

THE NEWS.

For latest news see Fourth Page. There are at present upward of one hundred Major and Brigadier Generals still in government service, unemployed, in addition to the large number mustered out of service recently. There is no likeness of Werz extant, and he appears unwilling that one should be taken. An effort was made last week by a photographer to get a likeness of him, but it failed. The attempt will be renewed, however, and it is believed will be successful, as the request was endorsed by one of the commission, and Werz will not be likely to do anything contrary to the wishes of any of those trying him, even in such a matter. Johnson's Island was cleared of prisoners on the 5th inst., when the following small remnant were sent to Fort Lafayette: Major Styles and Capt. Gorman, who refuse to take the oath; Lieut. McBride, who claims the protection of the British flag; Cole and Roberson, charged with complicity in the Lake Erie piracy; and Henry B. Estep, charged with desertion to the enemy. Gen. Fremont, Col. Zigony and another gentleman, have taken out a patent for expelling sap that produces rot in wood, and insert sulphate of iron and other substances that render it incorruptible. If the discovery is what they believe it, it will be a fortune to the owners of the patent. The wood can be prepared very cheaply, and will be used for railroad ties, wharves, ship-timber and various other purposes. Reporters for the press are to be admitted to the grand council with the Indian tribes at Fort Smith, but certain officials are to supervise their notes. It is good; there might be, in the suspicious crook of some strange phonographic grammatologue, the most dangerous treason. Let it be seen to that no reporter misrepresents the sentiments of the "big Indian" into incendiary English. There is no knowing what dire conspiracy may lie perdu in the "Ugh" and the "Oal-nichts," and the awful shudder shrug of those silent and solemn red rascals. That uneasy and garrulous Henry S. Foote, having got back to Tennessee, by special favor of the President, is again garrulous in the newspapers. Those who remember his aspirations in the United States Senate, some ten or fifteen years ago, may be glad to hear the pitch of his pipe at the present hour. It is thus: "I prefer to end our troubles at once by granting the right of suffrage (to the freedmen). Whatever plausible objections may be presented to this measure, for our I prefer it to the longer continuance of the present distressing condition of affairs. I desire the early disbanding of the armies now occupying Southern territory. I desire the speedy and perfect restoration of civil authority everywhere. I desire the immediate representation of all the States of the South in the National Legislature; and having good reason to believe that these benefits will not be accorded to us until African suffrage is consented to, I am prepared to meet the experiment at once." A negro named John Smallwood, on Tuesday last, committed a gross assault upon a Mrs. King, of Preston, N. Y. He was arrested the same day, taken to the County Court, then in session, indicted, arraigned, furnished with counsel, pleaded guilty, and before early bed time at night had been convicted and sentenced to the State Prison for fifteen years. It strikes us that this colored citizen is under the impression that the North is a decidedly fast country. Provost Marshal Fry reports the total number of men contributed by Ohio to the army during the late war to have been something over three hundred and sixteen thousand. The Republican State Central Committee in Connecticut have issued an address, urging the adoption of negro suffrage in that State. Preston King has one thousand officers to appoint, and it is said there are twenty seekers for every office. There must be a great many petitions presented on King. President Johnson has declined to interfere with the action of the Southern Bishops. He says they may unite with the Northern Church or not, just as they please. Attorney General Speed has decided that officers who left the naval service of the United States for that of the late Confederacy, are nevertheless citizens of the United States, and are at liberty to engage in any business or occupation that is open to other citizens, subject only to the pains and penalties to which they may have rendered themselves amenable under the law after conviction. The Southern Star is the name of a daily paper just commenced in New Orleans. It is good-looking, and appears to be smart. The Crescent is soon to be revived by Colonel Nixon, the former proprietor. Governor Bramlette, of Ky., has