

THE NEWS.

For latest news see Fourth Page. The old Nashville Banner, one of the oldest papers published in Tennessee before the war, and many years the Whig organ of that State will revived in a few days.

In the Kentucky Annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, on Wednesday, a majority report opposing reuniting with the Southern Church was adopted by a large majority. The "Virginia Central Immigration Society" has been organized and located in Lynchburg.

There are eight men in jail at Charleston, Kanawha county, West Virginia, charged with murder. B. M. T. Hunter arrived in Washington on the 19th inst. Alex. H. Stephens is in good health and spirit.

All the principal interior counties of California have elected Unionists to the Legislature. On two or three, so far as reported, have gone Democratic. M. O. Johns, President of the Georgia Central railroad, has effected an arrangement, through Gen. McCallum, whereby he obtains iron and rolling stock on time from the Government.

Ann Farrell, a young lady of Columbus, Ind., was riding in a phaeton with a gentleman, on Saturday last, when she was run away. The young lady tried to jump out, but her hoops caught on the buggy and she was dragged about half a mile. The horse then ran into a mill race and the young lady was drowned.

Jefferson City and the surrounding vicinity is filled with the Union refugees from Arkansas and other Southern States, and many are in a starving condition, sick and without assistance.

The Cincinnati Gazette learns on reliable authority that the reports circulated by the Eastern press relative to the speedy trial of Jefferson Davis are unfounded.

THE DAILY PROGRESS.

VOL. VI. RALEIGH, SATURDAY, SEPT. 23, 1865. NO. 266.

THE CITY.

BOLD VILLAINY.—Outrage appears to be the order of the day and therefore there is an increased demand upon the authorities, especially of the civil arm, for vigilance.

The most recent affair of which we have heard is related to us by a city officer, as occurring within a mile or two of Raleigh. A couple of citizens, one from Wake and the other from Orange county, on their way to market, halted at the point previously named, to camp for the night. Not long after stopping, they were attacked by eight negroes, who robbed them not only of butter, eggs and other marketings, but also of money and other valuables. One of the whites was thrown violently to the ground and deprived of greenbacks, some silver and we believe a watch, besides lesser things. The assailants were all well armed with pistols, guns and other weapons, and after accomplishing the robbery fired them off with celebratory vim.

Of course the robbers were not arrested and are still at large. And we shall have the same record to make of future similar offences until Wake county has a local police. Such a force should be at once formed by the citizens for their own protection. The neighboring counties attended to this matter some time ago, and we should no longer delay like measures of a protective character. It is the only safe policy in the interest of law and order, and if action is had in the premises at once may save both life and property.

VAGRANTS.—We have a host of complaints against people in country and city who have resorted into a state of do-nothingness. It is said there are whites as well as blacks who could if they would obtain employment, and the apprehension is that unless some means are found for compelling them to toil, great want even to starvation must result during the coming winter.

The most important light in which we see these things, apart from the mere question of individual suffering, is the effect to be produced upon our community. It is as well settled as that the moon is not made of green cheese that a large majority of the human family will steal rather than starve. It is equally notorious that where much want prevails, some instances of equality of crime is found. Now, in these circumstances moral obligation, pecuniary interest and personal safety all combine to urge that some measure should be taken to separate the worthy from the unworthy needy. The first should have provision made for them—the latter ought to be imprisoned or otherwise punished, like good citizens, they are inspired with a sense which shall induce them to seek employment and support at other points where demand for labor exists.

The question is one of great importance to the citizens of this and every other city. There is in it more than we were at first inclined to think, and we trust the authorities may show promptness and wisdom in disposing of this really vexatious topic. Vagrancy is at this time, but we know not to what any period it will be the memory of the present generation.

ANOTHER FIGHT.—A quarrel now between a soldier and one of the tribe, took place at the market house yesterday morning, resulting in a very pretty race. It appears that there was some disagreement as to a transaction between them, when the former struck the latter. Here the latter resorted to a brickbat, which he hurled with force at the other party, just missing his cranium. This was the signal for other marketeers to interfere, so darkey decided to invoke speed for relief from the reinforcement.

Off he sped with a will, but after a considerable chase the pursuers overtook and soundly thrashed him. Another of the many cases in which this class have come off second best. Lo, the poor African.

Another version of the affair, and perhaps a correct one, is that said federal tried to appropriate the free-market apples without paying for them, when the colored boy protested against such injustice and was therefore attacked.

At all events the African was jailed and the other party dismissed.

THE LATE ELECTION.—The candidates for the convention from this city were all in town yesterday, and we are gratified to say that from their cheerfulness and good humor, no one could possibly distinguish between those who had been defeated and the successful men. The friends of the opposing gentlemen never once lost their temper even on the day of election, but fraternized as sensible citizens ever will. Differences of opinion among people of the same community, of themselves, are not just wound for either uncharitableness or hatred, and now that the contest is closed, let us all go to work with one will for the prosperity of the city and State.

SANFORD'S TROUPE.—The entertainment given by this troupe last night, at the Exchange hotel gardens, is described by those who attended as having been most pleasing. Unlike most of such affairs, the pieces produced could not offend good taste; the music was good; a fair audience greeted them, and the company met all their powers to gratify the assembly. An hour can be whiled away very agreeably in listening to the Sanfordites.

They repeat the concert this evening, with an entire change of program. Go and hear them.

FALL.—The city is just now full of strangers, as the list of arrivals at the "Yarborough" and "Exchange" hotels testify. It is a happy augury and is another "straw" showing how the tide of prosperity is setting in towards Raleigh.

STOLEN HORSES RECOVERED.—THE THIEVES ARRESTED.—We understand that news has been received here of the capture of the horse stolen from the stables of Leon H. Rogers, Esq., in this city, on the night of 19th inst. A letter from Goldsboro' mentions that all the animals and the thief had been secured, the equines being stabled and the specimens of the genus homo failed. We hope the report may prove true.

THE RESULT IN WAKE.—The election in Wake, official, is thus stated:

Table with 2 columns: Name, Votes. Hodge, 1,630; Harrison, 1,308; Moore, 1,156; Head, 788; Pennington, 510.

TIMELY AID.—The city hands employed on the streets had quit work, we believe, because of the scarcity of funds in the local treasury. In this dilemma, with a promptness and wisdom we commend, the commandant of the post, Brig. General Hardin, decided to turn out the prisoners in jail to perform needful cleaning and repairs. Of course they will be under guard while laboring and return to their dismal abode when the tasks are done.

SPEAKING.—Yesterday at meridian, Messrs. Pennington, Moore, Hood and Hodge made short but felicitous speeches to the people from the steps of the court-house.

NATIONAL BANK OF N. C.—We shall publish tomorrow the advertisement of the Raleigh National Bank, which was authorized 12th of this month and will be opened for business on the 27th inst. We have now only time to congratulate the community upon the fact.
