THE LOSS TO THE SOUTH IN THE DEATH OF MB. LINCOLN.—Speaking of the execution of the assassins. the Richmond Republic says: There was but one evil that could add aggravation to our case, and that was the murder of the very man upon whose faith and kindly nature our whole reliance for the mitigation of our misfortunes reposed. The man who struck down the late President aimed a murderous blow against the South, between whom and those woes which befall the vanquished, Mr. Lincoln stood, It was not for us to desire a mitigation of the fate of. the conspirators, or to question the manner of their taking off. We were the chief sufferers by the assassination, and we should have continued to suffer if they had escaped conviction and punishment. We are not in a condition to shoulder a vicarious crime As the crime is at last punished, as the blood of the criminals has expiated the blood of the innocent, we may now be relieved of the odium of an unjust imputation, and spared the insult of a perpetual crimi-

Two gentlemen from Georgia made an appeal to Mr. Seward, the Secretary of State, to the effect, that some privilege promotive of his comfort and health should be bestowed upon the Hon. A. H. Stephens, then and now a prisoner, as our readers know, in Fort Warren. The Secretary kindly assured them that he would institute proper enquiries and it it could, the privilege solicited would not be withheld from the distinguished prisoner.

"But, gentlemen," said the Secretary, eyeing them keenly, "have you not a word to say for Mr. Davis? -no petition to present for him?" Surprised and confounded our Georgia friends hesi-tated-when the Secretary quickly remarked-"since his (Mr. D's arrest, save from Mrs. Davis, not one appeal has come from the South in his behalf." Upon this incident we have no comment to offer .-

A COW DRINKS EIGHTEEN GALLOWS OF WHIS-KEY .- The Troy Times, of Eriday, gives a most remarkable case of "beastly" intoxication:

It seems that on the upper part of Green Island an illicit whisky still existed, until yesterday, when Marshal Kipp, Collector Woodward, and Inspector Fales made a raid on the premises, and locked up both the owner and the door. A month ago the distillery was in fu'l blast. It was a "still" night, and the man running the machine, who had made eighteen gallons of whisky, put it out in the open sir to cool. Along came a cow. She was thirsty, and the beverage looked inviting. She swallowed every drop -eighteen gallons of unrectified whisky, warranted to kill at forty rods. That cow has been drunk ever since. She staggered home, and is now in the fourth week of a grand old bonder "The cow eats n thing falls down whenever they try to raise her up, and has become as lean as a crow instead of a cow, Whether the cow will ever get s ber, or end her life in a fit of delirium taemens, is a question we shall look anxiously to see the solution of. It is really a remarkable case, and we should scarcely believe it, if our informant was not connected with the telegraph, and of course, perfectly reliable.

CAMP MEETING ANECDOTE. -At a camp meeting number of ladies continued standing on the benches not withetanding the frequent hints from the minister to sit down. A reverend old gentlemen noted for good humor, arose and said.

"I think if those ladies standing on the benches knew they had holes in their stockings, thee would sit down.'

This address had the desired effect-there was an Immediate sinking into the seats. A young minister standing behind him, and blushng to the temples said: "O, brother, how could you say that?"

"Say that?" said the old gentleman, "it's a factif they kadn't holes in their stockings, I'd like to knaw how they could get them on.

A WIFE DIES ON HER HUSBAND'S GRAVE, -A Singular event occurred in the German Reformed Cemetary in Middletown, Frederick county about sunset on the 4th of July. Mrs. Hannah Keller, a widow lady, well advanced in years, residing in Middletown, in company with her daughter, visited the grave of her deceased husband, on the evening above stated, and whilst trimming the flowers upon his tomb, was suddenly stricken by apoplexy and died in a few moments. On the following afternoon her remains were deposited in the very spot where she died, by the side of those of her husband.

The theatrical wardrobe of J. Wilkes Booth, the assassin, which was picked up from the wreck of the hooner Marie Victoria, has been sold by auction in Canada. Though most of the articles were greatly damaged by the salt water, they realized high prices. A dressing case, nearly in pieces, brought fitteon dollars, and spoiled costumes were knocked down at twenty-five dollars each.

THE CITY.

The Last Drinking Establishment Closed .-Yesterday upon the authority of Gen. Ames, the provost guard was busy in closing all those places where spirits of vini gallici-as we apothecaries say-had been vended. It is understood that the order included every saloon in the city, and the principle of no future sales applies as well to grocers and other stores.

It is related that a soldier recently on trial for habitual drunkenness, was addressed by the President: "Prisoner you have heard the prosecution for habitual drunkenness. what have you to say in defence?" "Nothing, please, your honor, but habitual thirst." This would be the plea of many in our midst, we presume, but even that class will readily admit the propriety of the new order.

It is well said that when Sir Thomas Moore wrote his Utopia, and Harrington his Oceana, they were both at liberty to exercise "their fancies in constructing model conditions of society, without any constraint from the actual facts, necessities or circumstances then existing. Their unshackled imaginations were allowed "to body forth the forms of things unseen," and bestow on the airiest of nothings "a local habitation and a name." Those authors were building Utopias, and such architects are beyond and above all the prosaic criticism of the every day world, which is nevertheless performing soberly and conscientiously the actual work of which the fanciful builder is only dreaming.

These are truisms which no one will attempt to dispute; and while the spirit of intemperance which pervades Raleigh may be by some regarded as of little conse quence, it is important to remember that the chief draw. backs to harmony in the country at present have their source in bad or good whiskey. The fierce tides of the ocean have their origin from small streams, and so immorality's turbulent strength is acquired from the lesser reservoirs of corruption which exist all over the land.

