WASHINGTON, Nov. 12 .- The correspondent of the Baltimore Sun says:

No retirement or repose was allowed the Presiident vesterdny: the number who called, both officials and others, was unusually large, embracing many females seeking to secure Executive pardon for officials. Not being able to give separate audiences, the doors were opened at one and a half o'clock for all to enter. General Sickles, Kilpatrick, Senator Wilson, and General Longstreet were granted audiences with the President. The number of pardons now reaching the department is very large, and the more pressing engagements of the President consequent upon the early meeting of Congress has compelled him to let them remain in abeyance for the time being, except in some in-

THE DAILY PROGRESS.

VOL. VI. RALEIGH, WEDNESDAY, NOV. 15, 1865. NO. 311.

State Items. The Charlotte Democrat says:

"Considering that probably no section of the State was more strongly opposed to Gov. Holden heretcfore than this section, we think his present vote in Mecklenburg and surrounding counties a good one. Last year Mecklenburg gave Holden only 112 votes and Vance 1690-now Holden gets 353 and Worth 534. Last year Holden did not carry a county in this section-now he carries Cabarrus, Gaston and (it is reported) Union, and loses Liccoln by only 14 votes. We have no reliable news as to the vote for Governor in Union-only rumor.

It would appear that the negroes in Charlotte are greatly in want of work. A load of wood was thrown out in front of the Democrat office the other day, and in the course of a few hours there were ten ap plications from able-bodied freedmen to cut it up. These negroes have left good homes in the country where they had plenty to eat, and are lying about town in idleness, only occasionally getting a little job of work. The farmers need laborers-many have had to discontinue farming for the want of labor-while hundreds and thousands of able-bodied negro men are lounging about the towns and cities. The Legislature must take some action which will compel negroes who do not properly belong to town and have no homes in it, to leave and go to the country

We mentioned last week the fact of a citizen of Rowan county having been found hanging to a tree near Salisbury. The facts of the case are that on Monday morning Mr. Thos. Hyde proceeded to his barn apparently in good health and spirits. On arriving there he took a log chain, fastened it to a beam, tied the other end around his neck and leaped from the window of the barn. He had a fall of seven feet, and when discovered he was dead. The reason of this suicide seems to be clearly traced to religious excitement.

We are pained to learn from the Wilmington papers of the occurrence of a most distressing accident, which occurred at Argyle, Roteson county, a day or two ago, by which a little girl, named Lizzie McRae, youngest child of A. McRae, Jr., Esq., of this place got burned to death.

We know no more of the particulars than that a little negro girl was burning some straw in the yard, and that little Lizzie's clothes caught fire, occasioning her death, or such injuries as caused her death before assistance could be rendered.

Jasper Packard, 128th Indiana Vol., has been assigned to, and taken command of the District of Western North Carolina, with head quarters at Salisbury He is assisted in the performance of his duties by gentlemen. Capt. Proviance acting as A. A. & I. G. & District Provost Marshal, and Lieut. Paul, Adjutant Post.

A letter in the Wilmington Dispatch, dated Fayetteville, speaks of the late session of the Presbyterian Synod in that town as follows:

"The Synod of the Presbyterian church in North Carolina convened in this place on last Wednesday evening. Owing to the unsettled state of affairs there was not as large an attendance as usual, but most of the prominent and distinguished ministers of this denomination were present. The opening sermon was preached by the Rev. Joseph M. Atkinson of Raleigh, who fully sustained his high reputation as a pulpit

Rev. Colin Shaw was chosen Moderator. On Friday and Saturday a spirited and impotrtant discussion took place upon the subject of the state of church. Incidentally the religious condition of the freedmen was considered and resolutions adopted requring unintermitted labor on the part of the church in their behalf. Their religious condition was reported not satisfactory at present, but hopes were expressed that upon the subsidence of the excitement consequent upon the great change in their position and the continued efforts of Christians in their behalf much good

The subject of re-union with the Northern branch of the church was largely discussed and with great ability by all the leading members of the Synod. It was finally determined to make no overtures in the matter, and as the Northern church had rendered reunion impossible by declaring the Southern church out of fellowship until it acknowledged the sin of slavery, to await the rescision of this action on their part. The discussion was conducted with great kindness and in a Christian spirit, but there cou'd be no question of the opinion of the Synod on the point of reunion, the division having taken place primarily upon the action of the Northern church upon the sin of slavery. The question under discussion was whether it was proper for the Southern church to make advances in favor of reunion. No action being taken the matter remains in statu quo, awaiting the action of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church of the South."

-The Wheeling Intelligencer says political conspiracles are on foot to compass a re-union of Virginia and West Virginia.

THE CITY.

Persons in city and country are requested, at al times, to furnish us verbal or written information of any events of public interest which may transpire in their neighborhoods, or of which they may have knowledge.

BROWNLEY, BURTON & Co., of Petersburg, who are conducting a wholesale grocery and commission business, appear in our columns this morning by advertisement. It is an old firm and no doubt those who transact business with them will find their supplies to be of the first quality.

We may say to our cotemporaries of the Express and Index that the commercial men of the "Cockade" are held in high estimate in this section. Our State has heretofore transacted an immense amount of business in Petersburg, but most of the old established houses appear to have been wiped out during the war or so maimed as not to be known in the field of present enterprise. Scott, Harrison & Co., princely gentlemen as well as merchants, Davis & Co., McIlwaine, Paul, Donnans Johnston, Pannill, Kull & Sons, and a host of others, once in the front rank and holding extensive connections here, do not appear to have been reconstructed. If the old and reliables are gone the way of all flesh, we fear it will be long before Petersburg will see their like again.

