THE NEWS.

-For latest news see Fourth Page.

-Some time since, an advertisement appeared in the Richmond Bulletin in which the advertiser expressed a wish to go into the newspaper business with some one who had the material, as his printing office had been destroyed "by the public enemy." A few days since General Terry's attention was attracted to this expression, and Mr. Baily, the publisher, was sent for to state who the publisher was. He proved to be John J. Palmer, formerly editor of a paper in Winchester, which was taken possession of by the Union troops, who lately returned to Richmond, having been absent since the evacuation. Mr. Palmer was then sent for and committed to Castle Thunder, from whence he has been removed to the city jail. Palmer was a clerk in the Sentinel office here during the war, and was connected with the Richmond Enquirer hefore the

-The Democratic convention of New Jersey met at Trenton on the 30th ult., and nominated General Kunyou, as its candidate for Governor. Resolutions were adopted charging the consequences of the war on the election of a sectional President and the fanaticism of a sectional party; favoring the return to gold and silver currency; declaring and insisting on the rights of the States opposing negro suffrage, and emphatically agreeing with President Johnson that this subject must be left with the States. Thus do the copperheads corporate in their platforms doctrines both sound and rotten.

-The New York Herald's Washington correspondent says of the late Treasury defalcation : Near v twelve hundred thousand dollars were involved, if reports be true. Of this amount it has transpired that about seven hundred thousand dollars were promptly settled by conveyances, and assignments purporting to be good for the balance have also come into possession of the department. In addition to this, bai bonds are held for nearly a quarter of a million of dollars. From all these sources the government can certainly realize the bulk of its unpaid balance.

-Savannah advices state that Gen. Brannon has issued an order levying a tax on the citizens to defray the expense of cleaning the streets. He also issued an order that all arms and accourrements belonging to the Government be turned into the Quartermaster's department. Twenty-three hundred bales of cotton arrived there during the week ending August 26.

-San Francisco advices say that all further search for bodies lost by the wreck of the Brother Ionathan has been suspended. Gen. Wright and amily, it is now known, are certainly among the ictims. Her commander also went down with the vessel There are loud complaints that the steamer was unseaworthy, but the agents declare that the accident would have stove in the stoutest

-The wife of Lewis Washington, of Bellair, Va., is now in Washington importuning for the restoration of their farm, which was confiscated in conseduence of the rebelism of her husband. Lewis Washington is a relative of the Father of his Country, and was, it will be recollected, taken prisoner near Harper's Ferry, by Old JohneBrown.

-- The cotton crop will be almost an entire failure throughout West Tennessee, the rust destroying it before it matures. It is said the best cotton county in the western part of the State will not yield two hundred pounds to the acre.

-It has been represented that attempts have been made to abduct George Saunders from Canada, and that these attempts were incited by the President's proclamation, offering a reward for his arrest. The only proclamation on the subject which has been issued is that of the 21st of May last, and that promises the reward only upon the condition of the apprehension of Saunders within the limits of the United States.

-The New York Express saps : " It is also noted that the direct trade between Southern ports and Rurope is becoming very large. We hear of large mports of sugar at New Orleans, as well as large exports of cotton and of tobacco from thence and from Mobile and Richmond.

-Mr. Mansfield Lovell, formerly Major General of the Confederate army, whose defence of New Orleans did not earn him much reputation among the Rebels. is now reported to be editor of the New York Daila

-The Washington correspondent of the Springfield Republican thus invidiously assails President Johnson: "The President is off on another of his water excusions. He seems to be very fond of them, though he comes back til from them-worse than when he started."

two hundred Swiss and Polish passengers have rec ally arrived, and thousands mose are expected .-Tuese persons leave their native land, many of them in exile for political offenses, and they seek our hospitable shores to escape the tyranny nader which they have long bowed.

-Dr. Craig, of Bristol, is in the Lynchburg jail for killing a man named Goodwin; and Mr. William Davis, of Bristol, is there also for killing Daniel Skinner. The triends of both are confident of their dis-

-Captain Nye, of the ship Abigall, is said to have expressed his scorn and fearlessness of the pirates at the time of his capture, saying to Wordell, of the Shenandoah: 'You have not ruin me yet; I hav ten thousand dollars at home, and before I left I lent it to the Government to help fight such fellows # you."

-A discharged soldier in Washington went inte a saloon with a female named Susan Young. He tried to force her to drink. On her refusing he tried to draw a pistol, from his boot. In doing so it went off, cut one of his arteries, and he bled to death in twenty minutes.

-Kirby Smith is still near Matamoras, on a plantation owned by a Southern planter from Florida.

VOL. VI. RALFIGH, TUESDAY, SEPT. 5, 1865

N(), 250,

THE CITY.

A Coincidence .-- Glancing over one of Sabin's admirable reprints of ancient pamphlets, bearing on the history of this country, entitled "The State Revolution in New England," and originally dated 1689, we find a fresh illu stration of the old proverb, "there is nothing new under the sun." The people of New England, determined no longer to endure the oppression of the Governor, Sir Edmond Andros, rose in revolution, disposed and imprisoned him. The following sentence, referring to the transaction, has a familiar ring: "We have also advice, that on Friday last, towards eveniog. Sir Edward Andros did attempt to make an escape in Woman's apparel, and passed two guards, and was stopped at the third, being discovered by his shoes, not having changed them.

The coincidence of course is between the case of Andros and Mr. Davis.

