

THE NEWS.

—For latest news see Fourth Page. —Minnesota raises more wheat this year than ever before, and of better quality, too.

—Clement C. Clay now perambulates the casemate at Fortress Monroe unattended by a guard. Clay and Mitchell, it is thought, may be paroled soon.

—The captured treasure belonging to Jeff Davis, deposited at the Treasury Department, amounts to a total of $100,000.

—An association has been formed in Indiana for the purpose of introducing the Cashmere goat into this country. Sixteen of these animals have already been imported under the auspices of the society.

—Miss Emma Lattimer, quite a beautiful and high-spirited girl, is on trial before a military tribunal at Nashville, Tenn., charged with tearing down an American flag.

—The rates of postage upon letters to Schleswig-Holstein and Lauenburg, by the Prussian closed mail will, hereafter, be 31 cents per single rate, if prepaid, and 33 cents per single rate, if unpaid.

—The only fashionable summer resident at Newport who has this year run away, leaving numerous unpaid bills, is a well-known concert singer.

—The statement that all troops will soon be withdrawn from the Southern States by order of the President, is, says a Washington correspondent, entirely groundless.

—A letter from the City of Mexico says the news from the United States cause great agitation. The Imperialists are in a state of extreme anxiety, the more zealous adherents of Maximilian are discouraged, and every one seems to feel increasing despondency.

—An important meeting of the College of Surgeons was held last week at the New York University, and important papers read on the cholera and yellow fever, one of the medical gentlemen declaring the metropolis could not, by any possibility, escape the former scourge, which would be upon us in three weeks. How he arrived at such exactitude of time, the learned M. D. did not state.

Governor Hamilton of Texas has done one good thing. He has instructed the military authorities in that State to require of all negroes a certificate from their employers, showing that they obtain an honest living. If they cannot do this, they are sent to work to pay Uncle Sam for the grub they eat.

—It is understood that the organization of the State of Louisiana will be completed in the next thirty days; and that members of Congress will be elected before the first of November, and two United States Senators sent to Washington in time for the meeting of Congress.

—The remainder of the Massachusetts Fifty-fifth Colored Regiment arrived in Boston, by the steamer Ben De Ford from Charleston, on Wednesday the twentieth instant, and were landed at Gallop's Island. The departure of this regiment from South Carolina confirms the statement of Governor Perry, in his late message, that the negro troops are soon to be withdrawn from that State.

—It is said that the English capitalists will visit Richmond, Virginia, before leaving this country with a view to inspecting the railroads and agricultural resources of the interior of that State.

—The States of Connecticut, Wisconsin, Minnesota and Iowa, all vote on negro suffrage this Fall, Colorado has already voted, but the result is not yet known.

—Canada is becoming depopulated. This is in itself a sure sign that the Union is receiving the mass of its emigration. The exodus has been so serious as to create a call in some quarters upon the attention of Government; but young Canada continues flocking to the border. The Bishop of Toronto lately gave as his reasons for not rebuilding his cathedral, the great losses which his diocese has sustained in numbers. In 1863 this Catholic diocese had a congregation of 42,000; but according to the census now given by the Bishop it does not contain more than 30,000. Toronto City from having 8,000 Catholics has diminished to 4,000.

—Not one, but many Canadian journals, make the same complaint, and the emigration, though mostly from among the Irish, seem to extend to other sects and classes of workmen. "The people," says a Mon real journal, "are leaving us by tens of thousands." This seems to be no phenomenon but only the reasonable out-working of that natural law which seeks every good opening, and which, some day, may influence Canada itself to come into the Union.

—A stranger, apparently from the country, made his appearance on the streets of St. Louis recently, attracting much attention by the unusual loftiness of his stature. He measured seven feet two and a half inches in his boots, and wore a tall white stove pipe hat, which made him look as long as the moral law. He was a good-natured "cuss," and seemed to enjoy the attention which his longitude attracted. At one time about five hundred people surrounded him, and he looked on the multitude from his lofty eminence like a jackass among a flock of sheep.

