Guilford, six hundred copies of the Message, with ecompanying documents, were ordered to be printed: EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, N. C., RALEIGH, October 3d, 1865.

I do not deem it my duty, under the circumstances, address you a formal and elaborate message in relaon to public affairs. Your duties are too plain to re-ire suggestions from me, and I entertain no doubt North Carelina attempted, in May, 1861, to separate self from the Federal Union. This attempt involved with other slaveholding States, in a protracted and strious war, the result of which was a vast expendie of blood and treasure on her part, and the practiabolition of domestic slavery. She entered the relion a slave-holding State, and she emerged from it a slaveholding State. In other respects, so far as her tence as a State and her rights as a State are conned, she has undergone no change. The President of United States wisely determined that her existence State should not be extinguished, but that under clause of the Federal Constitution which guaranto every State in the Union a republican form of rnment," her people, in Convention assembled, ht so alter and amend their Constitution, and adopt measures as would restore the State to her Constimal relations to the Federal government, and thus re once more to the people thereof the immeasuraenefits and blessings of the Union.

low me to congratulate you, gentlemen, upon the able circumstances which surround you, while enin this great work of restoring the State to her er and natural position. It is my firm belief that olicy of the President in this respect, which is as as liberal, and as just as the Constitution itself, e approved by the great body of the people of the States; and that the period is not distant, if we to ourselves, and properly regardful of the reae expectations of our friends in other States, when nators and Representatives will resume their seats gress, and when our State will enjoy, in common he other States, the protection of just laws under enstitution of our fathers. In the touching lanof your most worthy presiding officer, "we are home. JOHN H. SURBATT AT MONTRAL. - The New York commercial Advertiser revives the report that John . Surratt, the accomplice of Booth, is in Montreal.

A Portland, Me., merchant saw John H. Surratt in loutreal, a week ago to-day; that he has been conealed there for some time, and on ont occasion when he detectives were in close pursuit, he was secreted under an altar of one of the churches, in was believed Montreai, last week. He was to take passage for ingland on the steamer St. George, to sail on Friday

RALEIGH, WEDNESDAY, OCT. 4, 1865 VOL. VI.

MORE PROPHETS .- Prophets-false prophetshave generally been plenty in the world. There has not been a century probably since the beginning of our era which has not witnessed the rise and fall of one or more of the tribe. In the present century they seem to be rather more numerous than they have ever been pefore. We have had Joe Smith and Miller and Matthias, and we know not how many more within the recollection of the present g neration A new one has just turned up in the person of a Cut. W. A. Baker, of the British Army, an officer of the Royal Bombay Engineers, who has just published a to ok of prophecies, in which he has told the "day and the hour" of the final destruction of all things and the chief events that are to precede it. It is fixed, he says, for the hour of sunset, on the 20th of September, 1878. Here are the dat s of some preceding events:

On the 9th of October, 1867, Queen Victoria will retire, and the Prince of Warn te maie Prince Re-

In 1869 and '70. Austria will seize Greece and some mil or German States, and Russia will seize on

On the 27 h of October, 1871, Russia and Austria will combine to make war on France; and on the same day, perhaps, Napoleon will sign a c venant with the Jews.

On the 3d of Jane, 1872, the Emperor of Russia will be killed in Palestine, on the field of battle, and Napoleon will become supreme monarch, all the kingdoms of the old Roman earth falling to him, Britain

On the 10th of March, 1875, the Jews will be restored to Jerusalem and the Holy Land. On the 9th of April, 1875, Anti-Christ (who is explained as Napoleon III) will appear and be fully

About the first of September, 1876, the sign of the Son of Man will appear in the heavens; and at sucset, as we have said, on the 20th of September, 1878, Christ will be seen descending on Mount Olive. Captain Baker professes to have discovered two most important events which are to occur in quick succession after the power of Napoleon is consolidated but before his appearance as Anti-Christ. 1st. The resurrection of the just, immediately on the expiration of the six thousand years of the world which, according to his chronology, will be December 6, 1874. This will be invisible to the living, he thinks, and naively remarks, " I, therefore, do not expect my opinion can ever be proved right, nor can it ever be proved wrong." 21. The translation of the saints from earth to heaven, which is to take place some little time before dawn on the 25th of January, 1875. This, like their resurrection, will be also invisible, "and, therefore," says the Captain, "we shall never know in this life whether such is precisely the case or not." On the principle of the old adage that "seeing is believing," the learned author is not likely to make many converts.

PROFITS OF EMANCIPATION .- There is something very significant in the following :

"The Charleston (S. C.) News says that the South has really lost nothing by emancipation, for while the value of the slaves before the war belonged to their masters, now it belongs to the freedmen who own themselves, and hence there is, as far as slave property is concerned just as much wealth in those States as ever there was. The negro owns him-

It is a self-evident proposition that whether the Southern planter own their laborers, or whether the laborers own themselves, the same amount of property exists in the country If a Southern planter was willing to pay a thousand dollars for a negro, it must have been because the negro could be made to produce by his labor a satisfactory return on the thousand dollars paid for him.

Now, is it likely that a negro will produ e less when working for himself than when working under compulsion for another? If he produces more when free than when a slave, the wealth of the country is increased to the extent of the amount on which the increased production represents the av erage return received by the capital of the country For example if a negro slave, worth o e thous nd dol ars. produce i annually one hundred and fifty d llars for his mas er, and the s me man, when free, produc s two hundred dollars for himself, his relative va ue when a freedman is $1,333.