been indicted by the Grand Jury of Fayette county, in that State, for interfering in the late election there. The Republican State Convention of Wisconsin, held last week, laid on the table resolutions in favor of negro suffrage. Gen. Hindman, lately of the rebel army, is practicing law in Saltillo, Mexico. A communication from Gen. Fry to the Governor states that Wisconsin has furnished 96,000 troops to the Federal Government, whose terms of service vary from three months to three years. This is about every other one of the arms-bearing population of the State. In the Criminal Court at St. Louis on Friday last a lawyer defending a negro charged with grand larceny, claimed that under the Constitution he was entitled to be tried by a jury of negroes. The Court overruled the application. Chas. H. Peck, summoned on the grand jury at St. Louis, declined to serve on the ground that he could not conscientiously find an indictment against mpleters for not taking the oath. The court gave him the option of serving or going to jail. He decided to serve. The four negro soldiers, says the Chicago Republican, who took possession of a street car in Cairo, Ill., recently, and ejected white passengers therefrom, were tried before the Provost Court on the 31st ultimo and sentenced to imprisonment in the police jail for three months, the Court holding that they committed an outrage which, if perpetrated by any one, irrespective of color, would be severely punished by the criminal code of any State. The Nashville Gazette, in commenting upon the article written by Gov. Brownlow in regard to the action of the people of East Tennessee, indulges in half a column of as bitter abuse as ever came from the noted Parson in his most ill-humored fits. It presumes to call the Governor a ruffian, a reverend blackguard and a bully, and closes by saying that if the Parson can make treason or sedition out of it to "crack his whip." Nice way of talking they have in Tennessee. The famous New York engine company, American No. 6, goes out of existence. Its property, sold at auction the other day, embraced two pianos, half a dozen sumptuous sofas, lace and damask curtains, immense mirrors and many valuable portraits. The company has been something of a political power. The receipts of cotton at New Orleans for the three months ending on the 1st inst. were two hundred and seven thousand bales, while the entire business for the preceding nine months was less than the ordinary operations of a single week in former seasons, and very much less than the amount for the month of August. The New Orleans Picayune, which gives these figures, conjectures that the crop for the coming year will be one million two hundred and fifty thousand bales. It adds that the amount of the old crop still left in the South is a vexed question, but the estimates vary from seven hundred thousand to nine hundred thousand, and even as high as one million bales. Hamill, of Pittsburg, the champion sculler of America, expects to soon receive a challenge from Keney, of Eugland, who has just beaten Chambers, the English champion. It does not seem to be suggested that Hamill will challenge the Englishman to an international champion boat race. Such a match would excite quite as much interest as the great fight between Heenan and Sayers, while it would be devoid of the revolting features of that memorable conflict. Hamill is a working man and has little money, but his many friends and admirers would supply the funds to any extent. DIFFICULTY IN THE METHODIST CHURCH.—On Sunday last a difficulty occurred in the M. E. Church on Market street. It appears that as the Rev. Norval Wilson, who has officiated as minister of the church for some time past, was about to commence his discourse, he became aware that there was another minister present who claimed the pulpit, saying that he was regularly accredited to this station by the Baltimore Conference. It was also insisted by the Rev. Mr. Dandaban, Presiding Elder, appointed lately by the Baltimore Conference, that Mr. Wilson withdraw. Mr. Wilson refused to do so, and continued to preach. He concluded by announcing his intention to preach in the evening. After Mr. Wilson was through, Mr. Lanshan arose to address the congregation, who mostly vacated the house. In the evening before services commenced, Mr. Wilson was waited upon by an officer of the Provost Guard, and politely informed by that official that he would consider himself under arrest until after church time. When it became known in the church that Mr. Wilson had been arrested, the most of the congregation left the building. Winchester (Va.) Republican.

