The receipts from Internal Revenue reached the unprecedented sum, on Monday, the fourth instant, of four millions two hundred thousand dollars.

One would suppose there was vacant land enough yet for the million, without respect to color, on a glance at the following table.

Table with 3 columns: State, Acres Improved, Acres Unimproved. Includes Virginia, North Carolina, Georgia, Arkansas, Texas.

Winchester, Virginia, is said to have been occupied by the Union and Confederate forces, successively, twenty-six times, making it one of the most "taking" places during the war.

The Petersburg Index says that General Lee's love for Virginia, which has controlled his past life, will blind him to that State for the remainder of it.

A Cairo paper says, in speaking of the recent harrying of two negroes in that city, that everything connected with the affair "passed off pleasantly."

Major General Heintzelman is now on a visit to his home in Manheim, Pennsylvania, after an absence of twenty-five years.

It is said that a proposition will be made at the approaching session of the Alabama Legislature, to pension the surviving married soldiers of that State whose physical disabilities were incurred during the late war.

The British steamship Queen, which arrived from Liverpool last Tuesday morning, the 5th inst., brought fifteen hundred and twenty-six passengers, the largest number of persons that ever crossed the Atlantic in a single vessel.

Mr. David J. Saunders, the Provisional Manager of the city of Richmond, receives an annual salary of $3,000. General Terry expressed a desire to fix his salary at $4,000, but Mr. Saunders refused to accept more than $3,000.

Major Adrian Terry (brother of Major General Alfred H. Terry) has been appointed Assistant Inspector-General for the Department of Virginia.

Governor Morgan of New York has purchased a summer residence in Newport, at a cost of $40,000. He intends to occupy it another season.

A Philadelphia sailor, lately returned from Admiral Dahlgren's squadron, comes accompanied by a diminutive tame pig, a native of South Carolina, which follows his owner like a dog.

The death of Governor Brough was caused by the following accident, as stated in the report of his surgeon:

About five or six weeks since he slightly injured his foot by stepping on a small pebble one evening—an injury which he supposed to be simply a bruise or sprain of the foot, and to rest that foot walked about for a week after leaning heavily on a cane, which produced the same condition in his left hand.

Bella's comet, now approaching its perihelion, will soon be visible. It is now distant about 110,000,000 miles. On the first of November next, it will be close to Alpha Pegasi Markab, one of the four bright stars forming the well-known square of Pegasus.

The Cincinnati Commercial gives this anecdote of Governor Brough's power of voice: During the Polk campaign, Brough was addressing a large audience on the public landing in Cincinnati.

A dramatic trial for murder in Bangor, Me., last week, secured his acquittal by his own simple, frank, and apparently truthful evidence, taken under the new law of that State, allowing all persons accused of crime to be witness in their own behalf.

A western musical critic says that Mr. G. W. Morgan, the organist, "can dig, kick, tramp, pull, thump, jerk and jam more music out of the bowels of that instrument than we ever supposed was in it."

The Richmond Republic, which we recommended to our readers as one of the most lively and sensible journals now printed in Virginia, has the following sketch of Julian P. Benjamin: "It is said that Mr. J. P. Benjamin, late Secretary of State in the government of Mr. Davis, is still in Havana. No one ever doubted, we presume, that Mr. Benjamin would effect a safe and comfortable withdrawal from the ruins of the fallen edifice. He is one of those sagacious statesmen who never forget, in their solicitude for the public interests, the paramount claims of Number One. It was predicted of the tribe of Benjamin that in the morning he shall devour the prey and at night divide the spoil. This has been literally fulfilled by the late Minister of Foreign Affairs. He was the master spirit of the devourers by day, and he did not divide the spoil at night; he has been gravely belied. A good natured, unctuous, placid little man, no one would ever have taken him for a conspirator.

Profession and Practice. The Richmond Whig warns its readers that, while they hold loyal meetings, they must also act like loyal citizens. It says: "The holding of public meetings by the citizens of Virginia, and the adoption of loyal and patriotic resolutions, is a matter we consider of urgent and pressing importance. But these meetings and these resolutions will amount to nothing, unless the people should act in accordance with their spirit at the coming elections."

