The bill to incorporate Blackmer's Lodge, No. 170, in Buncombe county.

Mr. Horton said he did not believe in making speeches for Buncombe. He had been a member of the Legislature thirty years ago, and had never yet made a speech for Buncombe. He did not intend to do so now; but he would appeal to the Senator from Buncombe, who had introduced the bill to change the name by striking out Biack and inserting White. He did not like the present name. He was in favor of preferring whites to blacks. Moreover, as a lodge for whites both the Senator from Buncombe and himself could join. He also wanted the bill to provide that all white women of respectable standing should be entitled to admission in said Lodge, He hoped the Senator and himself were both fitten for admission now; if not they would strive to make themselves so in order to get into the company of indies whom, while they could call each other "brother" they could take by the hand and call "sister." The bill passed.

CALTS-APRIC SCHOUTS FOR THE PARS ASSOCIATION. Entered seconding to set of Congress, in the year 1861, by J. S. Thrasor in the Clerk's Orlice of the District Court of the Confederate States of the Northern Dis-trict of Georgia.

RIGHMOND, Dec. 9 .- New York and Baltimore papers of the 9th (?) received.

Lincoln's message is published in full. He says the condition of our foreign affairs is reasonsble and satisfactory. We have strictly maintained neutrality between the belligerents in Mexico. There is a good prospect that the inter-oceanic route via San Juan will soon be re-opened. After enumerating the South American republics, with which our relations are of a most friendly nature, he solicits authority to furnish a gunboat to Liberia, the cost to be reimbursed to the United States by instalments. The noble design of telegraphic communication between America and Great Britain has been renewed with the full expectation of its early accomplishment

"he rebellion in China has at last been suppressed with the co-operation of officers of this government and other States. He says that the ports of Norfolk, Fernandina and Pensacola have been opened, and it is hoped that foreign morchants will resort to these and other open ports rather than pursue contracts and trade with other ports closed by a lawful and effective blockade. Unforescen political differences have arisen in the Brazilian and British ports which are now in course of ad-

Notice has been given that the United States will increase her naval armament upon the Lakes.

The public debt on the first of July was nearly eighteen hundred mill on dollars, held for the most part by our own people, and has become a substantial branch of national though private property. After reference to various subjects of no general interest to Confederate readers, Lincoln notices the continuance of the war with results which he regards as important .-He recommends a proposed amendment to the constitution abolishing slavery throughout the United States. He refers to the result of the recent election as an evidence of the purpose of the people of the loyal States to maintain the integrity of the Union .

The election returns show that the great majority of men who compose Army and Navy state living the we are gaining strength, and if need be maintained interest with insurgents indefinitely .- [So the dispatch reads-Ep.1 It is the public purpose to re-establish and maintain the national authority unchanged, or as we believe unchangeable. On careful consideration it seems to me no attempt at negotiation with the insurgent leader could result in any good. He would accept nothing short of a severance of the Union, which we cannot voluntarily yield. Its issue can only be tried by war and be decided by victory, but the Southern people can re-accept union, and the amnesty offered one year ago is still open to all on condition to

In conclusion, Lincoln says that he will not retract or modify his emancipation proclamation, and in stating a single condition of peace he means simply to say that war will cease on the part of the United States government whenever it should have ceased on the part of those who began it. [The above dispatch is so badly "builed" up that we can make but little sense of it, but we do not think that the operators in the Raleigh office are to blame, for we have the Wilmington Journal, containing the same tele gram, before us, and find that the sentences that we can make nothing of are left out. The fault is somewhere between here and Richmond, or at that place. We do not like to complain but we have had so much of the same sort recently that we find ourself getting a little vexed .- Ep.

Rosseau and Milroy held Murfreesboro'. A body of rebels assaulted the Block House near that algoe on Monday, but were driven off with the loss of six pieces of artillery and a number of priseners.

Detroit is again greatly excited by anticipations of raid from Canada. Lincoln made a short speech on Wednesday night to a erenading party. He had no good news to tell them yet -had no bad news-but the most interesting news now is from Sherman. We all know where he went in at but we can't tell where he will come out. He proposed three cheers for Sherman. The New York gold market is excited by a bill introduced into Congress prohibiting speculation in gold and by the tone of Lincoln's message. The latest quotations

From Petersburg.

PETERSBURG, Dec. 9.—The main body of the enemy's raiding column is in the vicinity of Jarratt's, 30 miles south of this city. Fighting has been going on there to-day, but the result is unascertained. Our forces hold Bellfield and the bridge is strongly guarded. The enemy destroyed Sussex Court House on their route and seized horses and cattle everywhere.

From Richmond.

RICHMOND. Dec. 10 .- The "Whig" says that in spite of the snow, rain and mud there are strong indications this morning of active operations on the lines below Richmond. Our forces were in line of battle. The enemy were driven from their exterior works on our left this morning.

RICHMOND, Dec. 11 .- The affair on the lines below Richmond yesterday was only a reconnoissance by Grant and Longstrest. Results unimportant.