THE CITY. THE EPISCOPAL CONVENTION.—Second Day.—The first business transacted by the Council was the election of the standing committee, the old members—Reverends R S Mason, D. D., F M Hubbard, D. D., Aldert Smedes, D. D., Hon John H Bryan and George W Mordecai—being chosen. Various committees were then appointed, comprising the old members with a few exceptions, after which Bishop Atkinson appeared and read an address which was both able and interesting. He favored reunion with the church of the North in very decided and eloquent terms, as well as urged upon the diocese even renewed and redoubled effort to secure the evangelization of freedmen. We trust that the paper entire will soon be given to the public. It was generally referred to the committee on the state of the church, with special reference of that portion of it on re-affiliation with the North to a select committee, the Bishop designating as its members Reverends R S Mason, D. D., A A Watson, Dr Hodges, Dr Cheshire, Hon Wm H Battle, Hon W M Shipp, Richard H Smith. Mr. John Wilkes, of Charlotte, was chosen Treasurer for the diocese in place of C. T. Haigh, who declined longer to serve. On a motion of Mr. Mordecai, a committee was constituted to consider the recommendations of the Bishop with respect to the support of the clergy, and that officer named as its members Messrs G W Mordecai, K P Battle and J B Batchelor. The Bishop then appointed the following committees: On the State of the Church.—Reverends F M Hubbard, Edwin Geer, M A Curtis, D. D., Hon J H Bryan and K P Battle. On Canons.—Reverends J C Huske, H H Prout, G B Wetmore, Hon R P Buxton, Jos B Batchelor. On Finance.—G W Mordecai, E J Hale, P C Cameron, Leonard Henderson and John Wilkes. On New Parishes.—Reverends Geo M Everheart, M H Vaughn and George Mills. On Unfinished Business.—Reverends W R Wetmore, Israel Harding, J R Joyner. The Council then adjourned until 4 o'clock, P. M. The afternoon session, with the exception of Rev. Geo. M. Everheart's motion, making reference of that feature in Bishop Atkinson's address relative to the religious culture of freedmen, was without special interest. The committee named consists of Rev. G. M. Everheart, Aldert Smedes and R. B. Buxton. No MORE.—Every reader who is familiar with the writings of the facetious Dickens will remember the frantic demands of Oliver Twist "for more snp." We regret to say that the clamor for more ratons, gratutions, is equally importunate with heavy percentage of increase in a numerical point of view. No doubt large numbers of the applicants who pour into the city from the country are deserving assistance, but this fact is not prevented government authorities from detecting two facts: first, that an inconsiderable number, perhaps a large majority of those who have heretofore been benefitted by the bounty, were either undeserving or else able to dispense with such benefaction; and second, that not a few bad persons had adopted the expedient of visiting the city for ratons and then pursued a very injurious line of conduct. Such causes have beyond question made it the imperative duty of the "powers that be," in the interest of morality and protectively to the government, to stop such issues altogether. The policy of giving will not be re-opened, so that those who are concerned might as well forsake idleness and find support in some industrious field. No OATH—No VOTE.—In less than a week from this writing—next Thursday—the people will have to elect Convention members. It is the most important of all the elections held in North Carolina for fifty years and every man is deeply concerned in the result. Let it be remembered that a prerequisite to casting a vote is the exhibition of the amnesty oath. Here is the rule and law in the premises, as laid down by Gov. Holden in his proclamation: "No person will be allowed to vote who does not exhibit to the Inspectors a copy of the Amnesty Oath, as contained in the President's Proclamation of May 28th, 1865, signed by himself and certified by at least two Justices of the Peace." Every citizen who claims to be loyal will be highly culpable if he fails to qualify himself to exercise the right of suffrage. RUNAWAY.—Two horses, attached to a countryman's wagon, took flight last evening on the arrival of the train from Goldsboro, and dashed down the street when the gas house is located at furious speed, but owing to the coolness of their driver were checked after making a raid of a square. A negro standing in the middle of the street was struck by one of the infuriated animals and knocked off his pedal attachments, but sustained no other injury than fright. It is a little singular that cartmen, who know the metal of the animals they drive, should handle them so carelessly, and often leave them, on the approach of trains of cars. It is criminal, as endangering the lives of others. TRUTH STRANGER THAN FICTION.—People who have lived long in the world will not dispute the assertion of the caption upon another hypothesis than the idea that it is so rarely seen. A French friend declares that the first time a man sees an advertisement he takes no notice of it; the second time he looks at the name; the third time he looks at the price; the fourth time he reads it; the fifth time he speaks of it to his wife; the sixth time he buys.