The Petersburg Express says on the same subject: "Our firm and fixed belief is, that the voice of the people, as declared in the selection of their representatives in Congress and the state legislatures, will alone be accepted by the President and his northern friends as a conclusive and decisive test of loyalty at the South, and whatever may be the demonstrations, in the meantime, in the way of public meetings, they will go for nothing, unless they shall be sustained by the results of the coming elections. If men of the right political stripe (and what that stripe is every body knows) shall be chosen, the object of the intermediate popular meetings will at once be secured. If objectionable men are elected, then all the resolutions that can be framed and adopted, however unambiguously and enthusiastically, will be but labor lost."

A WELL EARNED TRIBUTE.—We were shown, yesterday, a solid silver coffee urn, with school lamp attachment, purchased for presentation to Lt. Col. N. S. Barnes, Medical Director of the Department, by a family who have been recipients of his kindness, in a professional way, during sickness.—Dr. B., by his urbane manners and kindness towards any of our citizens in distress has gained for himself the reputation of a humane and chivalrous officer, and we opine that this well earned tribute is fully merited.

THE DAILY PROGRESS.

VOL. VI. RALEIGH, TUESDAY, SEPT. 12, 1865. NO. 256.

He grew sleek and amiable on the troubles of mankind. He was never more cool and placid than when the rest of the world was in hot water. Seeing very clearly what was coming after the Old Point Commission, he made one of his finest oratorical displays at the African Church, and having set fire to the unsuspecting country gentlemen around him, and stirred them up to a blaze of patriotic pyrotechnics, he gracefully disappeared from the scene, and left them to bear with such composure as they might the startling explosion that he knew was at hand.

It is stated that Senator Sumner has been invited to preside at the Republican State Convention to be held at Worcester on the 14th inst., and has accepted the invitation.

The working-men of South Wheeling, Va., have a joint stock company, with a capital of twelve thousand dollars, for the purpose of establishing a first-class grocery store, from which they are to obtain their family supplies at the lowest cash rates, the profits to be distributed pro rata among the stockholders. The shares are fixed at ten dollars, no person to be allowed to subscribe for more than ten shares.

The Richmond Horse Whipping Case. The Richmond people are still in a ferment over the Wynne-Raynor horse whipping case. Raynor was arrested and arraigned before the Provost court on a charge of assault and battery, with the following specification:—

In this, that he, the said John M. Rayner, did on or about the 6th day of September, at the city of Richmond, Va., assault and with a heavy whip, known as and called a rawhide, and with his flat bands, fists, feet and boots, severely strike, beat, slap, kick and stamp one Charles H. Wynne, a citizen of the said city of Richmond, Va. All this unlawfully and without just cause or provocation, at the time and place aforesaid.

The most important evidence elicited is contained in the testimony of the following witnesses:—

H. W. Starke, sworn: Is acquainted with Mr. Wynne; knows Rayner only by sight; was sitting in a window commanding a view of Franklin street; saw two parties passing in different directions along Ballard House pavement; supposed they would pass each other; heard blow, and saw Mr. Wynne knocked down, and the other party strike him with a whip of some sort. This occurred between one and two o'clock. Saw Rayner arrested by policeman. Neither of the parties had companions, and Mr. Wynne appeared unconscious of any menaced danger. Heard no words preceding or accompanying the blow nor during the struggle. Mr. Wynne was knocked down instantly, falling backward, the blow taking effect somewhere about the face, he supposed, from what he has since seen, on the right eye. Rayner then drew a cowhide—he did not see from whence—and holding him with his left hand, while Mr. Wynne struggled to rise to his feet, struck him repeatedly while in a half upright position over head, face and body. Saw only one blow struck with fist. Did not see Wynne have a pistol.

Thompson Plume, sworn.—Did not see beginning of affray. Saw Wynne down, Rayner holding him with left hand and striking him with a cowhide held in his right hand. Saw Mr. W. struggling to rise, and as he rose partly to his feet, saw him draw a pistol from the back part of his pantaloons, but did not fire it. Heard nothing said by either party, did not see Rayner grasp pistol, Wynne's back being towards him. Thinks there was nothing to prevent Rayner from killing him if he had wished, and been armed.

