

THE NEWS

See Fourth Page for latest telegraphic news.
Magistrates have been appointed by Gov. Holden in seventy counties of the State.

THE CITY.

FOURTH OF JULY IN RALEIGH.—The people of Raleigh for the first time since 1860—a period of five years—celebrated last Tuesday, the recurrence of the national anniversary.

But the fourth, as stipulated in the programme of the citizen committee, only opened at 11 o'clock of that day. Before that hour, however, a large company of ladies, citizens, soldiers and strangers, had assembled in Capitol Square, exhibiting in their faces and manners that they had met for a purpose not unpleasant.

At the hour named, a lively air from the band announced the approach of the Orator of the Day, S. F. Phillips Esq., of Chapel Hill, who was accompanied to the stand by the Committee of Arrangements, Messrs A. Johnson, Wm. White, J. J. Litchford, H. Mahler, A. Creech, G. B. Waterhouse, and B. P. Williamson; and by Governor Holden, Dennis Heatt, of the Hillsboro Recorder, Col. Cannon of the Standard, and Aid to the Governor; J. L. Pennington, of the Progress; Judge Battle, of Chapel Hill; Gen. D. G. Fowle, Maj. W. H. Bagley, Gen. Alden, commandant of the post; and Maj. Dyer, Provost Marshal.

In a few moments after the officials were seated and quiet reigned among the auditors, the Rev. Dr. Craven, of the Methodist Episcopal Church, invoked the throne of grace in a fervent and eloquent supplication for blessings upon the country—that disunion and ungodliness might alike disappear, and there be established glory to God in the highest; and on earth peace, good will towards men. It was such a prayer as only an earnest soul could frame and must have provoked from the assembled multitude equally zealous amens.

The band then executed an appropriate piece of music, when W. S. Mason, Esq., U. S. District Attorney for North Carolina, introduced Mr. Richard C. Badger, who read in a clear voice and clever style the Declaration of Independence.

At its conclusion, Mr. Phillips was presented to the audience and commenced his oration. It would impair the value of that effort to essay in brief space the presentation of its features. He referred to the day; the glorious associations which twined around it; the peculiarity of that celebration; the struggle through which the South had passed; the duties of the present and the hopes as well as promises of the future—all in an eloquent manner. His tribute to the heroism, uncomplaining and chivalrous bearing of Southern soldiers, as illustrated on a hundred well-contested battle fields, was not merely eminent appropriate, but just—especially was the reference to North Carolinians who had been in Confederate service—the dead and the living—beautiful and touching as a tribute to bravery and daring. He also made complimentary reference to the Union armies, and the spirit of devotion which they had displayed in behalf of perpetuating the great, glorious and beneficent government of their fathers. But the speciality of the address was Mr. P.'s able and successful defence of North Carolina against the assaults which had been made upon her loyalty and devotion to the old government. He boldly asserted that, when not constrained to a different course by arbitrary power, her people had never failed to enter their protest against disruption—against secession—and its attendant principles. Besides, even when oppressed with the presence of armed persuasion, or equally potent menaces, the popular heart had throbbled responsive to the music of the Union—of retracing false steps—of separate State action for the attainment of the end of re-entering the sisterhood of States, who, though "distinct as the billows," were and ought to be "but one as the ocean."

We are not essaying a repetition of his language, but simply supplying a general idea of the main features of the address. It was in keeping with his previous reputation as a speaker and thinker; clearly and unequivocally Union.

His suggestions as to the present and future duties of loyalists—indeed, of the citizens—of this State, must bear their influence and have much weight with those who heard them.

At the conclusion of the specification, the band performed a favorite piece, the benediction was pronounced, and the multitude quietly dispersed, evidently pleased at what they had seen and heard. At mid-day a national salute was fired under direction of the military authorities.