HERE'S AN ANSWER FOR THE WIDOW.—It appears that some of the widows of Raleigh have felt a prodigious interest in the welfare or rather condition of Asa Hartz—in other words, our friend Maj. McKnight. Among the notices to "correspondents" in the Newbern Times, we note the following: "Widow," Raleigh, N. C.—Regret to inform you, madam, that your chance in that direction is hopeless; for Asa Hartz is not only married, but has to feed, clothe and pay schooling for eleven who call him "pa." You say you have eleven also. According to the rules of ringt us, even if he were a widower, the proposed union would make twenty two, and he'd be technically "bus'ed." There is one fact quite transparent in the transaction: the widow evidently esteemed the Major gallant in more than one sense. It is bad enough in these pressing times to support one's own little flock, but it would require a man with the nerve of Julius Caesar to take five of somebody else's pigeons under the wing. A SUBJECT THAT NEEDS VENTILATING.—We clip the following paragraph from the Norfolk Day Book, of yesterday: LANDLORDS AND TENANTS.—There will be a meeting of the Renters of Norfolk, on the evening of the 14th inst., at City Hall, to take into consideration the propriety of the increased rents demanded by real estate owners, for the ensuing year. The whole matter will probably be well ventilated on the occasion, and all interested on either side of this grave and important question, may find it agreeable to participate in the proceedings. The subject of rents is one that needs thorough ventilation in this city. They are unaccountably exorbitant, both as regards stores and dwellings, and how the people can stand them we are unable to conceive. Perhaps a few months will tell the tale. In the meantime let us have a meeting of landlords and tenants, and discuss the question of rents. A HEROINE.—Madame rumor hath it that there is now in our city a lady not unknown to military fame. The story runs that her husband was an officer in McClellan's army and she visited him on the Peninsula in 1862. While at camp, a party of Confederates made a raid on an outpost commanded by her masculine half, and that during the melee an infant was shot and killed in her arms. For a moment she was frantic with grief, but soon rallied, plunged into the thickest of the fray, and with her own hands dispatched seven of the assailants. For this feat government conferred on her the rank and emoluments of Major of infantry. The incident is related to us as true in all parts and so we print it, adding that we believe the "yarn" in a horn. PASSAGE THIEVES.—Passage thefts are coming in vogue here as well as in other places. The business will increase as long as our citizens display such carelessness as to their front doors and open windows. In the case to which we refer, entry into the domicile of Mr. Whitehurst, only an overcoat, looking glass, four shirts and a pair of pants were borne off by the thief, but where there are heavy inducements the losses will be proportionately heavy. Lock your doors and lower your basement windows. GONE THROUGH.—An agent of the government, Mr. Conover, passed through the city for Petersburg yesterday morning, on his way to Washington, accompanied by several witnesses in the Wirz case, who had been summoned from Georgia and South Carolina. CRABS.—A friend in Norfolk forwarded us some hard crabs, which reached the city last night. Bishop is a trump and we have no necessity for assuring him that we did them ample justice as in times by-gone. IN PETERSBURG.—Among the Raleighians in Petersburg, last Thursday, we find registered the names of C. N. Cavalier, Mrs. Thompson, J. R. Thompson, J. E. Lawrence, and C. H. Bennett. ANOTHER CIRCLE.—A note from a Celtic friend informs us that it is the purpose of himself and others to form a "Circle" of the Fenian Brotherhood in this city.
