THE DAILY PROGRESS.

VOL. VI. RALEIGH, FRIDAY, NOV. 10, 1865. NO. 307.

State Items.

A SAD INCIDENT.—A citizen of this county was found on Monday morning hanging dead to a tree near his residence. We refrain from giving names and circumstances until the incidents come to us better authenticated. We will give the full particulars to-morrow.—Salisbury Banner.

DIED IN PRISON.—A man named Wm. Wise died in Craven Street Jail, Newbern, on Saturday night last. He had been under sentence of death before the war for murder, and was in prison awaiting trial for the murder of a young man named Charles May, at Batchelor's Creek, since last July.

We understand that in the course of a few weeks the State Journal, will be revived by its old editor and proprietor, Mr. John Spelman, at Newbern, N. C.

The Mayor of Newbern has gone on a visit to New Jersey.

ARRIVED.—The Steamer Louisa Moore, Wooster, of the Murray line, at Newbern, has arrived from New York with a good passenger list and a heavy freight for Newbern and Raleigh.

PROBABLY WRECKED.—The following is a memorandum taken on board the steamship Louisa Moore: "Nov. 3d, 1865, 7 A. M., Hatteras Shoals, bearing south-west two (2) miles distant, fell in with fragments of a wreck, apparently a steamer, a raft, life preserver, and a box marked P. D. N. O. Supposed to belong to the steamer Republic.

THE INQUEST upon the body of John C. Conell, who was murdered in his room at the old Franklin Hotel, Wilmington, last week, was concluded about 1 1/2 P. M., on Saturday. The verdict was, that he came to his death from blows inflicted on his head by some person unknown to the jury. There is something remarkably strange and mysterious in this affair. The very house in which this brutal murder occurred, is occupied, perhaps, by a dozen people or more, and yet this man, supposed to have been beaten to death on Tuesday night last, was not discovered by any of the many occupants until Friday morning.

A man by the name of Brock, was suspected of the crime and arrested, but the evidence in no wise implicating him, he was discharged.

A SAD CASUALTY.—Near Winton, on Monday evening last, while returning home from town, John Grubbs, a respectable citizen of that county, came to his death by the flight of his horse. He was found shockingly mutilated and crushed, from the effects of which he died within a few hours.

The schooner Fannie, bound from New York to Wilmington, foundered at sea on the 26th ult., during the late gale. The captain, passengers and crew, seven in number, were picked up. One man washed overboard.

The steamer North Carolina, reached Wilmington from Fayetteville at an early hour yesterday morning. Her captain reports a rise of five feet in the Cape Fear at Fayetteville on Friday at 12 o'clock M. The river was still rising, and rain still falling rapidly.

There are twenty men to each woman in Idaho.

Poland has now no longer a university within its limits.

John Forsyth is a candidate for Congress in the Mobile District.

The Fenians are making considerable purchases of firearms in New York.

Benjamin G. Humphreys is the only Whig ever elected Governor in Mississippi.

The Washington Monument Society want about $300,000 from Congress to carry up the shaft.

Gen. C. A. Battle is out for Congress in the Third Congressional District in Alabama.

A man in Birmingham run his pipe stem into his tongue and died from the resulting abscess.

In the month of October, 84,000 barrels of powder were shipped South and 1,500 foreign pieces.

Two hundred and five German immigrants arrived in Baltimore from Bremen direct last Friday.

Miss Flutter, who teases her father at an inopportune moment for a "waterfall," received two damns instead.

Thus far, in the current cotton year, beginning with Sept. 1, the receipts at all the shipping ports reach 300,000 bales.

There is much contest for churches between rival churches in Virginia. Would it not be better to have the contest for souls?

The receipts for customs in New York during the month of October amounted to the unprecedented sum of $10,000,000 in gold.

The Tribune says there are eighty Republican speakers now canvassing New Jersey, and addressing large assemblages every night.

The return of one election precinct in Philadelphia is missing, and it is said to have been destroyed in a quarrel between two ward officers.

A Birmingham physiologist, one Dr. Bennet, has started the theory that there are six senses, instead of five. This he calls the sense of weight.

According to the proportion of the wealth of the national debt of the two countries, the debt of Canada is twenty-five per cent. greater than that of the United States.

The Rev. Henry Ward Beecher publicly declares that, after two long interviews, he is confident that President Johnson's course is right, and expresses the greatest confidence in him.

Several new cases of cholera on board the steamer Atlanta, at the New York quarantine, are reported by the physician in charge, but the disease is still confined to the steerage, none of the cabin passengers having yet been attacked. The Governor of New Jersey has issued a proclamation calling on the municipalists and individuals to look after their sanitary commission.