—The play of the "Confederate's Daughter" is having great success in one of the London theatres. Gen. Butler appears in it as "the tyrant of New Orleans," makes love improperly to the Confederate's daughter, but is foiled by a faithful negro, who has a fight with Butler and beats him with the broadsword in a square fight. Butler afterwards undertakes to hang the lover of the said daughter, but he is reprieved. Butler is removed from command and the Confederate's daughter triumphs. The play is highly exciting.

—A Boston paper complains that of the six Parish Judges in the city of New Orleans, three are graduates of the army; that of the offices of Sheriff and Clerk of Probate, the two most lucrative in the State, are held by signers of the ordinance of secession; and that over twenty original Union men have been recently removed by Governor Welles, to make room for as many original secessionists.

THE DAILY PROGRESS.

VOL. VI. RALEIGH, TUESDAY, SEPT. 26, 1865. NO. 268.

THE CITY.

To Men of Brains. A gentleman who has experience in a daily printing office and who is capable of managing the News or Local department of a first class journal, may hear something to his advantage by communicating immediately with the Editor of THE PROGRESS.

THE CHOLERA ON HAND.—In spite of all our caution and courage, the cholera approaches, and if we escape during the present we cannot hope to fail of a visitation next year. In this view we are specially interested to find out all remedies, and we give the following as among the best:

In the second stage of relapse and cramp, clear brandy, taken internally, mustard plasters, and other means of keeping up external heat, by friction, &c., are often used with success. There is always hope in cholera until the patient is actually dead, and in severe cases recovery often depends upon the persistency and energy with which the disease is met and attacked at every stage.

Dr. Dane, an Eastern traveller and Orientalist, recommends this treatment for cholera, which he noticed while residing at Cairo, was very effective, had been used in Spain, Constantinople and India, and was never followed by typhus or typhoid fever, which proved fatal in many cases when the cholera itself had been subdued by other means:

"If the patient have vomited the poisonous matter which is characteristic of the disease, and resembles rice water, give a tablespoon full of powdered mustard in a tumbler of cold water as an emetic. After the vomiting—whether produced by the disease or the above means—in a few minutes give a wine-glass full of brandy, with ten grains of capsicum (ayenne pepper) stirred up in it. This generally produces almost immediate relief, and, within an hour, rest, perspiration and sleep. In a few cases it was found necessary to take half a dose of brandy and capsicum after half an hour or more. A second half dose was never required, but should it be it may be given. No other fluid should be drunk, before recovering, to accelerate convalescence. It has been suggested that fifteen drops of the spirit of ammonia and sulphuric ether, in equal parts, may be advantageously given three or four times during the following day.

"The above quantity of brandy and capsicum are for any patient suffering a severe attack. In other cases two-thirds or half of that quantity might suffice."

ILL LUCK.—Miss Essex, a well-dressed young woman, residing in the county, was standing at the corner of Fayetteville and Hillsborough streets, waiting for an omnibus, when a man, a painter to all appearance, bearing a short ladder on his shoulder, rapidly turned the corner, and not judging the distance right, came near striking the lady on the head with an end of the ladder he was carrying. As luck would have it, or, perhaps, ill luck, the ladder missed the woman's head but struck her 'waterfall,' detached it from the back hair, and caused a general discharge of the contents, which combined the following articles: Two curled hair puffs, one piece of mourning crape, two dark-colored pin-cushions, and one black worsted stocking. The articles had previously been carefully covered up by the slender locks of the maiden. Amid many expressions of regret the man commenced to pick up the paddings for the purpose of returning them to the wearer, who retreated in great confusion, without waiting for her dry goods. A little boy was sent after her with the late "fall," but the lady refused to recognize them. Our reporter gave the boy a dime for one of the pin-cushions, and intends to keep it as a specimen.

THE POWELL OUTRAGE.—We have conversed with a gentleman who was present at Mr. Caswell Powell's last Sabbath. He states that there were six negroes engaged in the assault. It appears that they entered his yard about 10 o'clock and that Mr. P. was aroused from sleep by their attack on his dog. He arose, went in the porch and ordered them off. They then passed out to the barn or stable yard, and having halted at that point, Mr. P. started to see what they were doing. When passing out of the gate, he was seized by two of the desperadoes, choked and disarmed, and then beaten in a terrible manner about the face and head. He is represented as presenting a most shocking appearance. The assaults then forced down him a pint of brandy, supposing that would operate to prevent him from giving the alarm. They then proceeded to appropriate a gold watch, one hundred dollars in greenbacks, a small amount of coin, and as much brandy as they could carry off.