We have but to commend the new order with an expression of hope that it may not be modified in the least until the civil authority has been completely restored to its ordinary and appropriate functions. Neither soldier. sutler, citizen or freedman should form an exception te the ruling until all are alike permitted to engage in the Dinner to Returned Soldiers .- We hear that the proposition in Monday's Progress, in behalf of a dinner to returned and returning Confederate soldiers, has met with the hearty endorsement of citizens of this city as well as county. In a few days a number of gentlemen will adopt measures looking to some definite arrangements, such as fixing the time, place, and method of obtaining that substantial aid without which such entertainments cannot be given. It is pleasant to announce that partizanry has been altogether excluded from the proposal, and that men conspicuous for unwavering and uninterrapted devotion to the Union are as active in the scheme as any who chose a different line of conduct. Such a spirit may not be too highly commended, for the welcome from the citizens of Raleigh and Wake county is toold neighbors and friends, who, whatever may have been their political differences, have never workeds forfeiture of social regard. Let the dinner be prepared and sach a a reunion of hearts and hands distinguish it as shall bring back again the halayon past.

Provost Sanctum .- Yesterday there was the usual rush to the "Sanctum" of the initiated and uninitiated; but we are again pleased to report that the amount of crime seems to be rapidly diminishing. The record of that establishment is a perfect barometer of morals, and the few cases which now come before that tribunal of an important character, is a fitting commentary on the faithful discharge of military duty under the new regime.

Henry, a negro, convicted of stealing a hog and slaughtering the same, was dismissed with a scorching reprimand from the Provost Marshal, Capt. Barrett, as said darkey "bristled" up and paid the owner for his hog.

We must invite attention to the fact that in spite of the dignity of the court room, a great deal of swearing is daily heard within its precincts-of course we mean of a legal kind. A number of the citizens of Harnett, Orange and Burke, yesterday subscribed the oath.

Another Watch Gone .- It seems that the rogues in the city have a partiality for watches-especially fine time pieces. It was only a day or two since that we chronicled the spiriting away of a watch in the market .-Yesterday there was an operation nearly identical in character. The word "bummer" no longer applies to such actions, because it originated in what is styled a military necessity-but thief is the proper designation of persons who practice such games. In the case in which we now speak there was not even the ceremony of asking the time of day, but merely grab and run. We again warn the uninitiated of the dangers which environ them in Raleigh unless they are prudent.

North Carolinians in New York .- It will be gratifying to the denizens of the city to read of the success of schemes of prospective benefit to the old North State. Among other North Carolinians in New York are Col. J. M. Heck and Kemp P. Battle, of our place, and in speaking of them, the Times newspaper says:-

"North Ca-olina is making active exertions to secure emigration to her territory. Col. J. M. Heck and Kemp P. Battle are at the St. Nicholas Hotel, for the purpose of opening offices in the North to furnish information and encourage emigration. They say the people of North Carolina are anxious to have the State filled with Northern settlers, and desire to have their resources fully developed. The feeling is very strong in favor of the new system of labor, and a large majority express gladness at the abolition of slavery. They offer for sale or lease large quantities of land, gold, iron and lead mines, and waterpower, and offer liberal inducements to emigration. This is the first step of the kind taken by any State."

Lively Race .- At an early hour on yesterday morning a soldier came rushing down Martin street, hotly pursued by another, shouting thieves, watch, robbery, stop that man, he has robbed me. Feminine heads were crammed out of the windows, little dogs yelped, big ones barked, while men stood staring stapidly until the fugitive had passed, then joined in the hue and cry. The refugee struck up street at a rapid pace, but his pursuers were galning on him, and we suppose he was overhauled.

Board of Health .- If there is power in the corporate authorities to appoint a Board of Health, we trust it will 'e done, and that the very best men-in point of censcience and energy - in the community will be chosen for the position. It is true now as ever that "an ounce of preventive is worth a pound of cure," and it is especially a fact that both in this country and Europe as much vigilance is requisite as at any moment since Adam was a boy.

New Advertisements - We invite attention to the following new advertisements: B. Oneil-Jewelry at wholesale, Brooklyn, N. Y. Buggy Wanted-apply at counting room.

A Forlern Chance.-It is suggested that those rich men and women who are now waxing morose over the loss of their fortunes, may relieve themselves of their surplus beyond twenty-thousand by donations to poor relations. This is a patriotic and christian method of extricating themselves from embarrassment. Besides, we feel morally certain that Gov. Holden and President Johnson would regard such conduct as incontestible demonstration of penitence and future loyalty. Call up your poor kinsfolk at once. Impromptu Race -A match race between Mr. Miligat Phillips' saddle horse and the young colt belonging to Mr. Colvin Ferguson took place yesterday afternoon on the road leading to Carey. The bet was two hundred dollars each side, the latter horse winning by the length of his neck. The distance run was one mile, and the time of the heat I minute and 40 seconds.

Money Market .- We printed in our last paper a statement of the prices of Southern bank paper, which was designed as a table for the convenience of our readers in estimating values in different States. But as to Raleigh financial matters, we always keep our own report by Grady as the true criterion.

Peterson for July -WEST, the great newspape ialist-imperialist, too, in the marts of magazinedomhas sent us Peterson's National Magazine for July. The ladies have always manifested a partiality for this monarch of fashion and thoroughly literary monthly, and we suspect will exhaust the supply at once.

For New York .- The steamer, Charles Benton, Salter, master, will sail from Newbern for New York on Friday next. She has good accommodation for freight and passengers.

Thanks. - We are under obligations to Mr. E. D. Russell, of Jarratt's hotel, for appreciable favors. We are glad to know that he has lost none of his cleverness and is engaged in the famed house mentioned above. Visitors to Petersburg will find him a trump card.

Read It .- The new order from Lieut. Col. McDonalds It not only suspends the sale of liquor, but brings billiard saloons and ten-pin alleys up to the mark.
