

POETICAL.

[From a London Paper.]

Mr. T. Moore has published a series of Sacred Songs, Duets and Trios, which like all his other poetical effusions, are rich and harmonious in versification.

He health the broken heart, and kindeth up their wounds.

Oh! thou who dry'st the mourner's tear, How dark this world would be, If when deceived and wounded here, We could not flow to thee.

THE LIGHT OF TRUTH.

Let there be light, the first command That burst from Heaven's exalted throne; Jehovah gave the stern decree, And forth immediate radiance shone.

From the various methods now used in measuring work, and the different prices charged for the same kind of work by different men, whereby disagreement and strife is engendered, and many lawsuits occasioned between the undertaker and the employer.—It seems absolutely necessary that some step should be taken to prevent these great and growing evils as far as possible; and to shield on the one hand the employer from exorbitant exactions, and on the other, to prevent him, by means of such pretences, from withholding from the undertaker for a series of time his final and honest earnings.

Old Star Accounts.

THE agents and collectors of the partnership accounts of Jones and Henderson, for the Star, &c. who have not made returns by the sheriffs are earnestly requested not to fail doing so by the members of the next General Assembly. The age of the accounts renders it extremely desirable that they should be closed. Some have been sent by mail to persons from whom I have not since heard. The difficulty of settling such where agents may happen to die, renders it proper that I should repeat the request that proper receipts be forwarded, unless it is convenient to send something that will be most agreeable.

Mark Buttain, esq. sheriff of Burke, has collected I believe every cent that was due in that county. Lewis Bryan, esq. has done nearly as well in Lenoir. To them and several other such friends sincere thanks are tendered. The two agents who have enquired how they shall substantiate accounts which have (one in each case) been denied, are referred to the testimony of the Post Masters. In general I am much pleased with the honesty of our subscribers, if I cannot always compliment them for their punctuality. The Lincoln accounts are placed with Wm. Webb, Esq.
