OUR WASHINGTON DELEGATION. The delegation of loyal North Carolinians who left Raleigh for Washington some time since. were expected home last night at 12 o'clock, or to-day at eleven at the farthest. We are informed that they have received assurances from President Johnson, which they consider satisfactory. Our readers are probably sware that another delegation, aside from the one headed by Mr. Holden, also went to the capital, and we are happy to state that it is probable that both these parties agreed on a basis of reconstruction, and are returning in the best nature towards

THE BAPTIST SUNDAY SCHOOL ANNIVERSARY -The Concert and Exhibition in the Baptist Church last night given by the children of the Sabbath School attached to the Church, was well attended and the proceedings were of the most satisfact my mder. The building was densely packed by the members of the Church, and we noticed quite a sprinkling of strangers in their midst. A rostrum constructed by continuing the level of the platform on which the pulpit usually stands had been constructed and on it the different classes stood when resting or singing .--Mr. W. J. Palmer, the Superintendent of the school, had the immedia a charge of the scholars, and by his perfect management of the programme, obviated all mistakes and everything passed off smoothly. The interior of the church was gracefully ornamented with festoons of everyroens, studded with roses and flowers, and presented a pleasant and attractive appearance. On the wall immediately in the rear of the platform used by the children, the following appropriate acriptural quotation, surrounded with evergreens, appeared :

"I love them that have me, and these that seek me early shall find me.

The female scholars were all neatly dressedmost of them in white and their appearance and general depertment was not only creditable to then selves but to their teachers and purchts. The remarkable acoustic properties of the Church assisted in making the sometimes indistinct atter-

As to myself, I ask up popularity, no reward ; but I dure the War Department to publish my official etter, out reports it assort that my official reports have seen purposely suppressed, while all the power of the press has been malignantly turned against me. It may be thought strange that one who has no fame but as a soldier should have been so careful to try to restore the case power of the Government and the peaceful inds tart and f the Federal Courts ; but it is difficult to discover in that fact any just cause of offense to an enlightened and free p-ople. We lay before our readers the following letter from Gen. Joseph E. Johnston, stating the causes which induced him to make terms of surrender with Gen. Sherman. We believe Gen. Johnston's conduct, and his refusal to continue the war after all hope of success was vain, is generally approved ; but if any one has a doubt on the point, the reasons set forth by Gen. Johnston will clearly show that he acted correctly and do hereby appoint Thursday, the first day of June next, to be observed wherever in the United States the flag of the country may be respected, as a day of humiliation and mourning, and recommend my fell w-citizens there to assemble in their respective places of worship, and to unite in solemn service to Almighty God in memory of the good man who has been removed, so that all shall be occupied at the same time in contemplation of his virtues, and sorrow for his sudden and violent end.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand, and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed. Done at the city [L.s] of Washington, the 20th day of April, in the year of our Lord 1865, and of the Independence of the United States the 89th

ANDREW JOHNSON.

By the President.

W. HUNTER, Acting Secretary of State.

In obedience to this Proclamation, a meeting will be held in the Capitol Square this morning, at ten o'clock. It will be addressed by several chaplains, gentlemen attached to the United States Christian Commission, and perhaps by some of our local clergy, all of whom are invited to attend. We hope that our citizens, appreciating, as we have no doubt they do, the character of the day, will be present to show their regard for the memory of him who fell by the hand of an exectable assassin, and who every every one acknowledges was in fact our friend.

The services, while partaking more particularly of a religious tendency, will also be of a nature to show the general love and veneration which all of us must feel for the martyred Lincoln. We sincerely hope that the attendance will be creditable. We understand that several of the regiments encamped in our vicinity intend holding appropriate services.

Services will also be held in the Baptist Church. We have not been informed whether the other religious denominations intend taking any notice of the proclamation or not, but suppose they will. We would suggest that in the future our clergymen would do our reasters a favor by notifying us when they propose holding unusual services, in order that we can publish ti. | over the road. ances of the speakers distinctly heard by the whole audience.

The "opening speech" by Master Ruffin Litchford, was deservedly praised, and, although we were not fortunate enough to witness the whole performance, we feel warrented in stating on the opinions of others who were present, that it was probably the best effort of the evening. The following is the programme : PART I

We are informed that by particular request the performance will be repeated to-morrow evening

At the Congressional Reunion n. New York, Mr. Filton read the following extract from a letter reelved from Chief Justice Chase :

"I would like to say to the Christians who shall assamble at your reunion an earnest word on the present great national duty of granting to the freedmen of the South the right of soif-protection by the ballet, • My last communication on this subject with the good President whom we have lost, way on the morning of the black day, and I may say he was nearer right on this subject, according to my views of right, on that last day of his life, than on any other day before. orders from the Government to provide transportation for fifty thousand men to come west of the Army of Tennessee (that under my command.) the number of infantry and artillery present and absent was 70,510-the total present 18, 578-the effective total, or fighting force, 14,179. On the 7th of April, the date of the last return 1 can find, the effective total of the cavalry was 5,-440 But between the 7th and 26th April was greatly reduced by events in Virginia and apprehensions of surrender. In South Carolina we had Young's Division of cavalry, less than one thousand, besides Reserves and State troops -together much inferior to the Federal force in that State. In Florida we were as weak. In Georgia our inadequate force had been explured in Macon. In Lieut. Gen. Taylor's department there was no means of opposing the formulable army under General Canby which had taken Mobile, nor the cavalry under General Wilson which had captured every other place of importance west of Augusta. The matter had been stopped at Macon by the argistice, 1- we had been at Greenshore," but its distance from Augusta being less than half of ours, that place was in its power.

To carry on the war, therefore, we had to depend on the Army of Fennessee alone The United States could have brought against it twelve or filteen trues its number in the armies of Generals Grant, Sherman and Canby With such odds rgoinst us, without the means of procuring amnorition or repairing arms, without money or eredit to provide food, it was impossible to contions the war except as robbers. The consequence of prolonging the struggle would only have been the destruction or the dispersion of our bravest men, and great suffiring of women and children by the desolation and run - inevitable from the marching of 200,000 men through the country.

Having failed in an attempt to obtain terms giving security to citizons as well as soldiers, I had to choose between wantonly bringing the ey is of war upon those I had been chosen to defend, and averting those calamities with the confession that hopes were dead which every thinkin ; Southern man had already lost. I therefore stipulated with dear Sherman or the security of the brave and true men committed to me on terms which also terminated hostilities in all the country over which my command extended, and announced it to your governmentas fo lows :

" The disaster in Virginia, the capture by the enery of all o 6 workshops for the preparation of association and repairing of arms, the the impossibility of recruiting our little army, The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad has received opposed to more than ten times its number, or of supplying it except by robbing our own citizons; destroyed all hope of successful war I have herefore made a military convention with | chosen a representative who will be agreeable to Majo. General Sherman to terminate hostilities | American people.