On the 27th ultimo a steamer, supposed to be a Government transport, was discovered by the steamer Weybosset to be on fire, in the vicinity of Cape Hatteras. The burning steamer was distant about fifteen miles, and before the Weybosset could reach her she blew up. The effect of the explosion was tremendous. It is supposed the crew of the steamer was rescued by a bark, which was seen alongside when she was first discovered by the Weybosset.

General Spinner, Treasurer of the United States, received a letter the other day from the cashier of a National Bank of the South, stating that the bank had on deposit about a quarter of a million of dollars belonging to the Government, and offering that, if the money would be left, the people would rebuild their town and plant crops, and that a considerable amount could be loaned out. His reply was a draft for the amount due.

THE CITY.

Persons in city and country are requested, at all times, to furnish us verbal or written information of any events of public interest which may transpire in their neighborhoods, or of which they may have knowledge.

THE ELECTION YESTERDAY.—The election yesterday for governor and a complete list of State officers, passed off without any manifestations of ill-feeling or other excess to which objection could be made. The friends of the different candidates were active and confident, and so the day passed.

FEATS AT THE FIRE.—During the progress of the fire last Thursday night, we noticed many acts of disinterested labor and some feats of daring. It is admitted on all hands that Maj. Basil Manly, of this city, deserves much praise for his active personal efforts. Had his suggestions been carried into execution at the moment of their occurrence, no one can doubt but that some of the buildings would have been saved.

Private L. P. Higgins, Co. H, 120th Indiana volunteers, deserves special mention. Mrs. Harrison had succeeded in removing everything except jewelry and clothing. Two persons standing near entered the burning house, but were driven back by the intensity of the heat around and above them. At this juncture the young soldier mentioned came up, ascertained the condition of affairs, rushed into the house, secured the valuables, and emerged just as the roof and flooring fell in. His hat was scorched to a crisp and one moment later he would have been buried in the ruins.

Mr. John Blair, employed in Johnson's restaurant, seeing the danger to the market house, is reported to us as having ascended the steeple of that edifice at imminent peril to himself and constantly deluged it with water. It is said that except for his endeavors, connected with those of Mr. Henry Hardy, the market house would have taken fire, as the heat was almost insufferable and the ascent difficult.

Doubtless other persons rendered efficient aid, but these marked cases have been brought to our attention and we give them the credit due such behaviour.

BOOTS AND OVERCOAT.—In yesterday's issue Lt. Castleman advertised for a pair of boots and overcoat, under the impression that they had been appropriated. He had evidently become oblivious of the fact that the articles mentioned had been entrusted to one of our most respectable and high-minded citizens, who deposited them in the office of Capt. A. M. Garoutte. Lieut. C. certainly failed to remember the circumstance from the fact that he was excited about the conflagration and went to work in a hurry to help subdue it.

Mr. Randall, of the Exchange Hotel, in a note to us on the subject, says:

"I deem it but justice to say that Lieut. Castleman would not have caused to be published the advertisement had he known the high character of the gentleman to whom he entrusted the articles. I hope the party interested will receive the apology which I make on Lieut. Castleman's behalf, who is absent from the city."

L. G. RANDALL.

W. & W. RAILROAD.—The thirteenth annual meeting of the stockholders of the Wilmington and Weldon railroad will be held in the former place on the 22nd inst.

MAIL AGENTS.—The restoration of mail service in the South is now going forward with commendable rapidity. We observe that E. O. Macy and Jesse L. Garrett, of this city, have received appointments as route agents, the first on the Raleigh and Gaston, and the last on the North Carolina railroad. Besides, J. G. Long has been placed on the Western North Carolina, and E. Lyles, of Charlotte, and Wm. Jones, of Washington, D. C., on the Charlotte and Columbia roads.

It is now promised that mail matter shall reach Raleigh from Washington in twenty-three hours and a half. We sincerely trust the expectation thus created may not be disappointed.

PRACTICAL LESSONS.—Public events, actual occurrences, are strong teachers. We hope the recent fire will be proof enough of the good policy of organizing here a fire department. This paper has time and again urged such a course and now we have had the idea enforced in most melancholy colours. Not a day of unnecessary delay should take place in the procurement of hose and other apparatus. This done, the commissioners should encourage the formation of hook and ladder as well as hose companies. Then, with an efficient police, we ought to live in peace and safety.