The public ceremonies were then suspended until sunset, when a grand display of fireworks took place from the head of Fayetteville street and immediately in front of the capitol. Rockets, roman candles, and all the usual varieties of pyrotechnicals were continually illuminating the heavens amid the shouts and huzzas of a dense throng of people. At many other points—in the military camps and on individual accounts—like exhibitions were made, but of course on a less magnificent scale. It was midnight before they ceased—indeed, we believe that desultory manifestations were had until day-dawn of yesterday.

Altogether, the celebratorial spirit of Tuesday would contrast favorably, we are advised, with similar exhibitions in years by-gone. The weather was intensely warm and that of itself was sufficient to disappoint many in their expectation of attending; besides, the military did not as has been their wont contribute by organized presence to the pomp of the occasion. A more orderly season was scarcely ever known here in the presence of such a festive occasion. As might have been anticipated, a little irregularity distinguished the conduct of a few inebriated men and soldiers on the streets; but the precautions adopted to prevent disturbance of any kind operated like a charm, and the day passed off in a becoming manner.

The military of the city, especially Major Dyer—whose personal efforts attracted our attention—are entitled to the thanks of the community for their efforts to conserve the interests of order, and preserve the peace and dignity of the city.

It is an undeniable fact that the celebration of the Fourth of July by the colored people of Raleigh and vicinity was a success beyond the expectation of every one. The procession was orderly and pursued the route indicated in the programme without interruption or disturbance. The appearance of the novel assemblage as it passed through the streets, with music playing, banners flying and pennants streaming, elicited many remarks, and we heard but few except in praise. For days previous to the Fourth the road, from the country leading to Raleigh were lined with freedmen coming to participate in the festivities of the day. With fine linen covering, brogan shoes or fine cloth shoes, and handsome clothes and other inconsistencies of dress, including of course the African predilection for gay colors, they tramped through the dusty streets in the sweltering sun regardless of everything but a desire to appear well, attract attention, and preserve order.

Unfortunately, the bust of Abraham Lincoln, advertised to be carried in this procession on a catafalque borne by four men, was so badly broken during its transportation from the North here, that this feature of the programme was dispensed with.

It is estimated that there were three thousand colored men and women in the city; fully two thousand of which were in the line of march. With characteristic love of music many of the country negroes, instead of remaining in their proper places in the procession, rushed forward to the head of the column to be near the band, and thronged the sidewalks, sweeping everything before them, like an avalanche. In their heedless desire to hear the excellent playing, which added not a little to the success of the affair. As a matter of record we give the following inscriptions on the banners:
BANNER—"No Slave lives beneath this flag."
Members of F. D. Equal Rights League—Badge: Red, White and Blue.
BANNER—"With malice towards none, with charity for all."
BANNER—"Janu'y 1st 1863. And upon this act, sincerely believed to be an act of justice, warranted by the Constitution upon military necessity, I invoke the considerate judgment of mankind, and the gracious favor of Almighty God."—Proclamation of Emancipation.
BANNER—"If God wills that this mighty scourge of war continue until all the wealth piled by two hundred and fifty years of unrequited toil shall be sunk, and until every drop of blood drawn by the lash shall be paid by another drawn with the sword, as was said three thousand years ago, so still it must be said—the judgments of the Lord are true and righteous altogether—Abraham Lincoln."
BANNER—"We fought for the Flag: Port Hudson, Milliken's Bend, Olustee, Fort Wagner."
BANNER—"Equal Rights before the law: the only equality we ask."
BANNER—"And I will make a man more precious than gold; yea, a man more precious than the golden wedge of Ophir."
BANNER—"We will teach our children to love the Union."
BANNER—"You may now learn to read yourselves, and also instruct others."—Gov. Holden.