Jas. Balie, Co. C. 20th N. Y., sworn.—Was turning north-east corner of 14th and Franklin streets, saw Mr. Rayner knock Mr. Wynne down; Mr. W. gave no prior indication of apprehending an attack. Mr. R. then drew a whip, and struck Mr. W. violently and rapidly, until he (Balie) separated them by catching Rayner, who was grasping with his left hand the barrel of a pistol, the stock of which was clutched by Wynne, who was on his feet. Mr. Wynne gave him the pistol, and he took Mr. Rayner before Col. Warren.

Here a pistol was produced and the question asked, "Is that the pistol?"

"It resembles it, but that was all bloody."

He stated that Rayner offered no resistance to his arrest, and thinks that Mr. Rayner had his antagonist sufficiently in his power to have killed him had it been his wish. The only remark he heard was made by Rayner, who said to Wynne, "You insulted me," to which Mr. W. made no reply.

This concluded the examination of witnesses, and the trial was postponed until 11 o'clock, A. M., on Tuesday.

THE CITY.

HYMNOLOGY.—This branch of music is greatly affected in Raleigh just now. Not in one or two, but all sections of the city, and we might almost avow at all hours, night and day, from solo, duet, trio and quartette up to full chorus, we hear hymn and psalm singing. Passionately fond of music, whether the unpremeditated song of the lark, the human voice, or instrumentation, it does not offend us, but complaint is frequently made of the unseasonable hours chosen by ye colored denizens for these indulgences. We remind the freedmen that even religious exercises, in their practice, may reach a point of illegality, and for their own benefit advise them to come down several octaves in their hours.

It is proper to suggest here that the white people are extending to colored worshippers the most liberal privileges. Last Sabbath night, at the Baptist church, the freedmen held interesting religious exercises, and it is stated that the revival spirit was in full blast. We are glad to hear it, but let them do all things decently and in season.

THE WEATHER.—Although the last roses of summer have faded and sober autumn wields the sceptre of the seasons, he seems to have entered into a league with the dethroned queen, and to be bent upon perpetuating her reign under another name, for the heat for the past few days has been worthy of July, indeed, almost unendurable. On Sunday the dark and lowering clouds deluded us with the vain hope that an autumnal storm was about to cool the furnace heat, but they scudded overhead, to visit with their blessings the farmers, not even deigning us a few tantalizing drops to show us "how delicious 'twould be." The heat yesterday was intense, and we fear that the sickness among us will be aggravated in intensity by the unusual warmth of the season. Our voice is for rain.

THE CHOLERA.—We referred briefly Monday to the fact that Secretary Seward had advised Gov. Holden of the good policy of adopting stringent quarantine regulations throughout North Carolina. It may be prudent for us to suggest that the people should generally go to work in behalf of thorough cleanliness in an individual, neighborhood and municipal sense. Let us abate every evidence of the presence on our premises, in our own towns and cities, of everything regarded as prejudicial to health. It is quite probable, we think, that the Governor will through medical aid prescribe a general policy in this matter, but the people can and ought to largely assist in efforts for the public weal.

EPISCOPAL CONVENTION.—Unless unforeseen events defeat the idea, the council of the Episcopal church of the diocese of North Carolina will convene here tomorrow. Bishop Atkinson preached at Lonsburg Sunday and is now on his way to Raleigh.

Such assemblies are always more or less interesting; but the close of the war has left the churches as well as State, somewhat disorganized, and the action of their official leaders will therefore claim more of popular interest than is usual.

Of course the people of the city will illustrate that high order of hospitality for which they have ever been famous.

IMPORTANT TO HOLDERS OF U. S. 5-20 BONDS.—The Commissioner of the Internal Revenue has ordered the following ruling:

When the decision No. 140 was made, the 5-20 bonds issued under the act of June 30, 1864, had not been put into the market.

Said bonds should now be included in the list of United States securities, to be deducted from bank capital, under the section of the Revenue Laws.

