Robbery.

THE window of the chamber in which the subscriber slept, in Oxford, N. C. on the night of the 24th November, was entered by some villain, who robbed him of his pocket book, containing about 150 dollars, in notes on the different banks of this state, two several notes given or assigned to me and of $1,500, and a bundle of notes and judgments. The papers of the bundle, were all the property of John Nuttall, Scott & Co. and amount in value to about $8 or $10,000. A large silver watch, with a second hand steel chain and a small fine gold seal.

The aid of every honest man is solicited to effect the recovery of the property and the detection of the thief.

A liberal reward will be given for the restoration of the property and the apprehension and conviction of the robber.

JAMES NUTTALL.