When the procession reached the grounds of the Peace Institute the crowd took seats on benches arranged for the occasion, and the speakers took their places on the stand. The proceedings were inaugurated by a prayer from Wing G. Croom, a colored preacher, after which A. M. Allen, of the Christian Commission, read the Declaration of Independence. C. A. Scott, (colored) of Randolph county, followed by reading the Proclamation of Gov. Holden. Elias Smith, correspondent of the New York Tribune, then read an oration which was well received by his hearers, but we doubt very much whether they comprehended the significance of all of his "big words." He gave them some very good advice, although in some instances he evinced radical proclivities, yet the address was, considering the circumstances, somewhat conservative in its general tenor. Mr. S. was followed by several speakers both white and colored. After singing the doxology and pronouncing the benediction, the crowd partook of an excellent collation spread on tables erected for the purpose under the shady trees in the rear of the building.

At a meeting of the committee of arrangements for the celebration of the fourth of July, at the grove of the Peace Institute, it was voted: that the thanks of this committee and of the whole colored people of Raleigh is due, and is hereby tendered to the Rev. Mr. Atkinson, and to the Board of Trustees, of the Peace Institute, for the privilege of occupying their grounds during the fourth.

Resolved, That we tender our grateful thanks to Major Gen. Ruger, commanding the department of North Carolina; to Major Gen. A. Ames, commanding the 10th Army Corps, and to Brevet Brig. Gen. Alden, commanding Post of Raleigh, for the facilities and protection afforded the colored people during this celebration of their first Independence.

Resolved, That we tender our grateful acknowledgments to the various committees, and especially to the ladies for the efficiency they displayed in carrying out the programme of the day.

COUNTERFEITS.—A countryman exhibited to us a day or two since a very base imitation of a $5 greenback, received by him from a soldier for some vegetables. It did not even look like a note, except that it was very coarsely printed on green paper. It bore the pretended likeness of the President and Vice President, and their printed names at each of the lower corners, "A. Lincoln" and "A. Johnson."

We hear of another still bolder imposture, the delusion of a servant into receiving a gold pen advertisement, printed on green paper ornamented with various figures.

And yet another is a note for fifty cents and still another in the shape of a metallic half dollar. The circulation of all such base devices should be heavily punished, for though not all counterfeiters, they are well calculated to deceive the unwary and ignorant.

REMARKABLE RESTORATION.—A friend whose veracity has heretofore been unquestioned, sent us word yesterday afternoon that on the previous day a stranger, in passing between the depot and Price's hotel, suddenly disappeared in such a mystical manner that observers could not decide whether it was by ascent or descent—whether he evaporated or collapsed. Upon minute examination by his friends it was ascertained that he had melted from the effects of the extraordinary heat and the only vestige remaining of him was a pool of oil. Tin cups were vigorously applied, the petroleum dipped up, and poured in a "mould of the human form divine." It was then deposited in an ice-house. The experiment so entirely novel was successful to a marvel; yesterday morning he emerged from the casement at perfect a man as before his dissolution.

ATTEMPT TO BREAK IN.—Between 1 and 2 o'clock on the morning of 5th, an attempt was made forcibly to enter the store of Mr. S. J. Dillon, the old stand of M. B. Royster. Fortunately a safe-guard is always in the establishment and was present to defeat the attempt. He pursued and frightened off the offenders, one a soldier and the other clad in the habiliments of citizenship.

We hear that at a later hour a negro man was assaulted on Wilmington street and that the perpetrators "went through him" as the boys in the army express it. They took from him twenty dollars in money and gave him a receipt in the shape of a sound beating.

We are glad to believe that our people generally are prepared to give midnight prowlers a warm reception.

KNOCKED DOWN AND ROBBED.—A very respectable person, connected with the U. S. M. Railroad, reports that he was knocked down about 8 o'clock, last evening, near the Exchange Hotel, by a party of four soldiers. The blow laid him senseless and the rogues relieved him of his watch, money, keys, &c., literally cleaning his pockets. He says the leader of the party had stripes on his sleeve and thinks he could recognise him if he were to meet him again. He lay on the ground all night and is now left entirely destitute of the means to leave the city or get a meal of victuals.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.—We direct attention to the advertisement of list of letters remaining in the city post office; and to the notice of Lougee & Brother—Dealers in Stoves, Hard and Hollow Ware, etc.

