next Congress, provided that a full and general amnesty should permit them to do so. No guarantee or terms were asked for other than the amnesty referred to."

I strongly suspect your information will prove to be groundless; nevertheless, I thank you for communicating it to me. Understanding the phrase in the paragraph above quoted—"the Southern States would send representatives to the next Congress"—to be substantially the same as that "the people of the Southern States would cease resistance, and would inaugurate, within the limits of such States, under the Constitution of the United States." I say that in such case the war would cease on the part of the United States; and that if within a reasonable time "a full and general amnesty" were necessary to such end, it would not be withheld.

I do not think it would be proper now to communicate this, formally or informally, to the people of the Southern States. My belief is that they already know it; and when they choose, if ever, they can communicate with me unequivocally. Nor do I think it proper now to suspend military operations to try an experiment of negotiation.

I should, nevertheless, receive with great pleasure the exact information you now have and also such other as you in any way may obtain. Such information might be more valuable before the 1st of January than afterward.

While there is nothing in this letter which I shall dread to see in history, it is perhaps better for the present that its existence should not become public. I therefore have to request that you will regard it as confidential. Your obedient servant, A. LINCOLN.

PERSONAL.—Mrs. Gen. John Morgan, and her sister, Miss Reedy, of Murfreesboro', Tennessee, were in Lynchburg, Tuesday. They are on their way to Danville, Va., as a place of refuge.

Many families of Warren and Hinds counties still draw annual supplies of Yankee rations at Vicksburg.—Jackson Mississippi.

Parson Brownlow is with Gen. Burnside's army, on his way to Knoxville, to revive his paper, the Knoxville Whip. He says the first number will be worth reading.

MILITARY NOTICES.

TO THE SOLDIERS OF THE CONFEDERATE STATES. AFTER MORE THAN TWO YEARS OF A WARfare scarcely equalled in the number, magnitude, and fearful carnage of its battles, a war in which your courage and fortitude have illustrated your country and attracted not only gratitude at home, but admiration abroad, your enemies continue a struggle in which your final triumph must be inevitable.

You know too well, my countrymen, what they mean by success. Their malignant rage aims at nothing less than the extermination of yourselves, your wives and children. They seek to destroy what they cannot plunder. They propose as the spoils of victory, that your homes shall be partitioned among the wretches whose atrocious cruelties have stamped infamy on their Government. They desire to incite servile insurrection and light the fires of incendiarism wherever they can reach your homes, and they debase the inferior race, hitherto docile and contented, by promising indulgence of the vilest passions, as the price of treachery.

Willow-citizens, no alternative is left you but victory, or subjugation, slavery and the utter ruin of yourselves, your families and your country. The victory is within your reach. You need but stretch forth your hands to grasp it. For this end, all that is necessary is, that those who are called to the field by every motive that can move the human heart, should promptly repair to the post of duty, and stand by their comrades now in front of the foe, and thus strengthen the armies of the Confederacy as to ensure success. The men now absent from their posts, if present in the field, suffice to create numerical equality between our force and that of the invaders.

I call you, you, then, my countrymen, to hasten to your camps, in obedience to the dictates of duty, honor and duty, and summon those who have been permitted to return to visit their families, to repair without delay to their respective commands, and I do hereby declare that I grant a general pardon and amnesty to all officers and men within the Confederacy, now absent without leave, who shall, with the least possible delay, return to their proper posts of duty; but no excuse will be received for any delay beyond twenty days after the first publication of this proclamation in the State in which the absentee may be at the date of the publication.

By the President: J. P. BENJAMIN, Sec'y of State. The papers throughout the Confederate States are requested to copy the above proclamation, at the earliest moment, and for twenty days thereafter, and send their bills to the Private Secretary of the President.

CONSRIPT OFFICE, CAMP HOLMES, Aug. 6, 1863. GENERAL ORDERS, No. 17. IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE ABOVE PROCLAMATION of amnesty and pardon by the President, an earnest invitation is extended to all persons absent without leave from the army, to report themselves immediately to their regiments. All good citizens are entreated to see every means in their power to prevail upon persons of the class named to return to their duty. They will be well treated and past offences forgotten.

TO THE AFFLICTED—A CURE FOR RHEUMATISM. THE UNDERSIGNED HAVING FOR YEARS administered an ointment to many friends in cases of Rheumatism (which she considers almost a specific in the disease) gratuitously, now offers it for sale to the public for a small consideration, believing that its general use will greatly diminish the empire of this terrible tyrant: HUNDREDS HAVE BEEN RELIEVED BY IT! READ THE CERTIFICATES—TRY IT! Price: $5 per box, sent by mail anywhere in the Confederate States. Address MRS. S. A. REID, box 307, Raleigh, N. C.

FAYETTEVILLE, N. C., July 31, 1863. Dear Mrs. Reid: After having tried your Ointment for Rheumatism thoroughly, and having experienced great relief therefrom, I feel safe in saying that it is one of the greatest remedies of the age. Nothing can eradicate the disease, but it can be relieved to a certain extent, and your Ointment accomplishes all that any medicine can do. I have recommended it in numerous instances, and always with good results; its use has been attended. God bless you for your kindness in administering relief to the afflicted. THOS. J. JOHNSTON. RALEIGH, N. C., August 1, 1863.
