

For latest news see Fourth Page. Three newspaper thieves were sentenced to seventeen months' imprisonment each, in Philadelphia last week.

Maj. Gen. Augustus V. Kantz was married on Thursday at Cleveland, to a daughter of ex-Gov. Tod of Ohio.

Albridge, the mulatto actor, is married to a white woman.

Efforts are being made to raise the Merrimac, lying near Craney Island, Hampton Roads.

Judge Bates, late Attorney General of the United States, is still lying dangerously ill at St. Louis, with but little hopes of recovery.

Missouri furnished 104,758 soldiers to the war, one-third being from St. Louis.

"Mrs. Grundy," a literary paper, recently started in New York, is dead.

The New Yorkers spent two million last year to go to the theatres and such.

A colored man, Richard E. Greener, of Boston, has just entered the freshman class at Harvard College.

F. H. Smith, of Birmingham, Conn., lately coughed up an ounce ball which went nearly through his head in the battle of Averysboro, N. C., and could not be previously extracted.

The first cotton manufacturing company organized on the Pacific coast have a mill in San Francisco, with a paid up capital of $100,000, and they will begin operating in November with thirty-three looms, employing thirty operatives.

At Elmira, N. Y., lately, an indignant husband applied to a justice of the peace for a warrant against a Baptist clergyman, whose offence was that he had baptized the complainant's wife without his knowledge.

A London shopkeeper has devised a new way of advertising. He straps two sign boards on a dog's back and sends the animal out to walk about the city. Here is a hint for "Plantation Bitters." It would be necessary, however, to have a well-trained and well-behaved animal.

What is called an "Open Church Association" has been organized in England, and has its headquarters at Liverpool. Its object is to render the pews of churches open to all comers, instead of having them appropriated by individuals.

It having been determined to make Chattanooga a permanent military post, with forts, etc., stringent measures have been taken by the commandant to enforce discipline among officers and men. There are about $7,000,000 worth of military supplies stored there at present, and measures are being taken to secure this property against fire.

A piece of petrified wood, full of nails, has been found in California. The query is, who drove the nails in the wood? The Indians who inhabit the country have no idea of working iron. Perhaps it is a piece of one of Solomon's ships, that he sent to the land of Ophir after gold.

Lieut. Colonel A. C. Hamlin, medical inspector United States army, has been for a long time inspecting hospital property in Tennessee. An immense amount has been condemned and ordered to be sold. All female nurses have been discharged from the United States army general hospitals.

A son of the late President Polk is employed with two blacks, the three at five dollars per day, in taking care of mules purchased by a Northern speculator at the army sales near Nashville.

Since the close of the rebellion, the business of the United States Patent Office gradually increases. For the week ending September 12, one hundred and twenty-six patents were issued from the office, and one hundred and thirty-two will be issued for the week ending on the 19th instant.

A man by the name of Lane, from Mathews county, Va., was arrested and brought to Fortress Monroe. He is one of Stonewall Jackson's Generals, and is charged with making Secesh speeches in his county, recently. One Smith, of the same county, has been arrested and taken to Richmond, charged with knocking down one of the Freedmen's Bureau superintendents.

The government of the city of Alexandria, Va., was on the 20th transferred to the civil authorities, after four years of military reign.

Bishop Whitehouse, of the Episcopal Diocese of Illinois, some months since prohibited Rev. J. W. Cracraft from officiating at Grace Church, Gallesburgh, for the technical irregularity of not having presented the dismissionary papers from the Diocese of Ohio, and for political preaching. The latter was, however, the real source of grievance to the Bishop, Bishop McIlvaine, who read the sermons, and all the loyal people who heard them, found nothing objectionable political in the discourses. They in fact merely urged devotion and loyalty to the government as a duty of Christian citizens. Bishop Whitehouse has now put the climax on his conduct by expelling Grace Church from his diocese, having forced a vote through the Illinois Convention, when only a part of the members were present. His action will be made the subject of an appeal to the General Convention of the Episcopal Church, which is soon to meet at Philadelphia.

The New Haven (Conn.) Palladium, which for thirty years has used steam as a motive power for its press, now uses a turbine wheel about the circumference of a straw-bum, driven by a stream of water only an inch in diameter!

Harriet Prescott, the authoress, is described as a tall, slender, little figure, of apparently thirty-odd summers, plainly, yet tastefully dressed, with eyes full of expression, yet without beauty of features, and with quiet, every-day manner; looking as unlike a dreamer of passionate and romantic fiction as you can imagine.

THE DAILY PROGRESS.

VOL. VI. RALEIGH, MONDAY, SEPT. 25, 1865. NO. 267.

THE CITY.

OFFICIAL PRECINCT VOTE OF WAKE.—As a matter for future reference and of some present interest, we give below the vote of this county by precincts:

Table with 5 columns: Precincts, Pennington, Harrison, Hodge, Moore, Hood. Rows include Raleigh, Green Level, Forestville, etc.

