

Public Entertainment:

Valuable Property for sale

 Twe LOOK.
Twenty Dollars Reward,

 Now

strajed,

 Stop the Run-away
 Sin E.
 come $\qquad$

Raven Cents Reward.

 Roment,

State of North-Carolina

 $t$ t-6mpl. Jont N. AART, G. At.C.E.

0 rumbs Notice.

 BLANKS

8 A Camp Meeting will commence

N

 Mitrant
Iniad awong the papers of Florias, three me. hoive or particesper portions of the hiselory of Thituot or theselekyon the litory rod re eprapg morio interetiog than any of biso inermbere, wanaters; muduato of her geology the Uto which heey belong, than any people it appis fryitoropitiun. There are nobovkit to work ks Fiorituthud projected, ; wootld con tribut much togito reppect thes sale How different was Florian from almost a He was theen read ing ghe mediationsor of he em

 Plurian by what cogrse of study add refleotion he had for mech his wn character? He answered, that until the age of twenty he had been prey to impetuus passions, resigning himself to their influence as the circumstances of life callid them up, when accident tirew in his way this work of $\mathbf{A}$ ntonius. $H e$ was belore weil degainted witit the excellence of his character, that character had been madelled in early youth.
He aspired not to becomie a prince, but to become a good man, and as hee had before cead hooks and conversed with men onl for his anuse:nent, he now resolyed to provfif fromi his reading ani conver ation. "In a fittie time afferwaris." said he "1 met wwith the Laoker-On, and to that bouk I am indeteded more than, to any other, for that philosophy which lias taught me the government of my passions and my teul directiun to my aubition, and unfolded uetw views upon the subject of religion. This is still my favourite book, add I wish that all the young quen of ny country woutd read it; they will never read one of its papers without recoiving tue. Abont the sange time that I met with the Looker-On, I read the Travels of Anacharsis, the mast facinating work on the bistory, literaure and philosophy of the Greeks, that has e ver been written, and better calculated to leage virtuous impressions on the ininds of ingenuous youth, than any historical or biagraphical work That have read. The favorable linpressung wiich had been made upen my toind, up to my twenty fuarth year, ed by reading and stadying the sermons and parables of Crrist, as they are recorded by the e-rangelist,-the works of Dr. Reid and Dr.
Stewart taught me how to think, and the me Stewart taught me how to think, and the memoirs of the duke of Sully inatructed me in the art of fecoming a man of business." Passions are the fires of genius, and Fiorian was one of the few men that I have known who had tearped so to control them as to enjoy their genal influeace and uever be subject to their terrible devastation. Phiosophy had purged errihe devastation. Phlosophy had purged his soul of every low passion, of every grovel. ing feeling. His religion was the religion of pisty, hunihity and good works. He never disputed abont doctrinal points, he seemed to carezoothing aboat theni a and apon oie occeCare pothing aboat theni ; and apon ooée occe dinu, when ? rebuked him for lis iddifiference upon these subjects, he observed that the excellence of the christian religion, and its ef fiescy upon society, were, in a great degree, lost by the contruversies of religious sectos that The efforts of eachresset were empeh toure directed to the propagation of particular doctrine than to the propagativa of the chriatian poirit toat true religion conaista itn doing juat toat true religion conaists "in doing just 1 , lov ing merce, and walking humbly before Gud ing mercy, and walking humbly before Gud; in this seuse it was preached ly Christ; in thi rense it is easily understood by mankind, ab in this sense should it he now preached and its eflicaey illustrated in the lives of thete tho prellod to piscach if.
last letter which Tirerian wrote to Covinas. Vg. tious ofrepmatances had delayed their wnion uptil the decliviog halith of Plorias reidered in mproper that it alioghl take place. He had net oxpected to die so soomy and ho postponed bi Cual adieu to Cariuna ta the quorning of the ician told him that he oodids survive ouly a lew ho to raise him up anau suppport tiam wastil he cooll write to Coriaun- We emplied with hie re. quest, and he wrote the followiog letter, which he directed me to lirward to her as spos as he ${ }_{5}$, should be huried. - My Dor Coridgh huen heath to upon mes the edrwil not surprise yous you fave long foreseen have pointed out to Philo the yourself for it. I selected for my grave. You know the spotive it is the fittic enineni ; in the porth ner of Mr. Marly's grove, where, the last time It saw you, jou conversed with me so tenderly on uny approaching dissolution, and dwelt with When I am dead, prospects of immortality.- or me, Corians ? ? I hot contioueta pray or mee, Corinan ? I I hate not had thy prayers for fleen years, and often feit the tor teen years, and often feit their effitacy. Conim conforted by the thoughe that you death, I en visit my grave, and kneelugg on it put up prayers for my happiness. Such is thy purity, Corinna, that a good God will grant thy supphcations. Oh 1 that in the world beyond the grave, I may retain the conssiousness of having known and loved thee, ny dearest Corinna; that I may be permitted to visit thee in thy dreams may be permitted to visit thee in thy dreams and hold casverge with thy spinit. Aud when hou shatt die, will thou be buried in the same grave where L shall be laid, that we may sleep rogether in death and rise together in the morn oge ther in deathand rise together in the motning of the resurrection. May God bless you nd protect you, He has given to us both a hequered existence upon earth; let us hopo gansion in Heaven.
"I am uáable to write aoy more-my extrenitiep are growing cold and my eges dym. Fare-vell, Corinina, to met, thou bet of womee, and earest of friendy: Thy pQBIAN.? orrespondence is charecterized by fendervess of aftection, refinemant of tasteand parity of sentiment. It will be read with seme sentiment. It will be read with some ioteress by those of your subscribers who know bow to y those of your subscribers who know bow to appreciate the virtues or sympoihics in the sorrows of these unfortunate friends.
PHLLO FLORIAN.

