-Major W. G. Dickson, formerly inspector of artillery on the Staff of Major Gen. Barry, has received the appointment of United States Marshal for the State of Georgia. The Major was a resident of Savannah when the war broke out, and, although all his material interests lay in the South, yet they were sacrificed in what he conceived to be his duty to the country. He came North and entered the service, where he distinguished himself in the campaigns of the Western army until the surrender of General Johnston.

The first two lines would touch many important places, and would probably be valuable property if the country should reman quiet. The owners of the grant are to have fifteen years monopoly of the business, and are to complete 125 miles within eight mouths. The line from the capital to San Blas must be completed within two years.

-In Milan it is said that not only has crime most materially diminished during the last four years, but several classes of crime have ceased altogether; "grassazione" for instance, robbery with violence, in the city. Since January not one case has been brought before the Quastor. Indeed, say the authorities, order prevails, and respect for and obedience to the laws are admirable. In some measure the cause of this improvement has been the great progress of public instruction, not fewer than 10,000 persons under the new regime having been added to those who were receiving education. The course of instruction provided resembles that of every great town in Italy, and does not require any special notice

JEFF DAVIS DOWN ON HIS FELLOW-TRAITORS. - An officer of General Grant's staff, who recently had an interview with the rebel ex-president, says that Davis is furious in his denunciations of Hunter and Stephens, whom he accused of deliberately betraying the southern cause into the hands of the Yankees. "Had those two men," said Jeff, "representing as they did the weak-kneed conservative sentiment in the south, stood firm, the southern cause would have triumphed. Jeff appears to be perfectly indifferent to his fate, but still does not think the punishment for his crime will be visited upon him. THE GENVENTION ELECTION. - Maj. Gen. Ruger, in command of the department of North Carolina, has issued an order in regard to the conduct of the Convention election which is appointed to be held on the 21st inst. As a matter of special interest to town and country, we annex the rules:

I. On the day of such election, no officer or enlisted man will visit the polls, nor will permission to leave camp or station be given to officers or men, except in cases of necessity.

II. Officers having command of troops will, at the request of the civil officers having charge of the elections, render all needful assistance for the preservation of order. If serious disturbance should anywhere occur at the polls, such disturbance will be at once suppressed, and the guilty arrested, even if such request be not made.

III. Any person guilty of attempting, by force, to prevent an orderly and quiet election, or interfering therewith, will be punished with the severity due to acts in their nature essentially hostile to the Government, and to this end such persons will be arrested by the nearest Military Commander, and all the facts in each case reported by him direct to these Headquarters, as well as to his immediate superior.

IV. Commanding Officers of Districts, Regiments. Posts or separate Detach pents will be held strictly responsible for the enforcement of this or-

V. The foregoing order is not published under apprehension that the conduct of the troops would otherwise be improper, or that the election would not be orderly, but that the evil-disposed, if such there be, may be forewarned and without exch. and the election be beyond suspicion fair.

IMPROVEMENTS .- It is a good augury for the future growth of our city in a business sense, that at almost every turn of the eye, we see some evidence of enterprise or energy. Buildings are springing up as if by enchantment; old houses are undergoing repair and enlargement; new stores are being opened all around us; and Ral igh, once quiet as a village, is full of the hum and noise which are the evidences of material growth. It is only requisite now that our people shall discard petty jealousies and differences to warrant the highest prosperity for the city of oaks. If our population and wealth are not tripled in a few years, it will be because we refuse to follow the dictates of wisdom and prudence. We must unite and harmonize, not divide and dispute, or encourage hatred and strife. Let us, then, come up to the work of building a great city.

KNOCKED INTO A COCKED HAT .- The plan of furnishing gratuitous transportation to refugees has been knocked into a cocked hat by recent instructions from Washington. In future, except upon order signed by Major Gen. Howard, no transportation can be given the class mentioned, unless in extreme cases where sonsiderations of actual humanity

This step, like that taken with respect to free rations, has been made necessary to protect government against outrageous imposition. It is eminently wise and just, as the government has already displayed the utmost liberality in both particulars.

PROGRESSIVE .- It is currently reported that at a late consultation of temperance men, in this city, it was gravely proposed to add to the prohibition against liquor drinking, abstinence from such condiments as salt, pepper, mustard and vinegar .-Strong and fanatical, but the recommendation did not appear to take, so the condiments specified, like the proposition, will continue to go down.

PERSONAL .- Capt. J. C. Mann, A. Q. M., recently assigned to the Freedmen's Bureau in this State, arrived in town a few days since, and we understand has been ordered to report for duty. at Wilmington. From a long acquaintance with Capt. M. the writer hereof feels warranted in assuring the Wilmingtonians that they will find him a gentleman in every sense of the word.

NEW SCHEDULE .- The recent changes in the schedule of the U.S. Military Railroad between Raleigh and Morehead city, are given below for the convenience of business men and travelers :

Mail leaves Raleigh at 8 A. M., and arrives at Freight leaves Raleigh 4.89 A. M., and arrives at Raleigh 5.40.

PRISONERS AT WORK .- In passing around yesterday, we observed a number of prisoners under guard engaged in cleaning the streets. The plan is an admirable one, for while the labor undergone operates as punishment and adds largely to the public comfort, the prisoners have the benefit of both sunlight and

WEATHER -"The D-sert of Sahara is no tech to this city for heat and dust," said a brawny fellow yesterday, as the big drops of perspiration rolled down his face from underneath an old slouched hat that had seen better days. He knew nothing about the thermometer, but he realized it was hot, and so did

PROMOTED .- We learn that W. H. Edd'ns, formerly of this city, has been appointed to a lientenancy in the 14th U.S (colored) Heavy Artillery, stationed at Fort Macon.

Gone Home -On Sunday last about one hundred and twenty discharged soldiers of the 4th U.S. Colored Troops passed through this place, en route home, their term of service having expired.

HANDSOME STORE .-- Among others in the city who have with carpentary and paint brush given not only freshness, but beauty to their places of husiness, we have not heretofore mentioned Mr. A Creech .-His store is indeed inviting from its exterior view, but the stock of goods on its shelves is attractive as any in Raleigh. He seems to have displayed great care and taste in their selection, and is doubtless able to sell at figures low as the lowest.

DIED,

In Kinston, August 25th, HERMAN WOMBERLY COX, only child of E. F. and Carrie Cox; aged 4 years and 6

Few deaths will create more sorrow than that of little Herman Cox. Handsome, intelligent and affectionate, "none knew him but to love him." In his native town from the oldest citizen down there are few but feel grieved at the death of the little boy, who had found a place into their hearts by so many winning ways. He has left a world of sorrow for a far brighter abode, and even as he was remarkable here on earth for his many endowments, we must look with the eyes of faith and behold him, with easy gift magnified, a bright and shining angel, around the throne of Him who said, "suffer little children to come unto me, and forbid them not, for of such is the kingdom of Heaven.'