BUSINESS IN RALEIGH.—A FIRST CLASS ESTABLISHMENT.—Raleigh, one of the fairest cities of the sunny South, has derived from the close of the war an impetus to its commercial prospects which bids fair to rival the richest anticipations of her most sanguine sons.

His advertisement, to be found in the proper department of the "Progress," will afford a bird's-eye view of the variety and quality of his stock, but it is necessary to inspect them personally if you would realize in full the beauty and freshness of the goods.

EMBARRASSING MISTAKE.—Two ladies of Raleigh were promenading Fayetteville street last Saturday, when they discovered a female acquaintance passing them in a carriage. Anxious to attract her attention, they made various demonstrations, and finally began to kiss their hands to her in a very loving and energetic manner.

SONS OF MALTA.—Rumor hath it that this order has been revived and that a lodge is soon to be opened here under charter from the national council. We presume their old object—obtaining possession of the island of Cuba—is the basis principle, with charity as secondary.

A LUCKY PLACE.—It would appear, if we could believe in incantations and the like, that there is luck in the atmosphere of Raleigh. Gen. Cox, once serving in this city, has been nominated for governor of Ohio and will no doubt be elected.

THE STATE CONVENTION.—From our exchanges and other sources we gather that the following gentlemen have been returned to the State Convention:

- Wake—W. H. Hodge, W. H. Harrison, B. F. Moore. Rowan—Nat. Boyden, Dr. G. W. Jones. Forsyth—Lash and Starbuck. Mecklenburg—Alexander and McIvor. Lincoln—W. P. Bynum. Gaston—Dr. William Sloan. New Hanover—William A. Wright—are doubtful. Guilford—Caldwell and Dick.

GONE AND GOING.—The 5th U. S. colored troops passed through this place Saturday, en route for their homes in Ohio, having been mustered out a few days since.

The 1st, 6th and 27th are to be mustered out very soon. All these regiments have been serving on the coast of the State.

EXPLANATION.—We invite attention this morning to the poem "Forsaken." It is from the pen of our friend, Saxeby Ryan, who is a clever fellow.

By-the-by, we understand that our remarks the other day have been interpreted to apply to him. He was the only one of the 13th Indiana, but R is out a man. He is welcome to our columns at any time.

An Outraged Wife. The Richmond Bulletin relates the following: In a certain locality on 7th street lives a widow with two fascinating daughters, whose charms had won a married gentleman of our city from the allegiance due to the wife of his bosom only.

On Saturday night her suspicious being again aroused, the wife called a carriage and drove to the above abode of the sirens, when lo and behold there sat her recreant liege, with a male companion, the two sirens and the widow enjoying a cozy chat in the porch.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

MR. EDITOR:—THE FOLLOWING IS STRANGE BUT TRUE.

'Twas late last night that I was sitting, in my chamber, lonely, knitting, Knitting on the same old stocking, I'd commenced before the war;

Knitting carefully, I was heeling—when methought I heard one stealing, Stealing softly up the stairway, leading to my chamber door.

Soon I heard a gentle knocking—hastily I dropped my stocking; Dropped my knitting—the old stocking I commenced before the war.

Again, and louder, came the rapping—as tho' they thought that I was napping; Me a napping? Knitting, napping? Me who never—"Ope the door."

"'Tis Sally's voice"—says I—" 'Tis Sally, and I know she's got some news, And I'm powerful glad she's come too, for I most did have the blues."

"Sally," says I, "Sally, howdy?" "What's the news? Do have a chair?"

"Glorious news, my Peggy darling—glorious news from Market Square,"

At Shepherd's Store, they've got new shoes—such bran new, laced up, tasseled beauties. Morocco, kid, and patent leather—Congress gaiters, toe-tipped booties.

Balmoral, Prunello and Creole. Mens and womens, boys and girls; Such a sight it is to behold—they're the cheapest in the world.

And Peggy, dear, they've got new hats—military and civilian. All the style of Frenchy fashion—a la Emp'reur Maximilian.

And I told my husband, Johnny, "throw aside that rusty beaver." "Go to Shepherd's—market square—get a hat you gay deceiver,

Well, Peg—John went to market square—he's just got back—rigged up so gay, A brand new suit from top to toe—and cheap as dirt, for ready pay;

And I advise you, Peggy darling—to give what cash you're got to spare, To your dear Bobby in the morning—and send him straight to Market Square"

"I'll do it, Sally dear"—says I—"I'll send Bob early in the morn, I'll send him straight to Shepherd's Store—I will as sure as I am born,

Good-bye, dear Sally! Must you go? Yes—good-bye, Peggy—now take care, Be sure that Bob finds the right place—'TIS SHEPHERD'S STORE, at Market Square."

We have a fine assortment of Ready-made Clothing—Boots and Shoes—Hats, &c., which we will sell at very low prices.
