Congressional Proceedings.

IN SENATE.

MONDAY, April 24.

The following resolutions, submitted by Mr. Murrell on the 21st inst. were taken up for consideration.

Resolved, That the practice of Duelling is inhuman, unchristian, and censurable.

Resolved, That the President of the United States would be justifiable in striking from the rolls of the army and navy the names of all persons thereof who have been, or hereafter may be, directly or indirectly engaged in a duel, or who may have been, or hereafter may be, in any way or manner accessory thereto.

The resolution having been read, Mr. Morrill proceeded, in a speech of considerable length, to support the principles which were laid down in the resolutions. When he had concluded,

Mr. Williams, of Tennessee, moved to lay the resolutions on the table, believing, in regard to the first resolution, that it was a waste of time to be arguing abstract propositions; that in regard to the second the President already had the power vested in him by law to do what was proposed; and that if he had neglected to execute the law, and it was intended to take any step in relation to it, he ought to be approached in a dilatory way, &c.

The motion prevailed, without a division, & the resolutions were ordered to lie on the table accordingly.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

Mr. Smith, of Maryland, presented a petition of sundry inhabitants of the city of Baltimore, praying that measures may be adapted to prevent citizens of the United States from engaging in the business of privateering under the flags of the governments in South America, and that certain ports in the United States be designated in which only cruisers of those governments may be permitted to enter, and that those lying on the waters of the Chesapeake Bay may be among those which may be prohibited; which petition was referred to the committee on Foreign Affairs.

On motion of Mr. Lowndes, it was

Resolved, That the Letter from the Secretary of the Navy of the 9th of April, 1820, with the documents which accompanied it, be referred to the committee on Naval Affairs; and that they be instructed to enquire into the expediency of providing by law that no commander or other officer in the Naval Service of the U. States shall receive on board his vessel any gold, silver, or jewels, without orders from the President of the United States or the Navy Department; and that no officer, without such orders, shall transport as a passenger any person in the naval or military service of a foreign government engaged in war; and the committee on Naval Affairs are instructed to enquire into the expediency of determining by law whether any compensation or freight shall be, in any case, permitted for articles transported in vessels of the United States.

TARIFF OF DUTIES, &c.

The House again resolved itself into a committee of the whole, Mr. Taylor in the chair, on the bill to regulate the Duties on imports.

A motion to strike out the first section of the bill (to reject it,) being under consideration—Mr. Tyler delivered a speech of about an hour length in support of this motion.

Mr. Storrs delivered a speech of about the same length, in reply.

After whom, Mr. Gross, of N. Y. spoke at some length, on the same side of the question.

The question was then taken on striking out the first section of the bill, and decided in the negative 73 votes to 49.

The committee of the whole then took up the other bill referred to it, by the title of "A bill regulating the payment of duties on merchandise imported, and for other purposes."

[This bill provides that, from and after a certain date, the duties laid on all goods, wares & merchandise, imported into the United States, except dyes, drugs, and materials for composing dyes, gum arabic, gum senegal, and all other articles used solely for medicinal purposes, cassia, cinnamon, cloves, chocolate, cocoa, coffee, indigo, mace, molasses, nutmegs, pepper, pimento, salt, ocher, sugar, tea, shall be paid before a permit shall be granted for landing the same, unless entered for exportation or deposited in public store houses. On the excepted articles, duties not exceeding 100 dollars in amount, to be paid in cash; and, if exceeding that sum, shall be allowed a credit on one half for three months, and on the other half for six months—except tea, the duties on which are to be payable, in equal payments, at three, six and nine months.]

Mr. Baldwin explained at some length, the general views which had induced the committee on manufactures to report this bill, & spoke in detail of the various provisions contained in it.

Mr. Silsbee assigned at considerable length, the reasons why he was opposed to the passage of the bill.

Mr. Lowndes also assigned the reasons why he also was opposed to the bill, and particularly to the provisions which contemplate restrictions on the East India trade.