Help Wanted—white girl in a family, application to be made at this office.

D. T. Carraway—Wanted to Rent.

H. D. Turner—Pamphlets on the institution of slavery, &c., for sale.

Jasper Myers—Watch Lost.

Tucker, Andrews & Co.—Iron Stone, China and Glass Ware.

CAUGHT HIM.—Private Riley, whose arrest upon the charge of stealing and whose perilous escape from the cars we noticed a few days ago, reached here Monday night in charge of a guard. He was arrested at Durham's and taken to Newbern for the purpose of identifying the individual to whom he had disposed of the watch. This was done and the watch recovered. He is now in a fair way to get the reward of his evil deeds.

A NEW AID.—Gov. Holden has appointed Tod R. Caldwell, Esq., of Burk county, as one of his Aids, with the rank of Colonel, and that gentleman having accepted the position will immediately enter on the discharge of his duties.

OS DIR.—that all the regiments here which are not full will soon be sent homeward.

NEW GOODS.—Our friend KINSEY, corner of Fayetteville street and Market square, has in store a rare assortment of desirable new goods. The ladies and others should read his advertisement and then go to make examination of his supplies.

Paid Off.—The spooldies are beginning to find their way to this point from Washington. We understand that the 12th N. Y. cavalry were paid off on the 3d and that other regiments fared likewise yesterday.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

LIST OF LETTERS.

REMAINING IN THE POSTOFFICE UNCALLED FOR.

- Allen, Miss M E
Allen, Mrs M C
Almon, Miss S
Almon, Mrs J C
Boon, Mrs J C
Bruce, Miss Lizzy
Belvin, Miss Mollie
Battle, Miss S E
Bancroft, Miss Bettie
Buncomb, Mrs W C
Boyd, Miss E
Busbee, Miss Mary
Clark, Mrs M B
Cannaway, Mrs S F B
Carter, Mrs H M
Carter, Mrs Thos
Cortis, Miss E
Corporal, Miss A E
Cain, Miss B E
Chaffers, Mrs E
Cook, Mrs E
Duncan, Mrs M
Dowd, Miss Annie
Darrab, Miss
Doherty, Mrs M C
Dent, Mrs Sallie
Fort, Mrs W F
Fisher, Mrs S A
Freeman, Mrs
Gillmore, Mrs M
Green, Miss E
Hawley, Miss Sarah
Huskey, Mrs W A
Hogg, Miss Sallie
Holt, Miss Sarah
Keeling, Miss M F
Howard, Miss A
Holding, Miss A
Hatchell, Miss S
Howard, Miss Su
Hudson, Mrs M A
Hudson, Miss W
Justice, Mrs A L G

GENTLEMEN'S LIST.