The whole transaction was of the most fiendish character, and the misfortune is that Mr. Powell is unable to identify either of the rascals. The military authorities have the matter in hand, and we are confident that Gen. Ruger and Capt. Pasinton will leave no stone unturned to bring the guilty wretches to merited punishment.

We are glad to hear that no doubt is entertained of Mr. P.'s recovery.

THE CHAPEL HILL DIFFICULTY.—We learn that the difficulty between a convocation of negroes and a few of the students at Chapel Hill, has been adjusted by requiring the latter to give security for keeping the peace.

Gen. Ruger, Col. Whittlesey and Capt. Purinton, are all popular in this department and at this post; but the constant increase of crime and outrage induces us to ask them publicly to weigh the matter of negro insolenence. They have not yet learned the difference between liberty and license. Large numbers of black men beg us to ask that the criminal of this color may be made to feel the force of law.

On account of the extended facilities at command, the PROGRESS establishment can do printing of all kinds cheaper than any other office in the State, and all we ask is a call from those desiring work done to convince them of the fact. Cards, labels, handbills, circulars, &c., are printed at the shortest notice, in the most satisfactory manner, and at the lowest rates. Business men desiring printing done are requested to call.

Wm. S. WOLKER, of the firm of P. Marwin & Co., is in the city and we commend him to the business community. He is not only a gentleman himself, but represents one of the best firms in the State.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

MR. EDITOR:—THE FOLLOWING IS STRANGE BUT TRUE.

'Twas late last night that I was sitting, in my chamber, lonely, knitting, Knitting on the same old stocking, I'd commenced before the war; Knitting carefully, I was healing—when methought I heard one stealing, Stealing softly up the stairway, leading to my chamber door. This I thought, and listened more.

Soon I heard a gentle knocking—hastily I dropped my stocking; Dropped my knitting—the old stocking I commenced before the war. Again, and louder, came the rapping—as tho' they thought that I was napping; Me a napping? Knitting, napping? Me who never—"Ope the door!" This the voice said—"Ope the door!"

"'Tis Sally's voice"—says I—" 'tis Sally, and I know she's got some news, And I'm powerful glad she's come too, for I most did have the blues. "Sally," says I, "Sally, howd'ry?" "What's the news? Do have a chair?" "Glorious news, my Peggy darling—glorious news from Market Square," "From Shepherd's Store in Market Square."

At Shepherd's Store, they've got new shoes—such bran new, laced up, tasseled beauties. Morocco, kid, and patent leather—Congress gaiters, toe-tipped booties. Balmoral, Prunello and Creole. Mens and womens, boys and girls; Such a sight it is to behold—they're the cheapest in the world. The very cheapest in the world.

And Peggy, dear, they've got new hats—military and civilian. All the style of Frenchy fashion—a la Emp'reur Maximilian. And I told my husband, Johnny, "throw aside that rusty beaver." "Go to Shepherd's—market square—get a hat you gay deceiver, Get a hat, and burn your beaver."

Well, Peg—John went to market square—he's just got back—rigged up so gay, A bran new suit from top to toe—and cheap as dirt, for ready pay: And I advise you, Peggy darling—to give what cash you've got to spare, To your dear Bobby in the morning—and send him straight to Market Square" To Shepherd's Store, in Market Square.

"I'll do it, Sally dear"—says I—"I'll send Bob early in the morn, I'll send him straight to Shepherd's Store—I will as sure as I am born, Good bye, dear Sally! Must you go? Yes—good-bye, Peggy—now take care, Be sure that Bob finds the right place—'tis SHEPHERD'S STORE, at Market Square. Shepherd's Store, at Market Square.

We have a fine assortment of Ready-made Clothing—Boots and Shoes—Hats, &c., which we will sell at very low prices. CHARLES A. SHEPHERD, Market Square, Raleigh. Sept. 25-26
