FIFTY DOLLARS REWARD.

RUNAWAY, about 3 years ago, from Mrs. Lowrie consult of Judge Lowrie, white, a visit to her friends in Herby, a negro girl named Delilah, of a black complexion, smooth skin, white handsome teeth, pleasant countenance, of tolerably large stature and about 22 or 23 years of age.
She was bought 4 years ago, by Judge Lowrie from a man of the name of Hill who said she was brought from Maryland, where she possibly have gone.—But as she absconded with a negro, formerly waiting-man to a Mr. Antigny (who, I understand has since been taken) the probability is that she may still be harboured near Halifax or in Bertie.—As, by the bequest of her late Master, the right and title to said negro has fallen to me, I will give the above reward to any person who will deliver her to me in Charlotte, Mecklenburg county, N. C.—or Thirty Dollars to any person who will secure her so that I get her—and she shall be forgiven.

FROM 200 to 400 LOTS,

IN THE
TOWNS OF ALBERTOON,
Will be sold to the highest bidder, on a credit of six months, on the 1st day of September next.

LOTS of the Ground will be exhibited on that day; but can be seen before, on application to the Subscriber. This town is situated in Halifax county, North Carolina, immediately at the foot of the lowest falls on Roanoke River; and on its south bank, it spreads over a plain well calculated for the object, and one that delights the eye with the beauties of nature, while it exhilarates the soul with the prospect of plenty. It is well watered, and has proven as healthful as any neighboring situation on the river; it has also good banks for a landing, and a very public ferry immediately at it, which gives it easy access from the opposite side.
A Canal is now cutting on the same side, round the falls, which is intended to open a communication between the small and the large craft. Navigation boats, carrying from forty to sixty hogsheads of Tobacco, are constantly employed in freighting Tobacco, Flour, &c. &c. which come down the river, from the falls to Norfolk, a distance of about two hundred and forty miles by water.
The Roanoke, when she resumes her long lost outquestionable right, will, in a commercial point of view, rank with any of our sister Atlantic streams, south of the Potomac, and east of the Mississippi. The extensive and fertile back country, which borders on Roanoke, and its many branches, most of which can be made navigable, will give importance to some place on her banks, that will have no cause to repine at the prosperity of Richmond. The rapid progress making in the navigation, and the vast quantity of produce which has been brought down; some of which descended the river from 200 miles above the falls, notwithstanding its improved state, give evidence of its future importance, too plain to be mistaken. In the course of eighteen months fifty or more Bateauz, such as are in James River above Richmond, have commenced running and have brought down to the head of the falls, which is about eight miles above the foot, 2000 or more hogsheads of Tobacco, besides a vast quantity of other produce, notwithstanding the difficulties of a land carriage around the falls, which will be obviated when the Canal is completed. I hope gentlemen will view the premises and take into consideration the many advantages which shew to ocular demonstration, regardless of the many opinions which may be expressed on that subject.

died, seized and possessed.

IT appearing to the satisfaction of the Court, that some of the defendants in this case, viz. Michael Robinson, John Dickey and Sally his wife are not inhabitants of this State; it is therefore ordered that publication be made for five weeks successively in the Raleigh Star,

ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS REWARD.

RUNAWAY from the Subscriber on the 17th instant—2 negro men, GILES and CESAR.
GILES is about thirty one or two years of age, about five feet ten or eleven inches high, a little yellow complexion, has lost one or more of his upper foreteeth though seldom shows any of his teeth, has very little beard, he has had part of his right great toe split off with an axe which makes the end sharper than the end of his other great toe, he has a down look when spoken to and I expect wears the marks of a severe whipping which he received in January last.
CESAR is about twenty one or thirty years of age, about the same height of Giles, large and well made, very black, no other particular marks to describe. Giles is an artful and cunning fellow has by his ingenuity learned to read and write a tolerable good hand and from the best information I can get he intends to write himself a free pass and try to get off and pass for a freeman. I think it very probable that he will write Cesar one & they will go off together, if they should make that attempt and are taken up and secured in any Jail so that I get them again or delivered to me in Lenoir county, N. C. I will give the above reward, if they do not attempt to get off and are taken in the county or any of the adjacent counties, I will give for them both fifty dollars or 25 for either of them provided they are secured so as I get them again. Giles and Cesar are legally outlawed, and all honest citizens are hereby solicited to be on their watch, & if they come in their way to take them dead or alive.

FOREIGN.

GERMANY. AND GERMAN WORKS.

The progress of the principles of free government among the people, and the acknowledgment of those principles by the sovereigns of Germany, are among the most interesting events of the present day. The extracts which we this day present from German papers, are good evidence on this subject. The present situation and political prospects of the German people cannot but deeply engage the attention of mankind. We know too little of them; and we are anxious not only to know more ourselves, but to communicate more to our readers. To this end we respectfully, yet earnestly request, our friends to furnish us with translations from German periodical publications, or to do us the favour to loan us any German newspapers or other German works, translations from which will be interesting to the public. [Dem. Press.

Extract from a file of the Hamburg Correspondent.

Frankfort on the Maine, January 20, 1818.

Austria delivered yesterday to the Congress its opinion respecting the military establishment of "the United German States." According to this statement Austria calculates the direct German population, forming the immediate states, as equal to 28,980,000 inhabitants; and proposes that in time of peace the United army shall consist of 120,000 men; which would be at the rate of 4-10 per hundred inhabitants.
In time of war Austria proposes 2 per 100, forming an army of 579,600 men. Besides which there shall be a corps de reserve of 1 per 100; which would add 289,800. The whole army would then amount to 869,400.

The following are the fortresses belonging to the German States: Mayence, Luxembourg, and Landau, of the first class—a fourth of the 1st class is to be built in the south of Germany.

The erection of several other fortifications is under consideration, to be fortified as places of the second order.

The following is the Austrian proposal Peace Establishment, 120,000 men—90,000 infantry—48,000 cavalry—8,000 artillery.

To every 1,000 men, 5 pieces of cannon: the general in chief, in case of war, shall be elected by a majority of votes of the members of the German Congress: in peace there is to be no general in chief. The general in chief is answerable to the Congress only.

There are at the University of Berlin, at present, 942 students.

The laws in Prussia, Bavaria, Wurtemberg, Hanover, Saxony, &c. are now, as in France, enacted by representatives chosen by the people.

It will be recollected that the duke of Wellington had suit brought against a printer at Brussels for a libel against him; the printer was acquitted, the Duke appealed, and the cause was bandied about from tribunal to tribunal until we lost sight of it. It appears, however, to have excited much sensibility at the court of the Netherlands. It would seem, from a sketch of a debate which we publish to-day, that the king of the Netherlands sent a message to the States General expressing a wish that a law should be passed making it punishable in any printer to animadvert on the conduct of any of the ministers of any of the allied sovereigns. This law was resisted, and its passage negatived in the Lower House. From the sketches of two speeches found in the Hamburg Correspondent it will be seen that the members of the States' General exercise an honorable freedom of speech in the defence of the liberty of the press.—Press.

Extract of a letter, dated at the Hague, March 2.

You will have learnt, ere this reaches you, that the plan of ministers to restrain the liberty of the press, has failed in the lower house.
The debates in the house of deputies on the question have been very serious.

Mr. Clifford declared, that he, for one should feel happy to see the authors of malicious insults against foreign powers punished, but do not, said he, see that there exists any necessity for a new and separate law for this purpose.