AT THE DEPOT of the North Carolina railroad the bustle and stir observable a month since have been greatly lessened. During the military reign there, activity could be seen at every turn of the eye, but now things present a more subdued aspect. There are, however, still sighs of vitality. The building formerly used as an engine house has been appropriated by the company for use as offices and depot, and answers those purposes very well. Improvements are going forward also in the matter of platforms and the like. Cotton, rosin and other products are daily coming down on the trains, and we are glad to see such evidences of the good time which is to come. The truth is, a wise public policy is all we want in order to rebuild private interests. Without it we can accomplish nothing-with it, only a few years will be requisite to give us unexampled prosperity.

Sons of Temperance. - We transfer to our columns for the benefit of all whom it may concern, the following:

LINCOLNTON, Nov. 1, 1865. The Grand Division of North Carolina Sons of Temperance, will meet at Jacob's Fork Division, Catawba county, on the 6th of December next, at 1 o'clock, p. m. All P. W. P.'s in good standing, whether their divisions are in operation or not, are earnestly requested to attend.

R. N. DAVIS, G. Scribe. This excellent order is said to be in a very dilapidated condition, the membership of the grand as well as subordinate formations having been much weakened by the work of the past four years. We understand Raleigh will be worthily represented in this first convocation of the order since the restoration of peace.

Business Notice.—Having to pay cash for everything in the management of our business, we must do a cash business or none at all. Many of our city subscribers are in arrears and we have sent our bills until we are tired of it. We now give fair notice that the paper will be stopped in all cases where the subscription is not paid when presented. Persons at a distance, if of the class mentioned, must remit money to pay the subscription or their paper will be discontinued.

All persons indebted to the Progress office or the proprietor, by note or open account, are requested to settle the same at once.

THE STREETS. -Through the agency of either the military or civil authorities, some of our streets have been much improved within a short time. It is particularly observable on west Davie street, beginning at Fayetteville and continuing to the North Carolina depot. The deep cuts which were seen along that thoroughfare during the summer have been filled up, much to the relief of pedestrians as well as the operators of vehicles. We trust the work of improvement in the respect mentioned will be continued until all our thoroughfares have been put in equally good condition.

TOBACCO. - It may be of interest to the holders of "the weed" in this vicinity to know that a letter from the commissioner of internal revenue, addressed to H. H. Helper, the assessor for this district, says :- "All manufactured tobacco in your district should be inspected and branded prior to sale and consumption, and you should direct all such to be seized when found under conditions violating instructions."

WHAT'S THE MATTER ?-On inquiry at fountain head we were informed that the bridges on the line of railroad from this city had all been repaired so far as not to obstruct the transportation of passengers or freight. This being true, what produces such great confusion in the receipt of the mails? We seldom see Newbern or Wilmington papers until they are several days old. There is a screw loose somewhere.

AN IMPORTANT offering of government possessions will be made on the 28th inst., as may be seen by consulting the notice of the medical purveyor, Dr. D. G. Rush.

A CANDIDATE.-Mr. John H. Boner is announced to-day as a candidate for the position of engrossing clerk of the Senate. He has capacities of a fine or-

A NEW NOVEL -Messrs. W. B. Smith & Co., of the Southern Field and Fireside Publishing House, in this city, yesterday sent us a copy of Mrs. Fanny Murdaugh Downing's new novel, "Nameless," just issued from their press. Of course we have had only opportunity to read a part of it connectedly, but even in such a review enough of the style of this new candidate in the literary world is discernible to fix her as a woman of rare genius. We shall not detract from the pleasure of Mrs. Downing's Carolina readers by revealing the plot of this story-they must be left to enjoy in full the peculiar pleasure which we have realized, increased in proportion as we have advanced towards more perfect comprehension of the complete work. It is to be confessed that her imaginative faculties, though surprisingly ripe and refined in use, are well balanced by a clear conception that one of the special trusts of such labor is the developement, not repression of nobility, goodness, truth, and virtue. It is not an objectless book-head and no heart-a magazine of licentiousness-but a sweet story, full of pathos as instruction, and replete with both quali-

Comparisons often afford no illustration, but we are entirely satisfied that the present effort of Mrs. Downing will give her a claim to favoritism with the public exceeding that reached by Mrs. M. E. Braddon and writers of her school. Without their overstrained pictures and excessive, not to write ridiculous ornamentalism, the new light has contrived to irradiate her pages with a deep, profound

We hope for the interest of Southern literature, the intrinsic merit of the volume, the enterprise and taste of the publishers, and the entertainment of the reading world, that "Nameless" may run through several editions. The typography and binding are handsome, and do credit to Southern skill. Get a copy and read it.

A CHANCE to obtain many articles of household necessity and ornament will be afforded by the sale of property of the late Wm. J. Lougee, which is advertised to come off next Monday. The effects to be disposed of are generally as good as new.

CARDS, Circulars, Handbills, Programs, &c., printed at the Progress Job Office cheaper, by twentyfive per cent, than elsewhere. If those who have printing to do will give us a call, we will satisfy them of the fact.
