VOL. VI. RALEIGH, MONDAY, NOV. 13, 1865.

Dina, the Radical correspondent of the Chicago Republican, writes from Washington :

The city looks as if Mr. Lincoln never existed, and as if we were still in the time of Pierce and Buchanan. Free State influence has again been suddenly wiped out. Slavery politicians are once more in the ascendant. It is no use arguing at Washington about millions slain and millions wasted in the war, and about other trifles of the kind. True enough, the armies of the slaveholders' rebellion have been vanquished ; but the feeling that culminated in the war is as rampant and pernicious as ever. Any one who doubts this need only spend a few weeks at Willard's, and this conviction will soon force itself upon the mind. The Southerners are as smart as ever, and avail themselves as skillfully of the siesta of the Free States. While the masses of the people are lulled into security by the apparent restoration of peace, their old enemies kindle the flames of fresh convulsions. They do this with their wonted ingenuity. They get pardoned first, co-operate with the Democrats next, and look upon Andrew Johnson as exclusively their President, just as much as ever Pierce or Buchanan was. It is the old story of these copperhead Presidents all over again, with that fatal difference, that those who were then foremost in their opposition to sham Democracy are now feeble and exhausted.

A confirmed bachelor uses the following argument against matrimony:

Calico is a great prompter of laziness. If young men wish to accomplish anything of moment, either with head or hand, they must keep clear of the institution entirely. A pair of sweet lips, a pink waist, swelling chest, a pressure of two delicate hands, will do as much to unhinge a man as three fevers, the measels, a large sized whooping cough, a pair of locked jaws, several hydraphobias and the doctor's bills.

-Judge Gray, of Texas, has received from the Executive a pardon.

THE CITY.

Persons in city and country are requested, at all times, to furnish us vebal or written information of any events of public interest which may transpire in their neighborhoods, or of which they may have knowledge.

HIGH RENTS.—In the interest of the entire community, both of those who have property and renters, we have urged that the demands of the property-holders were extertionate and that they would consult their true interests by retracing their steps. The Standard now takes up the subject, saying "it is very certain that the rents in this city and other places in the State are not only exorbitantly high, but are having a tendency to drive capital and bu. siness away from us."

This is truth in a nut-shell, though we know of at least one honorable exception in this community. The gentleman to whom we refer has declined to advance his rents one cent beyond the increased taxation as compared with the rates of 1861. This is not only highly creditable, but is an exhibition of true business sense. It shows, too, an appreciation of and sympathy with the embarrassments of the present moment. The people are not in condition to meet ordinary expenses, much less to be subjected to extraordinary pressure upon their finances. Come down, gentlemen, come down from your ungenerous and ruinous rates. In the end such a course will enure to your benefit pecuniarily and otherwise.

STOLEN .- Horse flesh seems to be favorite game for midnight prowlers. Last Friday night, some rascals unknown broke open the stables of W. H. High, at Spring Hill, about two miles from the city, and took therefrom two horses. Of course the thieves escaped and the animals have not been recovered. It is rather singular that the people of Wake are not up with their fellow-citizens of other counties in the matter of local organization. We believe there are but few counties in the State without an independent police and the consequence is few depredations have to be noticed. It is an easy work if properly managed and our county friends should move in the matter at once. Let the citizens of each neighborhood so combine as to have a posse on every night.

A HINT ON CABPETS .- Of all the expensive things in a modern house of the ordinary class, perhaps carpets are the dearest. In case of removal they become almost useless, and have to be sacrificed at any price that can be got for them, because, having been cut and measured for one room perhaps of a peculiar shape, they are useless in any other ; for it the pattern could be matched, which it often cannot, a bit of new carpet sewed on to a bit of old won'd be ont of barmony, and tell a story which the prid- of p verty would rather were concealed. The P. rsian and Turkish system of carpeting rooms is infinitely better and prettier than ours. The Persian Carpets, especially those from Resht, are exquisitely beautiful. Their colors are brighter, the d signe , rettier, and they are far more durable than Europent carities. They are made in strips usually between two and three yards long, and about one yard in breadth, to go round the sides of a room, with a square carpet, or any size preferred, for the centre. They do not require to be nailed or fitted, and a sufficient number of them will, of course, carpet any room, however large or small. They have a very rich and grand appearance too. In summer they are easily taken up, beaten, rolled, and put aside by a single servant.

Reed, formerly a member of the United States Congress. NEW COUNTERFEITS. — We learn that counterfeit $10 greenbacks are in circulation, which appear to be photographed in part, but are hardly well enough done to deceive a person accustomed to handling money. The paper is not good, the engraving indistinct, and the green ink is of an entirely different shade from that of the genuine.

It is said, too, that the fifty dollar counterfeit greenback, heretofore described, is such a successful piece of workmanship that about a dozen copies of it have been paid over the counter at the treasury department in Washington. Treasurer Spinner acknowledges himself puzzled to distinguish good from bad in this case.

BUSINESS NOTICE.—Having to pay cash for everything in the management of our business, we must do a cash business or none at all. Many of our city subscribers are in arrears and we have sent our bills until we are tired of it. NEW YORK PLANO FORTES.—We call the attention of our readers to the advertisement of Mr. Ernest Gabler, in another column. His establishment is one of the largest of the kind in this country, and with his new factory now comple ed and in full operation, he is enabled to furnish dealers and others promptly, as ordered, with any number of his very elegant and justly popular instruments.

THE Rev. Dr. Lathrop, of New York, occupied the pulpit of the Baptist church last night and delivered a forcible sermon. In the afternoon, Rev. Mr. Backus, from the same State, addressed the colored people of the sabbath school connected with the church. He gave them much good advice and applauded the enterprise.

METHODIST CENTENNIAL .- The Methodists are inaugurating measures for the celebration of the centennial anniversary of American Methodism, which occurs in the early part of the coming year, although the American Methodist Episcopal Church, as a separate and distinct organization did not exist until Christmas Day, 1784, when at a conference, called for the purpose, at Baltimore, the preachers assumed the title of a church. On the occasion of the celebration of this anniversary, in accordance with the resolutions of the Bishops, an effort will be made to have the occasion marked by a reunion of the different fragments of American Methodism, and more especially by the return of the Wesleyan connection. which seceded from the parent church in 1843, from three causes, viz : slavery, church government, and the sales and use of intoxicating liquors. The matter of education will also be a prominent subject of interest on the occasion. We are not aware that the exact day for the celebration has yet been determined.