THE LATE RAINS.—We are informed—did considerable damage to many bridges over creeks in the surrounding country. The fall of water was so great that the trains on several of the railroads leading to the city were obstructed at many points and in other instances altogether stopped by the washing away of bridges. We are glad to know travel northward by way of Petersburg has been resumed. The route by way of Goldsboro is also in trim.

INSURANCE.—All at once business men and property holders have become impressed with the value of insurance and we heard, yesterday, of no less than six persons who had covered all their earthly possessions with such protection. We commend to others who wish to effect insurance the companies of which John G. Williams is the agent in our city. They are safe and reliable, having a clear capital of $2,000,000.

ANOTHER BANK.—We learn that Geo. W. Swepson, Esq., has obtained a charter and will establish a national bank at Salisbury soon. If little Salisbury can afford one such institution, big Raleigh ought to have two or three. We can't permit the small fry keep in line with the capital city.

THE FEELING IN ALABAMA.—The Huntsville Advocate of the 26th October says:

Marshall county has taken the right position openly before the world. She has set an example that all the counties in the State should at once follow.—Her people—such men as Harris, Beard, Sheffield, Wiggs, Critcher, Barclay, Fariss—once secessionists, Union men, civilians and tried soldiers—say "the Flag of the Union is our flag, and we pledge ourselves to protect the same, when and wherever assailed." The people of Marshall will be true to their public pledge. Again they say, "we accept the extinction of slavery as an accomplished fact, and that we will co-operate with all good men, everywhere, to make the new relation of the white and black races as pleasant and profitable as possible." This ought to be the resolve of every good citizen, and will lead to good results. The whole duty of all is embraced in the declaration, "that it is our duty to obey in good faith the laws of the land. State and National, and co-operate with every effort made to restore peace, law and order." Obey the laws, support the Government in enforcing them and "peace, law and order" will at once reign over the land.—One law requires a certain oath from all U. S. office holders, Congressmen included—let us obey that law by electing men who can honestly take it, thus get admitted and aid our people. All honor to the honest and patriotic people of Marshall for the noble stand taken! May the example be followed by Madison and all other counties!

—Governor Perry, in his recent message to the Legislature of South Carolina, maintains that there is no power in Congress to exclude the South Carolina representatives from their seats. He contends that the test oath is unconstitutional.

—Oliver Markham, in Hartford, heard a noise in his cellar, on Monday night—took his hickory, and went down—found a chap eating can-strawberries, and dragged him up stairs—sent word to the police, put strawberry eater in their hands and went to bed. Strawberry man in jail.

"Jist the way," quoth our Pompey, "him wife get all he money!"

TREATMENT OF FREEDMEN.—We are glad to see that the prejudices against the blacks are rapidly giving way, even in the far off cotton and gulf States, and that everywhere there is being evinced a disposition to treat them with justice and kindness. Speaking of their treatment in Louisiana, a New Orleans paper says:

"No class of the people have their civil rights better protected by the laws of Louisiana than the free colored people. Even before emancipation, a free colored person had all the civil rights of a white man. In the courts of justice there was no distinction between him and the white man. In all civil matters he could sue and be sued, give testimony for or against a white man, make contracts, exercise his trade or profession, make wills or receive legacies.—Under this law some eight or ten thousand colored people have lived in this city ever since it was established, and have had full protection of all their rights, have been prosperous, happy and respected; many of them have grown rich, and have proved valuable and productive members of society. Now, by the act of emancipation, the whole negro population is placed on a level with this thriving class of their own race; indeed, on a higher basis, as all distinctions before the law, and in regard to all personal rights between them and the rest of the people, have been abolished by the existing Constitution and laws of Louisiana."

A PARALLEL.—There is apparently the same will about Andrew Johnson that characterized Andrew Jackson. Both of them have made themselves conspicuous for their national sentiment. Both were born in North Carolina. Both removed to Tennessee. The one distinguished himself by his hostility to nullification, the other by his hostility to secession. Neither has a middle name, and their Christian name "Andrew," being the same, their surnames are also substantially the same—one being Johnson, and the other Jackson—and John and Jack amount to the same thing. As Mr. Peter Magnus would say, there is, to say the least, a remarkable coincidence.—Charlotteville Virginian.

—The Chronicle of Friday says that Mr. Fred. Seward, for the first time since he felt the assassin's dagger, a period of nearly six months, was able yesterday to affix his signature to dispatches. He has not made his appearance at the State Department as yet, but transacts official business at his residence.

—The Free Will Baptist General Conference of Maine has passed a resolution prohibiting the ordination of ministers who use tobacco.