A New Orleans paper says one of the distinguished Major Generals in the Confederate service from this State is, we learn, about to take charge of the co struction and repair of the wharves for one of the contractors with the city. Two Brigadiers have already secured p aces in the Commer ial Express c inpany One Brigadier is prosperously engaged in the business of boss draym in. There are other Generals who are spoken of as civil en gineers on our railroads. Almost every store has a Colonel or Major. There are three distinguished Colonels xtensively engaged in the auction business. One Colonel, who has heretofo e directed his big guns with great skill and hero m in some of the fiercest battles of the war, is now selling bale rope and bagging. Another one of Stone wall Jackson's favorite regimental commanders is pressing cotton as vigorously as he pressed Gen. Banks' rear at Winchester.

Ge eral Mussey, she President's private Secretary, has been the recipient of a handsome silver medal from the hands of Maj ir General Butler. It is a fac simile of those awarded to offi ers and soldiers, and is about the size of a Spanish dollar. On one side two negroes are represented as charging a cannon frowning from a hattlement. The motter ab we is " Ferro iis Libertas Pervenient;" beneath the words "U. S. colored troops." On the opposite side, encircling a wreath of oak leaves, are the words " Campaign before Richmond," and around the wreath the words "Distinguished for Courage." The pin securing the medal, also of silver, represents an oak leaf, bearing the inscription "The Army of the James." A splendid silk red, white and blue ribbon is connected with the medal, which is enclosed in a rich Turkey morocco case.

THE SWEET SOUTH WIND-breathing o'er beds of violets, is not more fragrant than Sozonont. And the aroma which it exales, communicates itself to the breaths of all who use this marvelous dentifrice, white testh, ruddy gums, a sweet mouth, and the certainty of enjoying these desirables in perpetuity, are among the blessings derived from the use of Sozodont.

A northern paper, speaking of the arrest of idle negroes in Georgia by the military authorities, approves of the proceeding, but thinks the rale ought to apply to whites as well, for the reason that the whites cannot live without work any more than the blacks. Some sense in that.

Ex-Governor Joe Brown, of Georgia, is about to become a citizen of Atlanta.

from New York says: "It is astonishing to see the facility with which some of our Southern countrymen, up to their eyes and ears in the recent rebellion, are betaking themselves to occupations to which they had previously been entire strangers. A Mississippian, who acted as an aid to General Pemberton at the siege of Vicksburg, has opened a broker's office in Hanover street, and is out in a card soliciting esbecially the patronage of his New Orleans, Mobile and Texas friends. A little farther down the same street, on the other side of the way, an ex-repel captain, who served under Ewell, is filling a subordinate clerkship in a cotton broker's counting-room. One of General Lee's staff is negotiating for the lease of a drinking salo in and ten-pin alley on Broadway, near Amity street. One of Migrader's adjutants has gone into the wholesale produce business at Washington Market. General Mansfield Lovell, who undertook to defend New Orleans, is going to open a law office in Nassau street. In Bond street there are at least three large boardinghouses which are kept by the widows of rebel officers who fell in battle in the Carolinas. In the Eighth avenue, near Sixteenth street, a pardoned ex-clerk in the rebel Treasury Department is selling cigars, and within a stone's throw of his shop is a rebel naval officer, who led the memorable assault on the Harriet Lane at Galveston. In the newspaper offices, likewise, may be found sundry perso is who

NEGRO TROOPS-H. W THEY GOT THEIR REPUTA TION .- General Thomas Benton, the soldier's candidate for Governor in Iowa, in a late speech, after allu'ing to the capture of a battery by his men, at the battle of Jenkins' Ferry, Ark usis, says:

"What was the indignation of his men when they saw in the printed letters of these correspondents a glowing account of the bravery of the colored troops in storming this battery, and ignoring the very existerce of his regiment, who really captured it, by n t even mentioning its presence there. But this indignation was still further increased, when, by some one's orders, these very guns were sent up to St. Louis, and exhibit d there at a soldiers' fair, with certain battle-flags, as trophies of the bravery of certain colored troops, who were said to have storme and taken them at the battle of Jenkins' Ferry, when, in in fact, there were no battle-flags there, and the whole work of taking the guns was done by his own regimeut, which was not even mentioned."

A Savannah letter to the Baltimore Gazette says : A wedding was celebrated lately which excited some remark. The contracting parties were a white fficer, first Lieutenant in a negro regiment, and a colored damsel, formerly a servant in a respectable family. The marriage ceremony was performed with great pomp in one of the colored Baptist churches, and the happy pair immediately left for New York on a bridal tour.

THE FREEDMEN'S CONVENTION. - The Freedmen's Con vention met yesterday morning according to adjournment. After religious services the minutes were rea and approved. Considerable time was consumed in debating a resolution relative to colored teachers and preachers. It was finally laid on the table. A committee was appointed to wait on Gen. Kuger, the commandan of the department, and get from him certificates which will secure those members of the Convention who fear it, protection, from violence on their return.

A State Equal Rights League was formed by the adeption of a constitution and election of officers. The constitution appoints the time for the yearly meeting of the League on the first Tuesday of October. In th evening Mr. Fisk, superintendent of the Freedmen ; schools in the State, addressed the convention, advising them of the objects and duties of his office. The Corvention acjourned sine die.

THE FINE ARTS. - The members of the Convention and others visiting the city, will find the elegant Photo graphic and Daguerrean gallery of J. W. Watson, Esq. on Fayetteville street, one of the real attractions of Rs leigh Mr. Watson has bought out Mr. Bunt, the former proprietor, and with new stock and material is now prepared to execute pictures of all sizes and descriptions in the most perfect and elegant style.