SCOTT, HARRISON & Co.-We see that this well known and justly popular Petersburg firm announce their purpose to resume business on Sycamore street about the 20th just. It is rather unusual for a distant paper to notice such facts, but the gentlemen who comprise the firm are so deserving that we not only make this meution, but trust the large patronin the future. Their facilities for the transaction of business are unusually extensive—the partners are men of probity, honor, liberality and enterprise-and in the "Cockade city," go and see them.

THE CONDITION. - We are frequently asked upon what condition the drinking saloons of this city have been permitted to resume business. Upon the identical basis which governs this operation in other North Carolina towns. Their proprietors are prohibited from selling to enlisted men under any circumstances, and to drunken citizens or offi-

In fixing the amuont of restraint, Capt. Mc-Ivor was governed by precedents which seem to have official endorsement of the general commanding the department.

DECEASED SOLDIERS. -Mr. James T. Morris, Petersburg-a gentleman who appears highly recommended-gives notice that he will disinter, pack and deliver to either Express office in that city, the remains of any soldier buried in or in twenty miles of Petersburg. His price will be liberal, and will guarantee the corpse to go all right to its destination, either in zine lined cases or metalic cases. The parties ordering remains are of course to furnish information as to the places where the bodies are intered, with names of the deceased.

VERY EMPHATIC. - A severe charge was administered to a man by the Provost Marshal yesterday, who he was discharging from arrest for unlawfully trafficking. He made him at all times responsible for what occurred hereafter on his place, and would hear of no excuse whatever in another case, but would keep him or any other offender of the same class, in the jail until the end of military existence here, and then recommend that he be punished still further. This is beyond doubt the proper view to take in such cases.

PROVOST'S SANCTUM. - A visit to the sanctum of the provost marshal yesterday, inspired us with the full hope that the era of law and order was about to set in. Not a case on the docket! Now, we have only to say that is precisely the way for our people to live. They may take divers and sundry toddies, but there is no necessity for passing the boundary line of law. Eat, drink and be merry, but don't quarrel, fight, cut, slash, and go before the provost.

-The New York Journal of Commerce says about | middle aged southern lady, -a refugee from Florida. She is capable of teaching children, can cut and make children's clothing, and do plain sewing. Inquire for Mrs. Wier, Exchange Hotel.

> MAGISTRATES OF WAKE .- Col. Nathan Ivey, the chairman of the magisterial court of Wake, publishes to-day a summons for the members to meet here next Saturday, for the transaction of business important to the county.

EDUCATIONAL .- We learn from advertisement that Miss Nannie Lovejoy proposes opening a school on the 11th inst. She is thoroughly qualified for the task and will be able to give satisfaction to those who send pupils.

GONE TO WILMINGTON .- Maj. General Crook and staff, left the city yesterday for Wilmington. The General is to assume command at the latter point. relieving Brig. Gen. Hawley.

IN THE FIELD .- We see by his letter to Messrs. Allen Adams, Isaac Rowland and S. M. Williams that Col. Wm. H. Harrison, of this city, is a candidate for the convention from Wake.

RECOMMENDED .-- Dr. R. K. is recommended for Congress from the 1st North Carolina district.

A BENIGN INSTITUTION .- The New York Weekly Review is a welcome visitor to the inner sanctum sanctorum of the Progress, where the jolly element of the editorial corps perform their ardnous, ill-paid, unappreciated, and invisible labors, with paste-pot, scizzors, and piles of exchanges mountain high. The invisible element passes six hours each day, (Sundays not excepted) and only when the Review comes to hand does his grim face relax into a smile of pleasantry.-From its prospectus, we extract the following, advising everybody that the McArone contributions, not enumerated below, are more than worth the price of subscription, which is four dollars per annum:

"To attain variety, however, and fully to merit the favor of cultivated readers, the weekly review gives careful attention to all the sister arts. From week to week, therefore, its columns represent, according to their limits, Printing, Sculpture, the Drama, and General Literature. The place of prominence is, of course, given to Music, which, has been our speciality in journalism for upwards of fifteen years. But in the other departments of this paper, will be found poems, stories, essays, sketches, critical notices of the local Drama and of art exhibitions, book notices, literary notes and general miscellany.

DEAD .- A deranged woman, named Mary Kayanagh, who passed through here last Saturday, from South Carolina, on her way to the Virginia age extended them in times agone may be quadrupled Lunatic Asylum at Staunton, died the next morning in the vicinity of Forrestville.

AN ACTIVE CANVASS .-- Now that the people of we feel justified in predicting that their stock of goods the county have virtually declared in favor of an open will equal any in the Southern country. If you buy fight for the convention, we expect to see an animated but we trust courteous canvass among the different aspirants. There will be at least six Richmonds

> ROW BETWEEN SOLDIERS AND NEGROES. - About 7 o'clock last night, a difficulty occurred near the depot of the North Carolina railroad between a soldier and negro, growing out of some conversation had by the former with an unbleached piece of calico. Words were first exchanged—then menaces with fists followed-and at last each of the belligerents seized guns, but discreet parties at that conjunction interfered and prevented their use.

> The provost guard passed our office in a few minutes after news of the occurrence reached Fayetteville street, at a double quick, but when they arrived at the point of disturbance comparative qui> et had been restored. It is probable the case will be investigated by the provost marshal, if the disputants are identified .--But whether such success is or is not had, the feeling excited among the soldiers against the blacks is intensely bitter. We hear threats of revenge on every hand and shall not be surprised at any moment if called upon to record some startling tragedy.

> We do not pretend to espouse the cause of either party to the affray, in the absence of authentic knowledge of the circumstances; but we think the day is not distant when cuffy will find that freedom is one thing and equality another-that while he has had the first given him, he can never on this earth get the