Domestic.

WELL DQNE " OLD HICKORY"

 The en, en the occasion, exclusive of general conderations, made us very solicitous to give this lay, the best history we could procure, of theauch to be lamented transactions of the 224 inst. which we feel assured, were no less painul to the party ordering, than to the party sufering the penalty of the taw The statement gien, is unquestionable.
We have ue wish to remark on the transacWo, conceiving it as of a peculiarly delicate bature, further than, to remind our readers, that a difficulty iof a similar kiod gccurred in Lou siana, on ita beiog taken possession of by the United States, when the former Intendant was inprisoned for a week, by Gey. Claiborne, for not surrendering papers, under sinilar circionnot surrendering papers, under similar cifreumotancas - tod that Gatloez, at this place, impritances - tud that Galvez, at this place, imprisoped Cul. Cambeli, for man teoths, on bare soned Cut. Cambel, for many neophs, on bare ruspicion, of his having in oris posvession, papers of a public hature, and belongiog to the property and sovereignty of the conntry property and sovereignty of the conatry.
STATEMEN $\int$. On information given to the Alcade, that public documationt, given to the Alcade, that viduais to enable them to prosecute their claing, were in the possession of were in the possession of a person of the name to the Governor. (th this, a commission was given in writiog to Col. Waiton, to the Alcade, and to Cuv. Milter, the clerk of the connty and court, authorising beem to wait on Sousa, and request him to exhibit, and deliver fo them and request him to exhibit, and deliver to them vh such public documents as were in his session, relatung to propecty in the Florilas, which no iodividuel had perght to retaip, and io case of his refusal, to report the fact to the Governor, When these geatlemer waited on Suusa, on the motaing of the 21st, he exhibited two opeo boxes, containing papers, which he said belapged to the military department and to the revenue, and which were intrinsted to blim oy the late goveraor for satekeeping. On extogether with tiree other reconds of sults, be(ween ipdividuals, iovolving the title to properin West Blorida. A demand was then made of these papers, but refused by Sousi, on the round that he had no control over them ; but musicate the demand, which was unde-to him witing, to the late Governor.