REV. DR. CRAVEN.—We find it stated that Rev. Dr. Craven, of this city, has peremptorily refused the use of his name in connection with a seat in the convention from Randolph county. He would make a valuable representative in the councils of North Carolina, but we are sure every friend of moral progress will rejoice at his declination, so that his distinguished abilities may remain exclusively with the church.

AGAINST LAW.—A merchant thinks he will save some of his fellow sellers mulcts in the shape of municipal fines if we will call attention to the fact that there is a local law making people liable to fine for placing or leaving dry goods boxes, barrels, and the like, on the streets. Gentlemen who have heretofore offended will please take notice.

GETTING UP IN THE PAPERS.—We believe Raleigh is fast acquiring claim to the dignity or corruption of a full grown city. There are within the corporation limits five hundred drinking saloons, more or less; two excellent ten-pin alleys; two or three billiard saloons; four or five hotels; dry goods and grocery establishments in abundance; clothing emporiums of huge proportions; half a dozen "more you put down, the less you take up" shakers; nine thousand hucksters; and one hundred and fifty thousand muck-sters; and a good many other things. Raleigh is advancing.

A WELL EARNED TRIBUTE.—We were shown, yesterday, a solid silver coffee urn, with school lamp attachment, purchased for presentation to Lt. Col. N. S. Barnes, Medical Director of the Department, by a family who have been recipients of his kindness, in a professional way, during sickness.—Dr. B., by his urbane manners and kindness towards any of our citizens in distress has gained for himself the reputation of a humane and chivalrous officer, and we opine that this well earned tribute is fully merited.

MILITARY ELECTION.—The following was handed in last night:

HEAD QUARTERS, 120TH IND. VOL. INF'TY, RALEIGH, N. C., Sept. 7th, 1865.

Pursuant to previous notice, the Officers of the 120th Ind. Vol. Inf'ty met for the purpose of electing Field Officers for said Reg't.

On motion, Lt. Col. Kise was elected as President of the meeting, and Lt. F. J. McClure, Secretary.

On motion of Capt. H. Gilham, Lt. Col. R. C. Kise was unanimously elected by acclamation Colonel of the 120th Indiana Volunteer Infantry, vice Col. A. W. Prather, resigned.

On motion of Capt. E. P. McCluskey, Major J. M. Barcus was unanimously elected, by acclamation, Lt. Col. of the 120th Ind., vice Lt. Col. R. C. Kise promoted.

Candidates were then called for, for the Major of the Reg't., when Capt. Albert Knowles and Capt. Henry Gilham announced themselves as candidates for that office.

The candidates were then balloted for, with the following result:

Capt. Albert Knowles received seven (7) votes. Captain Henry Gilham received nineteen (19) votes.

The votes being counted, the President declared Capt. H. Gilham elected Major of the 120th Ind. Vol. Infantry, vice Major J. M. Barcus, promoted, he having received a majority of votes cast.

On motion, the meeting adjourned.

LIST OF FIELD OFFICERS. President, Lt. T. J. McCLURE, Secretary.

ON DUTY.—It was currently reported on the streets yesterday evening, that parties not of northern birth designed establishing in Raleigh a daily paper to be devoted to the advocacy of negro suffrage.

We do not vouch for the truth of the report, though that there are individuals in our midst willing to engage in such an enterprise we verily believe. This is an age of free discussion, and if the news-bos should soon be crying out, "Here's your journal of negro suffrage," it would not astound us, however premature such publication would be thought.

NO MORE RATIONS.—For the third time, the commandant of this department has closed the door against the issue of gratuitous rations. We can only express regret that the dishonest system of responsible men recommending unworthy persons will deprive the deserving of help in the respect of family supplies.

COLORED TROOPS TO BE MUSTERED OUT.—We learn from the best authority the 1st, 5th, 6th and 27th regiments infantry, U. S. colored troops, are soon to be mustered out of the service.

This confirms what we stated a few days ago, and soon we shall have none of the class in North Carolina.

ANOTHER SETTO.—A negro and two soldiers pitched into each other yesterday afternoon on Wilmington street, in which affair the former came off second best, losing about one pint of African claret.