- Allen, B H
Allen, R H
Allam & Hall,
Allcott, W
Austin, Henry B
Austin, B L
Allston, O F
Allen, W M
Anderson, W E
Appleton, H W
Ashton, J M
Atwood, Wm
Boon, W S
Baker, J A
Bragg, Thos
Baker, John
Brinkley, Wm
Batton, L D
Branch, Thos
Bush, O
Benders, R
Barber, M B
Browning, H
Barey, James
Barnard, F A
Barnes, J G
Bartlett, B F
Bridger, Jos
Bays, Jos
Banhard, O
Crosier, F J
Caraway, J
Clifton, E P
Chatham, L A
Cress, A (care of)
Campbell, T C
Craigie, Arch
Church, R
Campbell, A
Christopher, F C
Cannaway, J D
Cobb, Rev W B
Clark, J A 2
Courts, E W
Cannon, J
Carter, Thos
Constable, H B (care of)
Clemons, A
Collins, L A
Coach, W H
Caraway, D H
Croft, L H
Cornate, Y
Campbell, Robt
Dick, R P
Dunstan, N (colored)
Dennon, A C
Doney, P (care of)
Dean, Col W C
Dunn, Michael
Dixon, John
Dyer, Gen
Doyle, Chas
Davis, W R
Drake, Wade
Ellison, S (colored)
Earp, W P
Ellington, W J
Farnham, M
Fend, Henry
Fitzgerald, Rev H
Fort, Henry
Fowell, Peter
Fonda, S
Farlane, Col M
Fisher, Dr E C
Feeder, A B
Fend, Henry
Fitzgerro, O
Fisher, D R (care of)
Foster, Wm
Fields, G M
Foster, R D
Frooks, Wm
Francin, J B (care of)
Fletcher, A M
Gwaltney, Wm
Gibbs, Rev J C
Griff, E W
Gillespie, F D
Good, Ben (colored)
Guisler, G C
Hoyte, F
Heath, E (care of)
Hutchings, W B
Hill, H
Harris, W N
Hughes, Hantley
Heck, Col J M
Harris & Howell
Harkney, G
Haulser, G F
Hendry, Robt
Harrison, John
Holland, Dr E B
Haycock, M A
Horton, R H (care of)
Howard, M B
Hollister, J D
Henley R
Hooker, Dr R
Heart, L E
Hick, H H
Hines, Dr P E
Hutchings, B
Please say advertised when calling for above letters.
July 6-11
J. H. McMULLEN, P. M.

WANTED TO RENT.

A SMALL COMFORTABLE RESIDENCE IN THIS CITY. Apply to J. T. CARRAWAY, 44 Fayetteville Street, Standard copy.

WANTED.

TO CONTRACT WITH SOME RESPONSIBLE party to cut 1500 cords of Wood within three miles of Raleigh. RICHARDSON & MILLER, je 29-11

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

E. S. LOUGEE, G. E. LOUGEE, Lougee & Brother, Dealers in Stoves, Hard and Hollow Ware, and Manufacturers of Copper, Sheet Iron and

TIN WARE. WILL KEEP ON HAND EVERYTHING IN their line of business, and warrant every article of their make to be of lasting and durable materials. HOUSE ROOFING AND REPAIRING executed with neatness and dispatch.

NEW GOODS!

New Goods!

I HAVE JUST RECEIVED A LARGE ASSORTMENT of beautiful Prints and Muslins, also, the cheap and durable GAITERS.

LADIES' GAITERS. All sizes from 3 to 10. Children and Ladies Hoop-skirts. Everything that outsiders want will be ordered and delivered at the shortest notice.

J. KINSEY, Fayetteville Street.

LOST.

ONE SILVER HUNTING CASE WATCH, with 4000 ft. of chain, a ring, and a small Hair Brush attached to the chain. A liberal reward will be given to the person returning them, or giving such information as will lead to their discovery.

JASPER MYERS, Lieut. Ordnance Department, Office Court-House, Fayetteville St.

THE INSTITUTION OF SLAVERY IN THE SOUTHERN STATES RELIGIOUSLY AND MORALLY CONSIDERED.

By BAYNE TREVINO, of Washington City, formerly of North Carolina.

The dangerous experiment of emancipation is therein set forth in arguments such as cannot be met.

OBJECT OF THE ADMINISTRATION IN PROSECUTING THE WAR.

BY BAYNE TREVINO.

THE DOUBLE-FACED DEALING OF THE ABOLITIONISTS are ably set forth. It was pronounced by the Philadelphia Age to be one of the ablest campaign pamphlets that could be written. Every public man should have a copy.

Price of the former 50 cents, latter 25 cents. Sent by mail on receipt of price. For sale by H. D. TURNER, je 6-31

JUST RECEIVED AT TUCKER, ANDREWS & CO'S. ON CONSIGNMENT. A LARGE LOT IRON, STONE, CHINA AND Glass Ware. Also, Ten Barrels Brown Sugar. All of which will be sold cheap for cash. je 6-31 Standard copy.